SIXTEEN KILLED IN FIRE AT DETROIT CABARET

Forty-four Others Hurt as Crowd Stampedes When Flames Envelop Place

DETROIT (Mich.) Sept. 20. (AP)—Sixteen persons were killed [illegible] forty-four were seriously injured in a fire which destroyed [illegible] Club, a cabaret, early this morning.

The fire started in the basement of the building in which the [illegible] is located. A patrolman saw the flames first and turned in [illegible] alarm at once. Apparently no one in the cabaret knew of the peril after the department arrived and the blaze had gained considerable headway.

Guests in the dining-room stampeded when the room began to fill with smoke. Several persons leaped from windows. The fire spread rapidly and the crowd became crushed in the narrow [illegible].

Of the injured, many of them [illegible] their clothes burned off, were taken to the Receiving Hospital. Internes and physicians and nurses were sent from all other hospitals in the city. Eighteen men and forty-six women checked [illegible] the Receiving Hospital by [illegible].

The cabaret was on the second floor of a building, the first floor of which was occupied by a store. A stairway led up the narrow [illegible] and cut off escape. A woman's dressing room adjoined to the panic-stricken guests to be the [illegible] from the flames was filled with unconscious persons. Others fought their way out of the cabaret. Firemen carried twenty-five victims from this one small room.

Action of Paris Brings Peace

American Productions Again to be Shown in French Cinema Houses

Contingent Plan Suspended; Harold S. Smith Given Credit for Accord

PARIS, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—French and American film interests came to an agreement here today which puts an end to the international war, at least so far as France is concerned, on American producers. The net result of the arrangement is that American films, which had all but disappeared from the French screens, soon will be seen again.

The French exhibitors did not conceal their satisfaction, admitting that they have been losing money since American films left the French market. The break was patched up by Harold S. Smith, representing American motion-pictures, and Charles De Lac, president of the Chambre Syndicate.

The new arrangement is provisional, but is presumed to end the contingent plan. This was the regulation, known as the "four-to-one" plan, which called on Americans to buy one French film for every four American productions sold in France. This arrangement has been suspended by the agreement until the end of October, 1930. The plan originated with the Will Hays agreement of a "seven-to-one" basis a year ago, which in itself was a compromise.

NEW PLAN CONTEMPLATED

Under the new arrangement there will be at least one year and perhaps two in which the French and American film people will work out

BLOW DEALT TO ANEMIA

New Medicine Effective

Three Ann Arbor Scientists Use Dried Hog's Stomach in Treating Disease

Relief, Not Cure, Obtained; Substance Soon Will be Available for All

ANN ARBOR (Mich.) Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—A new treatment for pernicious anemia, which, it is said, will revolutionize this department of medical practice, was announced today by three Ann Arbor discoverers.

Dr. Cyrus C. Sturgis, director of the Thomas Henry Simpson Memorial Institute for Pernicious Anemia; Dr. Raphael Isaacs, assistant director of the institute, and Dr. Elwood A. Sharp, director of the department of experimental medicine for Parke, Davis & Co., made the announcement of the new medicine.

HOG'S STOMACH USED

Instead of concentrated liver, which up to now has been more or less effective in the cure of the disease, the new medicine is derived from dried hog's stomach and is said by its three discoverers to be the most effective remedy yet found. Although experiments have been made at the University of Michigan ever since last spring, the three scientists said that not until today did they feel qualified to announce the discovery.

According to Dr. Sturgis, the work has not yet reached a stage where the extract is available for distribution to medical centers or patients. This, however, is said to be a near future probability.

The treatment, it is made clear, does not constitute a cure but dried stomach extracts must be used so long as relief from the disease is desired. The substance resembles sawdust and is practically tasteless and an ounce each day is necessary to prevent relapse on the part of the patient. This ounce does the work of at least a pound of liver. Dr. Sturgis's experiments are in progress for further refinement of the product.

BLOOD CELLS INCREASE

At first the entire stomach of a hog was dried and ground up and fed to a patient and a prompt increase of red blood cells developed. In each patient treated the total count of red blood cells took a gradual upward sweep.

The original efforts at the institute were inspired when it was noticed that anemia patients reporting there for treatment invariably demonstrated that there was no free hydrochloric acid in their stomachs. The feeding of acid did not affect the anemic condition. Therefore it was decided to feed the normal stomach of the hog and watch results.

Col. Stewart in London Will See Deterding Today

(Copyright, 1929, by Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—Apparently surprised by the premature publicity concerning his visit to Sir Henri Deterding and the proposed new international oil merger, Col. Robert Stewart arrived here tonight after crossing on the Majestic and said he had nothing to say for publication just now.

Tomorrow, it is reported, he will see Sir Henri Deterding, head of the Shell Royal Dutch interests and powerful rival of the Rockefellers, who ousted Col. Stewart from the chairmanship of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Will Rogers Remarks:

OOLOGAH (Okla.) Sept. 19. To the Editor of The Times: The football season is on and here is as pathetic a note as I ever read. It's by Gil Dobie, head coach at Cornell. The future of Cornell as a Class A college is entirely in the hands of the faculty. If they are going to be bull-headed and insist on the students studying and carrying on a lot of lessons and getting their minds and time off what they are here for why we will finish where all other narrow-minded colleges finish: in the cellar, but if they wake up like Notre Dame, California and Princeton and realize it's touchdowns we want and not degrees, it's future coaches we want to turn out and not college presidents, then only will Cornell return to its proud place among prosperous universities. But I can do nothing. It is all in the hands of the faculty.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

HEIRESS' BODY RECOVERED

Miss Wolfskill's Disappearance Mystery Deepened by Strange Attire Found on Remains

FAIRFIELD, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—The body of Miss Irene Wolfskill, 57 years of age, eccentric heiress to an estate of approximately $800,000, who has been missing since July 4, last, was found early today and brought here tonight. The body, badly decomposed, was lying face downward in a clump of stiff grass in a creek bed on a ranch adjoining that occupied by Miss Wolfskill until her disappearance. It was discovered by Bernard Glasshoff, 18 years of age.

Nelda Wolfskill, cousin of the heiress, identified underclothing on the body as that of her aunt, but the other articles of apparel on the body served only to intensify the mystery of her death and the events leading to it. Instead of the light house dress and coolie coat which Miss Wolfskill was wearing when she left her ranch home, never to return alive, the body was attired in a suit of men's overalls and above the feminine underwear were the remains of what appeared to be a man's union suit cut off at the waist. In a pocket of the overalls was a piece of paper bearing writing said to resemble that of Miss Wolfskill.

PLACE HUNTED OVER

Sheriff Thornton of Solano county and M. A. Harris, private detective employed by the Los Angeles bank which administered the estate, called attention that the body was discovered in a location which was explored thoroughly not once, but a score of times, during the extensive search which followed the woman's disappearance.

An investigation will be launched immediately to determine if it was dragged there after the search was abandoned several weeks ago.

It lay only a quarter of a mile from the Glasshoff ranch house, which is about eight miles northwest of here and was the center of the area in which the search was concentrated.

Shoes worn by the woman, found several feet away, were similar to those worn by the heiress when she was seen last. They lay side by side as if they had been placed there, according to officers.

HUNT SENSATIONAL

Miss Wolfskill's two brothers, Matt and Ney, who were appointed by the Los Angeles courts as guardian of her person and later removed by the bank, were not in Fairchild when the finding of the

LINDBERGHS AT MIAMI ON AIR CRUISE

Couple Begin 7000-Mile South-Central American Inspection Flight Today

MIAMI (Fla.) Sept. 19. (AP)—Roaring southward down the Atlantic seaboard from Charleston at a speed of nearly 125 miles an hour, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived here today to complete preparations for the start tomorrow of a 7000-mile inspection flight to sixteen West Indian and South and Central American countries in the interest of Pan-American Airways, Inc.

The flight will be for the purpose of inaugurating air mail and passenger service from Miami to Dutch Guiana and will reverse the route of Lindbergh's good-will tour a year and a half ago.

Both land and amphibian planes will be used on the trip, which will require about twenty days with a one-day stop at Port of Spain, Trinidad, and a ten-day stop at Panama.

JACK FROST ROUTS HEAT IN NEW YORK

High Temperature Drops Suddenly to New Low Over North Atlantic States

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—The persistently torrid heat of summer today gave way to frost.

After unseasonable hot, humid weather in the Eastern States the temperature tumbled suddenly overnight and several North Atlantic States this morning reported new low temperatures for the date.

Frost was noticeable in New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts, and in New York City, Buffalo and Boston. The temperature went to 44 deg. in New York City, 1 deg. below a record of fifty-four years' standing; Buffalo thermometers recorded 40, and in Boston the reading was 42, 2 below the record set in 1875.

A week ago the North Atlantic States were sweltering, and everywhere midsummer modes were in fashion. Last night and today, however, topcoats and other heavier clothing appeared—to stay until tomorrow, at least, if the prediction of the Weather Bureau is heeded.

EDISON CUTS LIGHT RATES FOR 427,000 CONSUMERS

Southland Will Save $1,400,000; Corporation Also to Reduce Industrial Power Cost

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—The first of anticipated reductions in the rates of Southern California utilities was announced by the Railroad Commission today, effecting a saving of approximately $1,400,000 a year to 427,000 consumers of the Southern California Edison Company. The reduction, however, was voluntary on the part of the company and did not result from a demand on the part of the commission. After the offer was made the commission accepted it.

The reduction becomes effective November 1, next, and applies to electric light users.

According to the announcement, consideration also is being given to modification of industrial power rates. Studies of this situation in the congested areas now are underway. It is expected they will have been completed by next January 1, and scaling of industrial rates is believed to be a certainty at that time.

SECOND REDUCTION

The reduction is the second of magnitude accorded by the Southern California Edison Company in two years. In 1927 the company reduced rates in the expectation of increasing consumption. The action was taken as an experiment. It is said to have proved successful, and the November 1 reduction is expected to spur further consumption of electrical energy in households with resultant economies to consumers and benefit to the company.

Because of the growth of the load supplied by the Department of Water and Power in Los Angeles, increasing the energy supplied by the Edison Company to the municipality, a new schedule also will become effective on that distribution on November 1, giving a considerable saving to the city in its purchase contract.

DISTRICTS AFFECTED

In the household field, a maximum rate of 5 cents per kilowatt hour, against a present rate of 5.5 cents, will be charged in Alhambra, Compton, Inglewood, Long Beach, Monrovia, Montebello, Pasadena, Redondo Beach, the San Fernando Valley, Santa Monica and Vernon.

The maximum will be 5.5 cents against 6.4 cents in Covina, Fullerton, Huntington Beach, Ojai, Ontario, Oxnard, Pomona, Redlands, San Bernardino, Santa Ana, Santa Barbara, Santa Paula, Ventura and Whittier.

The maximum will be 5.5 cents against 6 cents in Big Creek, Delano, Hanford, Lancaster, Lindsay, Porterville, Tulare and Visalia.

FILIBUSTER SUSPECTED

Delays on Tariff Cause Worry

Majority Senators Vote to Apply Remedy of Holding Morning Sessions

Republicans Fear Failure of Progress Result of Secret Fight

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—Failure of the Senate to make any real headway with the tariff bill is causing so much uneasiness to Republican regulars that today they decided to apply the strong remedy of holding morning sessions.

At a caucus of the majority Senators, at which most of the Northwestern insurgents were conspicuously absent, it was voted to meet next week at 11 o'clock, instead of the customary hour of noon. While this arrangement must be ratified by the entire Senate, Majority Leader Watson hopes that he can line up enough Democratic votes for it to put it across.

The Republicans didn't use the dreaded word "filibuster" in their discussions this morning, but that was in their minds. They cannot prove it, but they are convinced that a secret filibuster is in progress on the floor of the Senate, and that in spite of protestations to the contrary, a number of Democrats and insurgents are determined to delay final action on the tariff indefinitely.

LITTLE PROGRESS MADE

Since they buckled down to business on the long Hawley-Smoot bill a week ago Monday, the Senators have made very little progress. First, they wrangled for a couple of days over the Simmons income-tax resolutions. Then Senator Norris brought up his Vare resolution, and more delay ensued. Even when the clerk started reading the sections of the long bill, there was no disposition to concentrate on each section and finish it up.

When the Senate recessed tonight, for instance, two questions which had been debated exhaustively were still hanging. For several days the Senate discussed the appropriate penalties to be imposed on owners of vessels apprehended in opium smuggling. It seemed that every last word on the subject had been uttered and that the Senate was ready to vote, but at the last moment came the plea of some Senators that they "wanted more time" to investigate, and over it went to another day.

The same situation exists in regard to the provisions regulating "milling-in-bond," the process by which Canadian wheat is admitted duty-free if the flour is to be exported. For hour after hour this afternoon the Senate threshed out this subject. At 4 o'clock it appeared that a vote was at hand. But then Wagner of New York and Frazier of North Dakota, members of the antitariff coalition, protested that they would like to ponder the problem overnight and address the Senate tomorrow. Also Allen of Kansas, who is a regular on most things but who threatens to insurge on the tariff, is out of town and wishes to be heard. So

Immigration Regulation of Filipino Urged

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Speaking before the Commonwealth Club of California here tonight Dr. David P. Barrows, president emeritus of the University of California, advocated regulation, and not exclusion of immigration from the Philippines.

He stated that such a policy would make for the building of a genuine Philippine nation, a dream that practically all Filipinos hold.

Other speakers at the meeting were Atty.-Gen. Webb, and Paul Scharrenberg, secretary-treasurer of the California State Federation of Labor.

Second Typhoon Strikes in Luzon

MANILA, Sept. 20. (AP) (Friday)—The Province of Camarines Sur in Southern Luzon, was struck by the second typhoon in a fortnight Tuesday and is facing an economic crisis due to destruction of crops, Gov. Filipe reported to the executive bureau today.

Floods incident to the typhoon have resulted in at least two deaths, he reported, and the Provincial capital, Naga, is still inundated. Gov. Filipe appealed for relief measures and free distribution of seeds. Two army airplanes flew to the district with vaccine.

FRUIT JUICES ADVOCATED

W.C.T.U. President Urges Their Use in Homes and Study of Method to Prevent Fermentation

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 19. (AP)—Two new constructive policies, one looking toward establishment by State unions of reserve funds and the other promoting the use of nonalcoholic fruit juices in homes, were recommended by Mrs. Ella A. Boole of Brooklyn, national president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, in an address at the opening tonight of the fifty-fifth annual convention here.

In reviewing activities of the last year Mrs. Boole called attention to the fact that the W.C.T.U. was unprepared financially to oppose actively those urging repeal of the Wisconsin prohibition enforcement act when proponents of the movement began their successful campaign, and urged each State unit to maintain a reserve fund to be used when such situations arise.

The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, the speaker stated, spent $30,000 of an available fund of $123,000, whereas the W.C.T.U. had to wait to collect money before it could launch its defense of the Wisconsin law.

JUICES BENEFICIAL

Mrs. Boole's other proposal, that of popularizing fruit juices, resulted from recommendations by the department of nonalcoholic fruit products of the world W.C.T.U.

"The beverage traffic in intoxicating liquors is prohibited under the Constitution, hence they cannot be purchased without conniving at the violation of the law," she said.

"In their stead we commend the use of nonalcoholic fruit juices. We commend them because they appeal to the taste, they are attractive to the eye, refreshing to the spirit and have only good effects 'the morning after.'"

The national president, delivering the keynote message of the convention, suggested that the temperance union take action to aid in a study of the preservation of

ICE CAP'S REMNANT FOUND

MacMillan, Back from North, Tells of Locating Last Part of Pleistocene Period Glacier

WISCASSET (Me.) Sept. 19. (AP)—The locating of the last remnant of the ice cap which once covered 4,000,000 square miles of the earth was one of the outstanding accomplishments related today by members of the Arctic expedition of Lieutenant-Commander Donald B. MacMillan, just returned from three months in the north.

Other noteworthy achievements were assembling of a collection of specimens for a comparative study of sea and brook trout and the first scientific collection of flora and fauna from Frobisher's Bay region.

The Bowdoin, sturdy schooner which whirled the pack, loosened the ice and the schooner slid back into the water. MacMillan made his way from the pack later by trailing a large berg.

which has taken the explorer north for several years and which this summer withstood a twelve-day assault by an ice pack, anchored off Newagen early this morning. Nine men accompanied MacMillan on the cruise, which started from here on June 22.

Commander MacMillan, seated before a crackling log fire at Newagen, related how he found the ice cap "Meta Incognita" (unknown land) between Frobisher's Bay and Hudson Strait, only a few days before the Bowdoin was caught in the ice pack off Lok's Land and lifted clear of the water by the pressure of the ice. An eddy

GROWING SMALLER

The ice cap, which was described by the explorer as actually two ice caps, now covers approximately 700 square miles and so far as he could determine is becoming smaller.

For years scientists have sought information concerning the possible remainder of this ice cap of the Pleistocene period, which covered all of New England with solid ice to a depth of 5000 feet, leaving only the tip of Mt. Washington

SCANDAL IN KENTUCKY

Governor Named by Jury

Seven Members of Textbook Commission Indicted With Sampson

Acceptance of Gifts from Publishers Charged After Inquiry

FRANKFORT (Ky.) Sept. 19. (AP) Indictments charging Gov. Sampson and seven members of the State Textbook Commission with "unlawfully receiving gifts" from publishing companies were returned here today by the Franklin county grand jury, which has been investigating State affairs three weeks.

The asserted gifts were specified as "a great number of common-school textbooks, the exact number, description and time thereof unknown to the grand jury." The books were asserted to have been accepted from eight firms which were seeking to have texts published for them adopted for use in the Kentucky public schools.

PENALTY $1000 FINE

Under the statute creating the textbook commission and making the Governor its ex-officio chairman, a penalty of a fine not exceeding $1000 and imprisonment of not more than six months in the County Jail is provided for a person convicted of receiving "any property of value" from a concern prohibited to bid on furnishing books for the public schools which is seeking to have its books adopted by the commission.

The indictments were returned unexpectedly in a partial report of the jury and caused a sensation when read by title only. When the exact nature of the "gifts" specified in the body of the indictment became known, there was considerable surprise and speculation.

REPORT NOT COMPLETE

The jury made it clear that the report was not a complete one and Judge Ben O. Williams granted it another week in which to complete its investigations, which have dealt with half a dozen State departments.

Sampson was asserted to have received books from Ginn & Co. The others indicted and the firms mentioned in connection with each were: Frank V. McChesney, American Book Company; K. R. Cummins, Silver-Burdette Company; Samuel Walker, D. C. Heath Company; W. R. McCoy, Laidlow Company; Mrs. Delphia Evans, McMillan Company; Robert J. Nickel, Houghton-Mifflin Company; Mrs. George R. Smith, Lyons-Carnahan Company.

McChesney and Sampson have been unfriendly for several weeks, the Governor having made an effort to put McChesney off the commission. McChesney appealed to the courts and won the case.

SAMPSON SILENT

Three members of the commission were not indicted. They were W. C. Bell, State superintendent of public instruction, ex-officio secretary; H. O. Gray and George E. Sapp.

The indictments followed months of unsuccessful efforts to adopt books for the schools for the current year. Bids have been asked four times. One complete adoption was made and was attacked in a suit filed by Superintendent Bell. The adoption was thrown out and at the same time the courts held the free textbook law of 1928 inoperative because no appropriation had been made.

Sampson, a Republican, was elected in 1927 after a campaign in which he made free textbooks his principal issue. Bell, a Democrat, was elected the same year.

Gov. Sampson had made no statement regarding the indictments tonight.

FRENCH FILM FIGHT AT END

a new method of protection to the French industry. This new method is not expected to rest on a ratio basis.

The Cinema Control Commission meets next Tuesday for consideration of the Franco-American accord and it is confidently expected that the new compromise measure will be approved. The text of the agreement reads that "the French Motion Picture Chamber of Commerce and the Cinema Control Commission will recommend to their government a regulation based on a method of protection different from the present."

This new regulation, it is expected, will dispose permanently of the quota plan, now held up for one year and possibly for two. The resumption of normal relations between the French and American film interests here should relieve immediately the tight situation that has been in existence for months, in which hundreds of French theaters were unable to get the best American pictures due to the film controversy.

Of first significance is the fact that the widespread withdrawal of the American film industry from France, which threatened to begin early next month, is now obviated. Film officials of the two nations have been negotiating at top speed as quietly as possible for the last two or three weeks. The meeting at which the present accord was reached was held at the office of M. André Francois Poncet, undersecretary for public instruction and fine arts, who has played a leading role in the negotiations as a spokesman for the government.

The new agreement in the first paragraph calls attention to a new element in the situation brought in by the growth of the sound pictures which, it is said, has changed greatly the aspect of the world film market. As matters stand, however, the accord over the picture market seems to be as satisfactory as it could possibly be made, pending a new method of protection of French pictures by the government.

INQUIRY BEGINS IN LIQUOR PLOT

Government Takes Action in Bay City Scandal

Customs Building Declared to be "Wringing Wet"

Search for Woman Suspect Proves Fruitless

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—The Federal government today launched a comprehensive investigation of the "blue-slip" liquor conspiracy, disclosed yesterday, when it became apparent that its ramifications extend beyond the four persons charged with the conspiracy.

From an official source came the statement the "whole Customs Building is wringing wet," that nearly every office in it has had its quota of liquor from legal government sources, and that what at first was thought to be a mere conspiracy among a few, has developed into a general scandal in the customs service here.

Meantime deputy United States marshals were unsuccessful in attempts to find Mrs. Agnes Cress, said to have been the brain of the conspiracy.

SEARCH FRUITLESS

She was reported to have attempted suicide at the inception of the government investigation. A search of hospitals in the bay counties failed to disclose her whereabouts. She was a confidential clerk for twelve years with a wholesale drug establishment.

The three men arrested on complaints issued by United States Commissioner Williams appeared before him and hearing was set for Wednesday. Their bond remained at $5000 each.

Collector of the Port W. B. Hamilton, apprised of the accusations that the government liquor leakage has been seeping from roof to basement of the Customs Building, said the customs service has nothing to do with the issuance of liquor permits.

THOSE ACCUSED

The asserted conspirators, in addition to Mrs. Cress, are Charles Schmitz, a customs broker; R. N. MacWilliams, proprietor of a pharmacy, and Daniel J. Cottrell, former deputy cashier in the customs office.

U. S. Atty. Hatfield said he has ordered Harry Smith, head of the special intelligence bureau of the prohibition department, to make an investigation to ascertain where the liquor went.

Although Hatfield declined to speculate on how much government whisky and brandy leaked out through forged applications purporting to be the applications of masters of ships for medicinal liquor, it is estimated that as much as 3500 pints were illegally withdrawn.

NET MAY SPREAD

It is probable other customs brokers may be involved, government officials said.

According to Public Health Service physicians, custom brokers frequently called for five or six sets of the blank applications and there was no check-up afterward to determine whether all were used.

A denial that extra blue slips—the ones on which liquor actually was obtainable—were given out was made by them. They intimated the forgeries were not of the blue slips alone, but whole sets, with the useless sheets afterward discarded.

BURDENS OF POSTOFFICE DISCLOSED

Tilton Tells Publishers Much of Deficit Result of Subsidies and Free Mail

SHAWNEE ON DELAWARE (Pa.) Sept. 19. (AP)—Assistant Postmaster-General Tilton today informed the National Publishers' Association here that more than half the present Postoffice Department deficit is directly attributable to subsidies which it has to furnish and to the handling of free mail.

The postal deficit for the year, Tilton said, excluding $42,000,000 retroactive payments to railways, will amount to approximately $95,000,000. Of this amount, he said, $52,000,000 is made up of items such as ship subsidies, the handling of religious and scientific literature at a loss and franked mail handled by the department for other departments and members of Congress.

Jury Still Out in Rogers Case

NEW BRAUNFELS (Tex.) Sept. 19. (AP)—The jury which tried Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers for bank robbery, still divided without apparent hope of agreement, retired at 8:30 o'clock tonight. Hope for a verdict virtually had been given up, but in the event one is reached it will not be announced before tomorrow.

Although the jury reported for the second time late today that it was hopelessly deadlocked, Judge Watson ordered the jurors to continue deliberations.

POTTERY PLANT BURNS

FLEMINGTON (N. J.) Sept 19. (AP)—The century-old plant of the Pulper Pottery Company, said to be the oldest concern of its kind in the United States, was destroyed by fire today. The flames consumed five buildings, machinery, records and patterns for art pottery of great value. The loss is estimated at $125,000.

TARIFF DELAYS WORRY SENATE

Votes on Items Prevented by Time Pleas

Hundreds of Roll Calls in Prospect Still

NAMES PILING UP

Meanwhile the Democrats are deluging Chairman Smoot with requests for the income tax secrets of additional corporations. The names of 130 more corporations were made public today, and the expectation is that the requests will run into the thousands before all Senators are satisfied. This opens the prospect to further delay. When and if the Treasury Department replies, Senators will have more ready excuses for stalling off votes. They will request "more time" to study these interesting figures.

If a filibuster is in progress, thus far it defies detection. Majority Leader Watson has been rubbing his chin hour after hour, trying to discover hidden connections between some of these dilatory moves. But he cannot find that the Democrats and the insurgents are pursuing any plan, and now and then he becomes confused when one of his own stalwart followers joins in a request for delay.

To hold morning sessions at this stage of the debate is extraordinary procedure. Senators like to have their mornings free, for their committee work, for their office work and for their golf. They are rarely willing to move up the hour for daily assembly except in the closing days of a session, when the calendar is crowded. But Watson is apparently determined to try the experiment, hoping that it will disclose the real purposes of the antitariff bloc. If the move fails, the Republican leaders will consider the expedient of keeping the Senate in session each day beyond the usual adjournment time of 6:30 o'clock. That would be a move of desperation, for nothing is more difficult than to hold a quorum of the Senate in the chamber after the dinner hour.

MANY ROLL CALLS AHEAD

It is conservatively estimated that there will be from 400 to 500 roll calls on the bill before it is ready for final passage. It is not difficult to understand Leader Watson's impatience, therefore, for since the debate opened there has been only one definite roll call on a specific provision of the bill. Just ahead are the complicated administrative features, on which the Democrats are prepared to dispute the meaning of almost every word and to demand a record vote on the slightest pretext.

In the names of corporations made public today Chairman Smoot, either by accident or design, eliminated the cities in which those business enterprises are located. A number of them needed not such identification. The only California concern included was the Air Reduction Company of California.

fruit juices so as to prevent fermentation.

Failure of some States to co-operate in law enforcement was scored by Mrs. Boole, who said such action encouraged law violators. She declared that in such cases "political expediency, graft, inefficiency, downright opposition have had the right of way."

The W.C.T.U. began fifty-five years ago as a total abstinence society, the speaker related, adding that it "still maintains its singleness of purpose—the destruction of the liquor traffic."

"Eternal vigilance is the price of prohibition," she declared in striking her keynote. "The Women's Christian Temperance Union is determined that prohibition shall have its chance."

The hunt for Miss Wolfskill was one of the most sensational in Northern California annals, being marked by open outbursts of enmity between the two brothers, which finally resulted in J. W. Bachman, Los Angeles bank officer, placing her ranch in the custody of a special caretaker.

More than 300 men, employed by Harris and Bachman and spurred by a reward of $1000, engaged in the search and scarcely a foot of the wild hills surrounding Miss Wolfskill's ranch went unsearched in the two weeks following her disappearance.

Warrant Echoes Chute Fatality

WICHITA (Kan.) Sept. 19. (AP)—A warrant charging manslaughter in the fourth degree was issued by County Attorney Wertz this evening for Bert White, head of the Irving Air Chute Company's "safety crew."

A Coroner's jury late today found that Helen Williams, 18 years of age, was killed in a parachute leap from the company's plane last Saturday because of negligence. White's attorneys said he will return here tomorrow from Ponca City, Okla., to surrender.

He is entering college at the age when most boys are just entering high school.

showing. It is estimated that the ice cap existed for 35,000 years.

Shortness of time prevented the MacMillan party from erecting rock cairns to mark the farthest point of the ice cap, but photographs were made which can be used in determining definitely next year if it is receding.

The rock cairns will be set up next summer, MacMillan said, so that it will be possible to determine the rate of recession.

Dr. W. C. Kendall of the United States Bureau of Fisheries told of finding the "gamiest" fish he ever hooked on a fly in a little pool north of Probisher's Bay. He said it appeared to be a species of "true" sea trout, as distinguished from the so-called sea trout of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, which actually is a species of brook trout. He found a similarity between the fish and the white or golden trout of this country.

Picking of buttercups, violets, shepherd's purse, dandelions and other of the flora so common in this country from among the cracks and crevices of rocky barren land, with practically no soil, provided Prof. Samuel C. Palmer, head of the botany department at Swarthmore College, with his "biggest thrill."

The results of his studies of Arctic growth will go into the arboretum being established at the college, he said.

CAROLINA WARS ON RED PLAGUE

Alarmed Middle Class Tries to Down Communism

Strike and Union Troubles Forgotten in New Peril

Night-Riders Active But Few "Orators" Bagged

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—While North Carolina raiders are making nightly sorties on Communistic nests, a Red "university" has been founded in a little sovietized corner of the Mecklenburg County Jail. Safe from the switches of Gastonian vigilantes, thirteen ardent followers of Lenin are holding classes in Communism for their untutored members and invited students from near-by cells.

Meanwhile outside North Carolina continues frantically trying to rid itself of a Communistic plague. There are plenty of Reds down here. That is one statement that can be written with certainty. There is no strike nor union fight. All that has been almost forgotten. The battle is between imported Communism and an alarmed middle-class citizenship.

MANY DEFENDANTS

If one should heave a brick anywhere in Gastonia it would hit a defendant in the mass of criminal and civil cases growing out of the anti-Red fight here. A few miles away in Bessemer City or in Charlotte the same brick probably would hit a Communist.

The "mill barons," as the Communists call them, are in this fight because their purses have been hit. Production has fallen off in almost every mill since the Reds invaded Dixie. The East is not ordering from the South for fear of delayed delivery and northern capital is wary of putting money into a strife-torn textile center.

The Communists have a mission to spread. Their doctrine always has thirved in communities of ignorant, credulous people. The hill section of this State is fertile ground. The mills are entering wedges.

The so-called new South sought to meet the Communists on their own ground and combat their teachings with teachings of its own, but failed.

Mob-minded, a certain class of citizenship grew tired of waiting. Now the night-riders are riding.

FORAY FAILS

Last night's foray of automobile terrorists failed because the Communist speakers fled at the first sight of a Gastonia auto tag. Sam Phifer, Hubert Cortel and Paul Shepherd, district Red leaders, slipped into Charlotte headquarters early this morning after being chased through three counties in North and South Carolina.

They went in hiding and would see no outsiders.

Small bands of night-riders are making nightly pilgrimages but seldom bag a Red. The Communists are holding secret "speakings" every night, talking from the seats of automobiles with motors and their mouths running at full speed.

Tonight the Red colony in Charlotte is a shade lighter, Ben Wells, the stubby little British Communist, left to seek a meeting in Washington with Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador. Hugo Oehler, the only leader game enough to go to Ella May Wiggins's funeral Tuesday, went with him. They will continue on to New York to speak at a mass demonstration scheduled for next Saturday and Sunday throughout the United States.

LONDON TO HONOR PREMIER

Corporation Will Give MacDonald City's Freedom; Snowden Also Voted Recognition

LONDON, Sept. 19. (AP)—The City of London Corporation has decided to present the freedom of the city, traditional center of banking and conservative British wealth, to Prime Minister MacDonald, who has risen from an obscure Socialist campaigner to the highest political office in the British Empire.

The city's freedom, bestowed with pomp and splendor at the Guild Hall, is to be given to the man who practically was ostracized in England in the later war years for pacifist utterances, in recognition of the "indomitable courage, energy and ability by which he raised himself to the high office."

The honor also is in recognition "of his efforts by visiting the United States to promote better understanding and to arrive at an agreement regarding the limitation of armaments" between Great Britain and the United States.

The corporation will present the freedom of the city also to Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden, whose policies in finance often have been attacked as "socialistic."

The honor goes to Mr. Snowden in recognition of "his firm and successful action to protect British interests at The Hague reparations conference."

In moving the resolutions, C. S. Gliddins of the corporation said that the Corporation of London was in the forefront of those who protested against the war with the American Colonies and was a heavy loser in it. Therefore it seems appropriate that the Prime Minister should take with him to America the support and approbation of the city of London.

President Harding found little difficulty in making a selection. Washington was the meeting place and he was able to appoint the late Oscar W. Underwood, then Democratic leader in the Senate, as the minority representative on the commission even though Congress was in session.

At the time of the London conference, the Seventy-first Congress will be in the midst of its first regular session, since the 1930 naval meeting is expected to consume upward of six weeks there is doubt whether the present Democratic leader of the Senate, Robinson of Arkansas, or any of the other ranking Democratic Senators, would feel that they could absent themselves from the Senate for so long a period.

Should that prove to be the case, Mr. Hoover would have to look elsewhere for the Democratic member. John W. Davis, Ambassador to Great Britain under Woodrow Wilson and Democratic Presidential candidate in 1924, is one of those whose name has been brought into the unofficial discussions.

Secretary Stimson still is regarded as the most likely choice of the President as head of the American delegates, despite some suggestions that Charles Evans Hughes, who was chairman of the American delegation at the 1921 conference, and who is a close personal friend of President Hoover, might be selected.

Ambassador Gibson unquestionably will be in the American delegation. He has been the American representative in all of the naval limitation discussions at Geneva during the past four or five years and perhaps is better grounded in the technical details of the subject than any other American diplomat.

Whether Ambassador Dawes will be a delegate is regarded by some as problematical, although in any event he probably would sit in on the conferences in at least an ex-officio capacity.

There probably will be four American delegates as there were at the Washington conference, three Republicans and one Democrat. Besides Mr. Hughes and Senator Underwood, the representatives at the 1921 parley were Elihu Root and the late Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.

HOLY LAND ARABS GET SENTENCES

Thirty-seven Held for Trial on Raiding Charge and Two Deported

JERUSALEM, Sept. 19.—(Jewish Telegraphic Agency.) Thirty-seven Arabs of Tireh, near Haifa, who attempted to raid the village of Bat Galim during the recent Arab-Jewish disturbances, were remanded for trial in the District Court.

Three Arabs who were found guilty of possessing loaded firearms were sentenced to one year imprisonment each by Judge Kermack of Jerusalem. The court in rendering judgment emphasized that severe punishment is due for the possession of firearms during the disturbances.

Three Arabs who were found guilty of robbery during the disturbances at Haifa were sentenced to two years' imprisonment each. Two of the prisoners pleaded that they were foreign subjects, whereupon the judge directed their deportation after serving sentence.

The situation continued calm in the Holy City. One hundred new British constables, the majority of whom are former guardsmen, have arrived in Palestine from London and taken up their duties.

LEAGUE WEIGHS TWO SUBJECTS

Other Deals With China Plea for Treaty Equality

British and French in Clash Over Disarmament

GENEVA, Sept. 19. (AP)—Two subjects weighty with importance in the crusade for world peace and security—disarmament and "inapplicable treaties"—engaged the attention of the League of Nations Assembly today.

The first centered around the problem of limiting trained army reserves in seeking a basis for a general disarmament agreement. It developed a sharp conflict of attitudes between representatives of Great Britain and France.

The second subject found its vehicle for discussion in China's wish to be freed from what her leaders call the burden of "unequal treaties" with the great western nations.

The debate on military questions will be resumed tomorrow in the Committee on Disarmament. The Chinese proposal, together with a substitute backed by Great Britain, Belgium and other countries, which were victorious in the World War, was referred to a subcommittee.

CLASH FORESEEN

The clash today between British and French thought on the question of trained army reserves as a factor in disarmament, was foreseen last week when Lord Robert Cecil of Great Britain announced his purpose to introduce a resolution suggesting that the preparatory disarmament commission consider the limiting of land forces, both as to personnel and material.

Lord Cecil, in presenting his resolution today, said that disarmament is the greatest question facing seekers for world peace. He said that the hoped-for naval agreement, while important, would be useless if the nations could not agree also to limit their land and air forces.

Rene Massigli, a youthful Frenchman who spoke for his government, said that France believes it will be inexpedient to give new instructions to the Preparatory Commission while the Anglo-American naval negotiations still are in progress. He regretted the British change of attitude as a result of a change in government and suggested that perhaps the Labor government might be replaced by another administration with another line of thought at some time in the future.

FINDS READY SUPPORT

The French thesis found ready support from the Italian and Japanese delegations. In addition Jonkheer Dr. J. Loudon of Holland, president of the Preparatory Commission, agreed that it will not be wise to change the instructions to his body.

Only Germany, through Count Von Bernstoff, ranged herself on the side of Great Britain in the argument.

CHINESE PROPOSAL

The Chinese proposal was sponsored by Dr. C. C. Wu, Minister of his government to Washtington. It is based on Article XIX of the League's covenant which says:

"The Assembly may, from time to time, advise reconsideration by members of the League of treaties which have become inapplicable and which, in the consideration of international conditions, might by their continuance endanger the peace of the world."

China's immediate consideration, said Dr. Wu, speaking in English, is the old "unequal treaties" which existed between China and several of the western powers. He recognised that his proposal is "viewed with apprehension by some statesmen who had concern for political equilibrium in other parts of the world."

This is recognized as an allusion to those governments which fear that action on the Chinese proposal might give grounds in the future for Germany and other nations defeated in the World War to seek revision of the treaties resulting from the great conflict. "But statesmen sometimes see danger where none exists," he said.

PROPOSAL EXPLAINED

He explained that China's proposal merely is for appointment of a special committee to study the possibility of making Article 19 effective. This, he said, can do nobody any harm and might result in good for many.

Germany, Hungary, India and Persia welcomed the Chinese proposal warmly, and urged that its execution will be a contribution to peace in the Far East.

"Sometimes conditions cease to be just. And sometimes such conditions never were just."

The British and Belgian delegations, however, regarded China's resolution as inexpedient. They offered instead a proposal that any member of the League is entitled to draw the attention of the Assembly to a treaty which appears inapplicable. In this case the Assembly would examine the "receivability" of the communication and would decide the question on its merits after consulting competent committees.

Dr. Wu was not prepared to accept this substitute, so both resolutions were referred to a subcommittee for further examination.

LATIN AMERICANS PLAN LEAGUE UNITY

GENEVA, Sept. 19. (AP)—Latin-American delegations to the League of Nations tonight decided that hereafter they will act "in a spirit of close, continental collaboration" when dealing with questions of common interest.

They formed a committee to draw up a program for future procedure in presenting to the Assembly Latin-American candidates for places on the Council of the League. Another committee was instructed to submit a program for study of economic problems of interest to South and Central America and also to propose measures which would co-ordinate the activities of the Latin-American group.

These plans will be examined by another group meeting Saturday. The final decisions will be sent by the delegations to their respective governments so that official instructions may be forthcoming before the next meeting of the Assembly.

DIVORCED SINGER BARRED IN CHURCH

Florence Austral

LONDON, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—Waves of resentment rolling up from more liberal-minded circles have failed to move the authorities of the famous three-choir festival from the decision to bar Florence Austral, noted Australian prima donna, from singing at the festival performance in Worcester Cathedral. The fact that she was divorced three years ago, just disclosed, is the reason given for canceling the engagement.

KING ALBERT OF BELGIUM ITALY BOUND

Rumor of Princess Marie's Betrothal to Crown Prince Umberto Revived

BRUSSELS (Belgium) Sept. 19. (AP)—The sudden departure of King Albert for Italy today has revived rumors that the visit is connected with the possibility of the betrothal of Crown Prince Umberto of Italy and Princess Marie Jose of Belgium.

It was announced that during the ten days' stay in Italy King Albert will have an interview with the royal family, and despite the reticence of court officials it is considered certain that the visit is connected with the matrimonial project, which has been talked of for some years past.

It is even expected that the engagement of the Italian Prince and Belgian Princess will be announced officially this autumn, and that the marriage will be given a gorgeous staging in Rome, reports being that Pope Pius personally will perform the religious ceremony.

The King's visit to Italy also is said to be called with a contemplated visit of the Belgian royal family to the Vatican, which has been planned since the reconciliation between the Italian government and the Holy See.

U.C. Professors Join in Petition to Free Mooney

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. (AP) A group of professors at the University of California today joined with others in petitioning Gov Young to free Thomas Mooney and Warren Billings, convicted of perpetrating the Preparedness Day bomb outrage here in which several persons were killed.

In a letter to the Governor the professors assert a miscarriage of justice took place in the conviction of the men. Mooney and Billings are serving terms in San Quentin prison.

The group seeking release of the two are Jessica B. Petrotto, economics; Chauncey W. Wells, English; G. A. Noble, mathematics; Mrs. Ralph Ellis, Donald S. MacKay, philosophy; B. H. Lehman, Katherine Smith Lowenberg, J. Lowenberg, W. H. Durham, English; Mary W. Adams, Grace Montgomery, Guy Montgomery, English; Merritt Y. Hughes, English, and Gordon McKenzie, English.

Taxpayers Get Call to Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—Representatives of all tax-paying groups in the State will be invited to attend the initial meetings of the new tax-investigating committee to be held in the Ferry Building here the 27th and 28th inst., according to Speaker Levey, of the Assembly and chairman of the committee.

Levey said he believes the best results will be obtained by getting the views of those who contribute to the State's taxes rather than from experts with preconceived notions regarding taxation systems.

GOOD READY TO PICK MILITIA BOARD CHIEF

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—Secretary Good expects to be able to recommend to President Hoover, before the end of this week, a man to fill the long vacant post of chief of the militia bureau. Intense interest has been shown in military and National Guard circles throughout the country in the appointment, and recommendations have been submitted by Governors of nearly forty States.

PROHIBITION CHIEF DIES

EL PASO, Sept. 19. (AP)—John D. Reeder, chief of the southwest division of prohibition enforcement, former Chief of Police of El Paso, once supervisor of mounted customs inspectors here and one of the best known law enforcement officers in the Southwest, died today.

WEATHER HALTS FOREST FLAMES

Fog, Rain, Humidity Help Fighters to Victory

End Seen Near for All Fires in Northern Areas

San Francisco Peninsula Blaze Investigated

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—Fog, scattered rain, higher humidity and lower temperatures combined today to give scores of harried fire lines in Northern California their first real respite from flame and smoke in two weeks. State and Federal officers received reports that most of the blazes from Tehachapi to Shasta are controlled or about to be.

Unofficial estimates place the burned areas in the outbreak at approximately 180,000 acres, with losses, inclusive of grain, homes and some live stock, running into millions.

FIRE IN LAST STAND

Mendocino county remains tonight the last stand of the fire demon on a large scale. M. B. Pratt, State forester, continues to maintain headquarters at Ukiah and is replacing exhausted fire fighters with fish and game wardens. Most of the fires have been segregated into small areas and are susceptible of control now.

Pratt said the famous redwood grove at Bull Creek Flat, designed to be a State park, has been saved.

A. E. Noren, district ranger in Shasta National Forest, was injured seriously when a panicky horse kicked him.

In the Adelaide section west of Paso Robles, where Miss Mary Comstock, county school-teacher, rescued her fifteen students and four infants on a wild dash from the flames, and Mrs. Alfred Heaton, a rancher's wife, saved her home by shooting blazing branches off trees, approximately 40,000 acres were devastated and two ranch houses burned to the ground. Rain aided the fire fighters to control the conflagration in that district.

FIRE INVESTIGATED

Another 40,000-acre fire in Monterey and San Benito counties is declared under control, with 100 men keeping guard on the Monterey front to prevent a fresh outbreak.

The La Honda fire on the San Francisco peninsula, extinguished, is the subject of an investigation by Fire Warden Werder following receipt of reports it started from an unextinguished camp fire.

INQUIRY OPENS IN SANTA PAULA FIRE

SANTA PAULA, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—As an aftermath of the great fire that swept from Santa Paula Canyon to within a few miles of Ventura, causing damage estimated at $3,000,000, an investigation was being conducted today to determine the cause. It is expected that it will be several days before the inquiry can be completed and the result made public.

Statements to the effect that a broken high tension wire was the cause of the conflagration will be sifted carefully.

Was Told She Had But Short Time To Live

"I was in such miserable health that I was told I couldn't live a year. I was so nervous, I couldn't sit still. My hands would tremble; my legs would jerk and twitch and my whole body ached. I felt so completely worn out all the time that it was an effort for me to even sit up. I had no appetite and my strength and energy were about all gone. To walk up a flight of steps would exhaust me completely. I had a dull ache and pressure on top of my head at times. I'd get so dizzy, I'd see stars and would have to lie down until these spells passed off. I had an awful pain in the small of my back. I was badly constipated and my complexion was sallow and my eyes were yellowish. I had to take strong laxatives to get even temporary relief and they always may be deathly sick. My whole system was badly rundown and I was on the verge of a nervous breakdown when I started taking Sargon.

"Four bottles of Sargon completely restored my health. It's marvelous the way my system has been strengthened and every ache and pain in my body is gone. I sleep just fine and have so much strength and energy that I can look after my housework easily. My appetite is splendid and everything I eat seems to agree with me. The pain in my back is gone and I never have dizzy spells or that terrible pressure on top of my head.

"Sargon Pills didn't make me sick at all but they rid me of constipation. Now that all the poisons are out of my system, I feel alert and energetic all the time. My skin is a healthy color and my eyes are clear and bright.

"I feel just splendid in every way and I only wish I could personally tell all sufferers about this wonderful Sargon treatment."

The above statement was made by Mrs. Thomas Owen, 851 Orange Ave., Long Beach.

The special Sargon representative at the Owl Drug Store, 6th & Broadway, is explaining the merits of this revolutionary new medicine to hundreds daily. Sargon may also be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

MEXICO'S TRADE LURE STRESSED

Chances Overlooked, Seattle Gathering Informed

Exports from California Set at High Mark for Year

Honolulu May be Selected for 1931 Convention

SEATTLE, Sept. 19. (AP)—Pacific slope business men have failed to fully realize the opportunities for trade that exist in Mexico under the present period of reconstruction, Eduardo D. Peralta, commercial attache of Mexico in San Francisco, declared here tonight at the world trade banquet of the Pacific Foreign Trades Council convention.

"The exporters in the middle western and eastern States have established their reputation," he said, advising the west coast manufacturers to organize periodical excursions to Mexico, study the economic conditions, visit the important cities and see the opportunities that exist.

"It is useless to state, because it so often has been affirmed that my country has the best intentions toward the United States, in every line of human endeavor and my Department of Industry, Commerce and Labor is willing to amplify, more than ever, our commercial relations with this privileged section of the United States," he told the delegates.

EYES ON HONOLULU

Exports to Mexico from California, Oregon and Washington for the year 1928 were only $12,281,806 as compared with total exports from the United States of $115,-662,000, he said.

The convention recommended to the directors of the council today that Honolulu, T. H., be given the 1931 convention. The directors who will make the final decision will accept the recommendation, officers said.

A. F. Haines of Seattle was elected president of the council, R. B. Wilcox, Portland, senior vice-president, and Riley H. Allen, Honolulu publisher, a vice-president. J. A. H. Kerr of Los Angeles and Paul Shoup of San Francisco were re-elected vice-presidents.

United States trade advisers, speaking before the council declared that American trade with the world is "marching ahead" despite racial and religious differences and the miles which separate buyer and seller.

New Zealand, which Julian Foster, American trade commissioner to that country, declared had the greatest per-capita wealth of any country, buys 90 per cent of its automobiles from the United States. They prefer American-made cars, he said, because they are better "hill-climbers" than European cars. With the development of electric power, the New Zealanders are taking strongly to American vacuum cleaners and other electrical appliances.

Although the country now is generally poverty-stricken, C. B. Spofford, trade commissioner in India, told the delegates that they might do well to consider the trade possibilities of that country. Living standards are being raised, he said, and, because of the immense population, India may well be regarded as a vast potential outlet for American manufactured goods.

The present hydro-electric development in Italy will open new territory for the sale of electric equipment of all sorts, Mowatt M. Mitchell, United States commercial attache in Italy, declared.

Manuel S. Rustia of the Philippine Government Commercial Agency reported a "veritable revolution" in the commercial life of the island, with a correspondingly great demand for manufactured articles. The United States, he said, is certain to retain its trade leadership in the islands.

CAPT. DOLLAR WARNS

Exploding the popular American theory that "youth will win the day," Capt. Robert Dollar of San Francisco, veteran shipping man of the Pacific Coast, warned delegates against "sending boys" abroad to develop trade.

"Don't send boys abroad to develop your trade," he admonished. "It is useless. Your biggest men must get up and go out after the business. You are up against good men abroad—big men, leaders in their lines—and you must meet them. If you go after trade, you are going to get it. But if you sit at home, they won't come over here to you."

Capt. Dollar bluntly told Seattle business men that they would "have to get out of their chairs" if they wanted to compete with Californians to get their share of the rapidly developing Asiatic trade. He said his boats left San Francisco with full cargoes, while in Seattle all he could get was half a cargo, being compelled to buy materials here in order to fill his ships.

He urged Seattle business men to develop more manufacturing plants as a means of competing successfully in foreign fields.

CITY FILES FARE CASE ARGUMENT

Werner Presents Brief to Supreme Court Opposing Increase to 7 Cents

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—Erwin P. Werner, City Attorney of Los Angeles, with associate counsel, today filed in the United States Supreme Court the brief of the argument he will use in behalf of the city and State Railroad Commission in opposing an increase in street-car fares granted the Los Angeles Railway Corporation.

The increase was granted by a statutory three-judge Federal court, which held the old 5-cent rate was confiscatory, and the court permitted an increase to a 7-cent cash fare or four tokens for 25 cents.

The city and the commission take the position, the brief says, that the franchise fixing the 5-cent fare is a contract over which the courts have no jurisdiction. The franchise gives special privileges subject to regulation only by the State. The brief contended the franchises are valid contracts between the city and the company, and that changes could only be made by the State Railroad Commission of California.

COWS MAKING MONKEY OF HIM

Doctor Can't Even Find Sick One in San Francisco to Test New Law

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—San Francisco is not a "cow county" and no one knows it better than Dr. J. P. Iverson, chief of the State Division of Animal Industry.

Dr. Iverson is looking for a cow in San Francisco for the purpose of testing the legality of the 1929 bovine tuberculosis eradication act. The records of the State Department of Agriculture show there are fifty cows in San Francisco but Dr. Iverson has been unable to find one. And to make things worse for the doctor the cow when found must be tubercular so she can be slaughtered and offered as a sacrifice to the legal machinery of the test suit.

San Francisco was selected because it has no dairies whose business might be hurt by finding of a tubercular animal in their herds.

FARM BOARD ENLISTS AID OF BANKER

Baltimore Financier Will Install Division to Look Into Loan Requests

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—The Federal Farm Board laid the foundation today for handling the $500,000,000 farm relief fund on a banking basis by obtaining the services of Thomas Hildt, Baltimore financier, to organize a division of banking operations.

The purpose of the division is to protect the government funds by investigating applications for loans, ascertaining that the security for the loans is satisfactory and otherwise carrying on the usual banking procedure in making loans.

Its particular work will deal with applications for loans by cooperatives for the construction of storage and shipping facilities, which the board expects will mount in number within the next few months. Supplemental loans made by the board to funds already advanced by the intermediate credit banks will not necessarily come under its preview.

It is planned to permit Hildt to develop the division according to the needs and experience of the board.

Although the need for such a division has been felt since the board was organized, its members have concentrated on making supplemental loans to aid farmers as much as possible in handling this year's crop.

COTTON AND MUMMY IN UTAH CAVES

Boomerang Used by Early Man Also Discovered by Museum Expedition

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—Charles A. Bernheimer, head of the expedition of the American Museum, announced today discovery of a mummy, a boll of cotton and a boomerang in caves in the southeast corner of Utah.

Mr. Bernheimer's discoveries were announced on his return from his seventh expedition to the homes of the basket-makers, the oldest known inhabitants of United States territory.

"The boomerang, as far as I know, is the first such weapon to be discovered in this country," Mr. Bernheimer said. "The boll of cotton is an astounding phenomenon, since no one has yet proved that cotton was used by the basket-makers in this region."

Well-Known Men Named for High Masonic Honor

DAYTON (O.) Sept. 19. (AP)—A member of the Presidential Cabinet, governors of two States and the president of a steel company were among eighty-one Masons selected today at the concluding session of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite for the honorary thirty-third degree at the meeting next year in Boston.

James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor in the Cabinets of Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover; Gov. Frank G. Allen of Massachusetts, Gov. John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania and W. C. Clyde, president of the Carnegie Steel Company of Pennsylvania, are the men to be honored.

Although there are several vacancies in the ranks of the active thirty-third-degree Masons, only one candidate for that honor was selected. He is Andrew S. Patterson, president of the Union Trust Company of Harrisburg, Pa.

Cabinet Quits in Lithuania

BERLIN, Sept. 19. (AP)—A Wolff Agency dispatch from Kovno tonight said the entire Lithuanian Cabinet had resigned. It was stated that President Smetona would ask J. Tubelis, present Minister of Finance, to reform the Cabinet and become Premier in succession to Prof. A. Waldermaras, who has been Premier since December 18, 1926, when the former government was overthrown by a military coup.

MONTANA FIRES CAUSE CONCERN

Flames Rage Uncontrolled in Many Areas

Entire Country Covered With Pall of Smoke

Twelve Thousand Acres in Idaho Blackened

MISSOULA (Mont.) Sept. 19. (AP) Blazing fiercely in dense timber and brush twenty miles south of Lolo Pass, the Elk Summit fire in Western Montana is giving grave concern to forest officials tonight. The fire has burned over 800 acres and is reported spreading rapidly in all directions. Fifty men were en route to the scene to aid the fifty already on the lines.

The largest uncontrolled fire in the district is raging west of Avery, Idaho, and has covered 12,000 acres. It is sweeping up the east side of Slate Creek after crossing the stream and advancing into territory burned over in 1910. It is joining with fires started by embers blown ahead. Three hundred men are combating the flames.

Crews hiking over a forest trail from Holland Lake, north of Missoula, are expected to reach the blaze on Some Creek tomorrow afternoon. Little is known here of the size of the fire because smoke covering all of Western Montana makes it impossible for lookouts to determine its extent. A few miles north of Some Creek crews are holding eighteen miles of line on Holbrook Creek.

Reinforcements tonight are expected to reach the seventeen men who had been fighting a one-sided battle against the 1000-acre Moose Butte fire in the Nez Perce Forest. Three miles of line are held on the Four Mile blaze in the same forest.

TWO BOYS ACCUSED IN SLAYING

Youths 6 and 4 Years of Age Charged With Killing Playmate in Fight

PATERSON (N. J.) Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—For the fourth time within three months, New Jersey authorities today are confronted with the problem of small boys accused of killing playmates. As in previous cases the extreme youth of the two defendants—4 and 6 years of age—has the authorities frankly puzzled as to what to do with them.

Scared youngsters, Thomas Fiorello, 4 years of age, and his brother, Julius, 6, of Paterson, were brought before Recorder Poelson in police court this morning charged with manslaughter.

Mrs. Vita La Presta, also of Paterson, accused the brothers of having caused the death of her son, Frank, 5, by kicking him in the abdomen.

"Frankly, I do not know what to do," the recorder said. "In view of the extreme youth of these two defendants, I must take under advisement the problem of sending the case to the grand jury or to the juvenile court. I won't take any action today."

The recorder then paroled Thomas and Julius to the custody of their father.

According to Mrs. La Presta's complaint, the Fiorello boys engaged in a quarrel with Frank La Presta on August 24, and after he was felled, kicked him in the stomach, so injuring him internally that he died on August 28.

WAGGONER'S VICTIMS TO GET LITTLE

Federal Bank Inspectors Report Only Small Part of Losses Recoverable

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—Federal bank inspectors today indicated that New York bankers will recover only a small part of the $500,000 which they lost through recent asserted fraudulent manipulations by Charles D. Waggoner, small-town banker from Colorado.

All but $110,000 of the $500,000 which Waggoner obtained through fake coded telegrams and cashiers' checks is past recovery, inspectors said, as title to the money has passed to private individuals.

This theory, they said, is based on information given them by Amelia and Margaret Jones, nieces of Waggoner, president of the Bank of Telluride (Colo.) who is under indictment for mail fraud in connection with his financial coup.

Noted Artist Shot to Death on Doorstep

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19. (AP)—Frank Reed Whiteside, 63-year-old Philadelphia landscape artist instructor and author, was shot to death under mysterious circumstances as he stood on the doorstep of his home tonight.

Mr. Whiteside, who was treasurer of the fellowship of the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts and well known in Philadelphia art circles, recently had returned to his home from a seashore resort. His wife and daughter were expected home in a few days.

FENCES TO KEEP CO-EDS AT HOME

No More Keeping Late Hours Via Fire Escapes for Grinnell Girls

GRINNELL (Iowa) Sept. 19. (AP)—Only the high-jumping co-eds will be able to keep late hours at Grinnell College this year.

School officials, mindful of the ease with which girls living in dormitories make use of the fire escapes, have encircled those methods of exit and entrance with picket fences.

Cotton Harvest Crews Sought

YUMA (Ariz.) Sept. 19. (AP)—At an emergency meeting of the Yuma Chamber of Commerce action was taken to petition the Federal immigration authorities to allow 500 Mexicans to enter this country to help harvest the Yuma county cotton crop.

The crop, estimated at 35,000 bales, is ready to pick and there is insufficient labor in the county to harvest it before the crop is ruined.

WARNING GIVEN PETROLEUM MEN

Government Regulation Declared Imminent

Geology Head Speaks at Association Session

Cautions Industry Against Disastrous Freeze-up

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 19. (AP) Addressing the National Petroleum Association here today George O. Smith, director of the United States Geological Survey, declared it was "a question whether you will regulate your own industry or whether the people will take measures to regulate it for you. In the latter case," he said, "the people may take unwise action.

"The people may take measures, producing a freeze-up that would be worse than the present overproduction. It is not the government's business to run your industry, but I don't see how it could be run worse than it has been in some places."

Mr. Smith added, however, that the efforts of the past year had been commendable.

THE MIND AT MISCHIEF

Tricks and Deceptions of the Subconscious And How to Cope With Them

By WILLIAM S. SADLER, M.D., F.A.C.S.

Delving into the occult depths of our own mind is the new adventure. Dr. Sadler, using language which the layman can readily understand, leads us through hitherto unexplored regions of that mysterious world within us, letting us see the "subconscious" in the performance of its good acts and also of its malicious and harmful tricks.

Sex Life	Neuroticism	Repressed Desires
Baffled Love	Melancholia	Complexes
Worries	Telepathy	Hypnotism
Neurasthenia	Hysteria	Spiritualism
Dreams	Dreads	Obsessions

What They Are—How They Affect Us

In her discovered the cause of much imaginary ill-health among women, and of many business failures among men, and tells what methods are used to prevent and cure them.

Dr. Sadler is an authority in this field, drawing upon his twenty-three years of experience as Director of the Chicago Institute of Research and Hygiene for a large number of interesting cases by way of illustration. Aside the author of many books on mental hygiene, Dr. Sadler's "The Mind at Mischief" is his crowning work—an original contribution to psychological science, yet written so that the ordinary reader can get the full benefit of its revelations.

The introductions are by Robert H. Gault, Ph.D., Professor of Psychology at Northwestern University, and Meyer Solomon, Associate in Neurology, Northwestern University Medical College.

"Of Tremendous Personal Help"

Donald H. Laird, Ph.D., Sc.D., Director Colgate Psychological Laboratories: "Many people will find Dr. Sadler's 'The Mind at Mischief' of tremendous personal help, and every one will find it interesting and profitable reading. It is sound, up-to-date, and deals with vital mental and social situations."

THOUGHT-CONTROL IN EVERYDAY LIFE
By James Alexander.

Published several months ago, this book is reaching an increasingly large number of readers weekly and another printing (the 6th) is on its way.

Many readers agree with that eminent citizen and ex-editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, Edward W. Bok, when he says: "It has in it so much that would make thousands more intelligent about themselves, happier, more cheerful and more successful. It is a veritable guide to how thrift—and the path in this case is very easy to tread. Methods are easily understood; methods are clearly expressed; we see results in clear-looking glass. As a so-called 'self-helpful' book, I know of its equal for simplicity and easy understanding."

POPE PROTESTS TO DUCE'S ENVOY

Lengthy Interview Devoted to Discussing Clash

Lay Organization Squabble Still at Peak

Row May Postpone Visit of Royalty to Vatican

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 19. (AP)—Friction between the Holy See and the Fascist government over the status of members of Catholic lay organizations, and the government's attitude toward them, is understood to have been the main topic discussed during a two-hour audience which Pope Pius accorded today to Count De Vecchi, Italian Ambassador to the Vatican.

Recently Premier Mussolini announced that there were 9000 watchers exercising a surveillance over activities of the clergy throughout Italy. This brought a vigorous reply from Pope Pius who denounced distrust aimed against the Catholic organizations for the young.

"POPE WATCHES"

"If many scouts watch over you and over Catholic affairs, you monitors tell the Catholic youth that the Pope watches," the Pontiff told 300 ecclesiastical monitors of the Catholic action organization of Italy last Monday. "Have, therefore, serene confidence and no alarm," he said.

As a preparation to today's lengthy interview, the Pontiff last night gave an audience to Mgr. Borongini Duca, Papal Nuncio to Italy. It is understood that all the ground in the present dispute was gone over thoroughly.

It was remarked in Vatican circles that the present situation may result in postponing the visit of the Italian royal family to the Vatican a long-waited event which had been destined to seal formally the reconciliation of the church and state.

PLANS AUDIENCES

It was expected the Pope again would deal with the subject of Catholic associations during an audience which he will grant Sunday to 10,000 Italian Catholic workmen. He may also dwell on the matter in an audience to be accorded to 10,000 Italian professional men Monday.

He consumed fifteen pounds and four ounces of kraut in ten minutes, dethroning C. M. Lautermilch of Ohio.

To signify his new estate, Schmidt was crowned with a head of cabbage studded with frankfurters.

DEATH PLOT CHARGED BY CANDIDATE

Vasconcelos Says Mexico Government Sanctioned Attempt to Kill Him

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—Scathing charges are made by Jose Vasconcelos, Presidential candidate of the antigovernment Anti-Re-election party in statements issued over his signature and in others from his campaign managers accusing the government with sanctioning an asserted attempt to assassinate Vasconcelos. They charge police at Torreon attacked Vasconcelos and his followers last Tuesday, causing the death of one man and the fatal injury of a woman.

According to the press accounts now replied to by Vasconcelos, the police fired on a group of his followers gathered about him at his hotel in Torreon. He charges the police with having broken up a manifestation in his favor and with otherwise interfering by the use of firearms and force to prevent freedom of action by the Vasconcelistas.

The official version of the incident from Torreon is that the police reserves were called out to preserve order when opponents to Vasconcelos attacked him.

AIR PILOT CAN'T QUIT ARMY DUTY

Flying School Graduate Must Serve Two Years

Shortage of Men Prompts War Department Curb

Move Checks Rush to Take Commercial Jobs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—A shortage of nearly 300 flying officers in the Army Air Corps under the five-year expansion program has caused the War Department to issue regulations requiring graduates of the advanced flying school at Kelly Field, Texas, to remain in service two years.

This departure from the previous practice of permitting graduates either to continue in the military service or enter the commercial field was considered necessary to assure completion of the program, which calls for 1650 regular and 550 reserve officers by June 30, 1932.

The great demand for army-trained aviators in commercial flying and the comparative scarcity of cadets who graduate from the rigid course have brought about an acute situation in the army program at the end of its second year.

In announcing the new policy, the War Department said it had no desire to compete with civilian flying schools in providing pilots for commercial aviation. It also recognizes that the better grade flying schools, patterned after the army schools, will form a great reservoir from which trained pilots may be drawn in event of future wars, and believes they should be given encouragement by the knowledge that their graduates will face no serious competition from flyers who obtained their training at government expense.

The War Department takes the position it should be entitled to some service from graduates after training them, particularly in view of the limited funds provided for this purpose. Under the new regulations cadets will enlist for a period of three years, one of which will be devoted to training at flying schools and the remainder to active duty as regular or reserve officers with the rank of second lieutenant.

FIRE CURB WEEK SET BY HOOVER

Proclamation Fixes Start for October 6, Next

Citizens Called Upon to Lend Aid in Observance

Benefits of Prevention Effort Thus Far Set Forth

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—President Hoover today issued a proclamation recommending the observance of the week of October 6, next, as fire-prevention week.

"It has been the custom for the President of the United States to request the observance of fire-prevention week throughout the nation and to assign the week in which the anniversary of the great Chicago fire occurs for such observance," the proclamation says.

"The fine interest manifested in fire prevention by public officials, business men's organizations, women's clubs, civic organizations and the press already has borne fruit. For two consecutive years fire losses in the United States have been decreased and there are indications of a further reduction during the present year. A further great reduction of this tremendous waste could be effected through the exercise of ordinary care on the part of our citizens.

"Therefore, I, Herbert Hoover, President of the United States, do hereby proclaim the week of October 6 to be observed as fire-prevention week. To each citizen I recommend full co-operation in securing wider understanding of individual responsibility, for it is only through further elimination of human negligence that lasting progress can be attained."

Your Health.. after 40 depends upon the water you drink as much as the food you eat, medical authorities now agree. For health protection, read this important finding.

HEALTH after 40 depends largely upon proper functioning of kidneys. 75% of poisons from the system are excreted by these vital organs. Highest medical authority verifies this.

60% of men and women past 40 show evidence of kidney disorders in some form; often unknown to the persons so afflicted, for there are no warning symptoms.

The reason, say doctors, is this: Kidneys, through constant excretion of waste matter are overworked. Wear and tear begins to show at 40. Congestion occurs, adding further to their burden. Poisons which should be eliminated, are harbored and turned back into the system. It is here that more serious diseases originate.

To combat this prevalent ailment, doctors urge the drinking of a pure, silver-ized water. It acts to dilute concentrated poisons, absorbs and carries them away, without burdening kidneys further with the mineral content of ordinary water. Worn kidneys are thus protected; are given a chance to repair.

Thus, on eminent medical advice, thousands are drinking Puritas. Through scientific distillation, all minerals and impurities are removed. You drink water in its purest state. You'll note its distinctive flavor, and each drink you will enjoy increasingly.

WRIGHT LISTED AS INSTITUTION

Friends Incorporate Errant Chicago Architect

Step Taken to Relieve Him of Diverse Troubles

Plan Will Allow Free Play for Exercise of Talents

CHICAGO, Sept. 19. (Exclusive) Frank Lloyd Wright, internationally famous architect whose remarkable genius and finances have been hampered by his love affairs, has been taken in hand by friends. He now is an institution under a charter—Frank Lloyd Wright, Inc. His business affairs will be handled by the incorporators and Wright may give his talents free play, unhampered by domestic or financial troubles.

This arrangement, it is hoped, will mark the final chapter in a series of tragedies and amours. The first of these developed when Wright, leaving his wife, departed for Europe with Mrs. Mamah Bostwick Cheney, wife of an Oak Park attorney and mother of two children. They toured Europe on a "spiritual hegira" and returned to discover their "hegira" did not meet public approval.

Wright then built Taliesen, the beautiful home in Wisconsin. There, in 1914, a Cuban negro became deranged and set the house afire. As the inmates dashed out, he butchered them with a cleaver, killing Mamah Bostick Cheney and her two children and four others. Taliesen was burned and rebuilt twice after that.

Wright rebuilt Taliesen and opened an art school. Meanwhile he designed the Imperial Hotel in Tokio, one of the few structures that withstood earthquakes. It stands a lasting monument to his genius. During all this time his first wife refused to grant him a divorce, loyally defending his actions. Then Maud Miriam Noel, a sculptress, became his "soul mate" and when his wife finally permitted him to get a divorce, he married Miss Noel in a picturesque ceremony on a bridge in Wisconsin.

Their marital happiness went on the rocks, however, when Wright found another "soul mate" in Miss Olga Milanoff, a Montenegrin dancer, who was installed as a guest at Taliesen. Maud Miriam Wright resented this intrusion and eventually found herself locked out. Then followed her relentless pursuit of the couple to Pennsylvania and other points. The hiding-out process did not give Wright much time to exercise his talents as a designer, but finally his second wife became reconciled to the state of affairs and divorced him in August, 1928. He immediately married Olga Milanoff.

The friends who have incorporated Wright believe he is on the verge of his greatest work. He has invented a method that, it is said, will revolutionize the building of skyscrapers.

It is admitted that he has no idea whatever of the value of money, so his faithful friends hereafter will take care of his financial affairs, leaving him entirely free to dig deeply into architectural problems.

TOWN BOWS TO GEN. BUTLER

Dry Iron Hand of "Devil Dog" Commander to Rule Quantico, and He'll March Marines Back

QUANTICO (Va.) Sept. 19. (AP)—Assured that he will have his way about prohibition enforcement in this little marine post town, Maj.-Gen. Smedley D. Butler is making plans to get out his band and lead back the 2000 leathernecks he took away last Saturday to the consternation of local business men.

Appointed commandant of this famous training base three months ago, the veteran "Devil Dog," who says lack of public co-operation hindered his clean-up of Philadelphia as its borrowed police commissioner, warned Quantico it must choose between the "lawless element" and the marines. Three arrests made by Federal agents didn't satisfy the general. He marched out, and with him went the men who make up 90 per cent of the customers of the town's business and amusement places.

After a hectic week of Council meetings, "calls" on residents careless of conduct, and hasty trips to neighboring municipalities in his new blue roadster to borrow blank warrants, A. E. McInteer, who is both Mayor and railway station master, informed the general that the last "big bootlegger" had left town.

"What about the little ones?" demanded the general.

"We think they're all gone," the Mayor replied.

"Whenever you're sure we'll have a parade. You and I will lead it right into town. And I hope the boys buy a lot of extras to make up for our absence."

With the Mayor at his side, Gen. Butler called out his entire command to explain the situation.

"You birds," he said, planting one foot atop the nearest barracks porch railing, "took an oath some time ago to defend the Constitution. Don't let this news stun you, but the prohibition law is part of it."

His cap slid over to the highly recommended hard-boiled angle. He gave it a push and then the elbow of his right arm came to rest on his knee.

"I understand," he went on, "that there is some difference of opinion among civilians concerning the right and wrong of prohibition. Some of it got into camp, but those on the negative side are in the brig. It's a closed question for the military, and as long as you wear those uniforms, don't get opinionated."

Quantico got too rough for the general when he found one of his highest ranking noncommissioned officers tending bar for the town's biggest bootlegger. There are stories of liquor found in the quarters of two commissioned officers and "too much whoopee" has been ascribed as the indirect cause of five accidental deaths among the enlisted men in the last month.

Town Sergeant Nisson, Quantico's entire civil police force, has found himself confronted with a more than ordinarily troublesome and thankless job, what with trying to make the town safe for marines and others. Nothing but empty bottles has rewarded his search for days, he mourned, cracking another peanut as he sat in the rear of the town pool hall and followed intently the plays in the only surviving card game.

Good Advocates Stupendous Public Works System

Et. Lawrence and Mississippi Projects Indorsed

Navigable Waters Idle Too Long, He Asserts

ALBANY (N. Y.) Sept. 19. (AP)—Complete development of the nation's inland and coastal waterways for transportation purposes was advocated tonight by Secretary Good in an address here before the Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway Association.

Secretary Good outlined a stupendous public works program calling for construction of a deep St. Lawrence River waterway connecting the Great Lakes and the Atlantic, the building of an adequate Great Lakes to Gulf waterway and extension of the navigable channels of the Mississippi and its tributaries to 9000 miles.

Secretary Good's views are in line with President Hoover's known desires to afford cheaper transportation for inland shippers of agricultural and othe. bulk products.

"The improvement of our rivers and harbors as an aid to navigation," he said, "will only be completed when the navigable waters in every part of our country capable of being economically used for navigation have been put to work. They have been idle altogether too long."

MELODIES FROM MANY LANDS

SPIRITED tangos from the Argentine—tuneful barcarolles from Italy—folk songs of Old Erin—sparkling melodies from sunny Spain—strains of Viennese waltzes—soul-stirring songs of France—tunes from Scandinavia—military marches from Germany—love songs from Japan—ballads of Old England—to be heard tonight on Forest Lawn's thirty-sixth musical and interpretative radio broadcast. "Always something new and interesting in a Forest Lawn program."

KHJ - Tonight - 8 to 9

MANY lands have contributed to the beauty of Forest Lawn Memorial-Park. The architecture of the Little Church of the Flowers was inspired by a country church in England. The Wee Kirk o' the Heather, to be dedicated October sixth, duplicates the little church in Scotland where Annie Laurie worshipped, and will contain stones from the original kirk. Denmark contributed the marvelous statue of the smiling Christ that greets every visitor to the Little Church of the Flowers. From Italy is coming the beautiful reproduction in stained glass of Leonardo da Vinci's famous painting of the Last Supper. And from many countries of Europe have come the works in stone and marble of internationally-renowned artists that have made of Forest Lawn a shrine to the beautiful in art, to the truth in eternal life, and to the goodness in human souls. Forest Lawn Memorial-Park is open to visitors daily from seven in the morning to five o'clock in the afternoon.

A beautifully illustrated Art Book, "Chimes," descriptive of the works of art in Forest Lawn, may be obtained by sending 25 cents to partially cover printing cost. A very frank booklet, "The Truth About Burial Customs and Costs," will be sent free on request.

Teeth decay

Pyorrhea gets its start unless you act

Ordinary ways fail in removing FILM

Employ this special method known to millions

GERMS cause tooth decay. Germs plus tartar are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Virtually every common disease of teeth and gums results from germ infection.

There is but one way known to fight germs and safeguard teeth and gums. You must remove a slippery, stubborn film that glues bacteria to the tooth's enamel. Film forms in crevices and clings so tenaciously that ordinary brushing fails to remove it successfully.

Today dentists are urging patients by the millions to turn from other ways to the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent. It acts in an utterly different way — you will note the difference from ordinary tooth pastes the instant it touches your teeth—first it curdles film and REMOVES IT SAFELY. No gritty, harmful grit or crude abrasive, but a scientific action that recommends it for sensitive teeth and gums.

No other way can make teeth so white—nor give such protection. Mail for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago.

DRAMATIC STORY of the $6,000,000 BREAD

How the famous slo-baked Wonder Bread was developed by the Continental Baking Company after two years' intensive research. Why it has swept to quick success in all parts of America

Above is shown a scene in a Continental bakery. Here trained food bakers watch over the mixing and kneading of the dough and then carefully Slo-bake every loaf as told below.

This advertisement describes for you a new ...dy better bread. $5,094,000 was spent on ... and equipment alone before it was placed ... market. More than $1,000,000 extra is spent ... to provide ingredients of super quality.

...ory of its development at ... six million dollars reads ...

... Continental officials de- ...ce a national bread. ...t bread, worthy to be ... coast to coast.

To accomplish this a group of bread experts were called together.

Every modern aid was placed at their command. They were directed to spare neither effort nor expense to achieve their goal.

First they studied all the popular brands. They noted their advantages — and observed the features that were lacking.

They experimented with flour from all parts of the country. They sought ingredients with maximum dietetic value.

Develop remarkable recipe

At last after tedious months of effort they developed a remarkable recipe.

It calls for specially milled short patent flour, made only from the most nutritious part of the wheat, the very heart of the wheat berry. Spring wheat from the Northwest is carefully blended with the famous hard winter wheat from the grain belt of the Southwest.

Double the usual milk content is used. And that milk must be pasteurized.

The sugar tests 99.7% and the salt 99.6% pure. The very highest grade!

Please Make This Amazing Toast Test

Here's a test that quickly proves the goodness of Wonder Bread. Take a slice of this slo-baked bread and a slice of any ordinary bread. Toast both. Then compare them. The Wonder Bread toast will be browned evenly. The other slice will be only partially browned. This test will astonish you. Just try it!

But even with this recipe something was lacking. The bread seemed dainty and delicious enough. And yet even then these men were not satisfied.

A special method of baking

It was then that they discovered a special method of baking. They would slo-bake this bread. A process designed to form a delicate crisp and firm crust. Also to seal in the delicious nut-like flavor of the wheat and prolong the freshness.

Their entire baking experience went into this supreme effort.

A delicate oven adjustment. The final trial. A notation. SUCCESS!

And thus, Madam, two years ago America's Wonder Bread was created. Thus many months of painstaking labor were finally crowned with success.

Here's a typical store scene soon after Wonder Bread was announced. It was amazing to us, even, how quickly women took to this slo-baked bread. Once they try one loaf they just laugh at the idea of ordinary brands.

Every loaf sams high standard

The development of Wonder Bread had been a mighty problem.

But unless the original goodness of that first scientifically perfect loaf could be duplicated millions of times a day, these months and months of tedious effort would be spent in vain.

So six million dollars was spent to put Wonder Bread on your table! New modern equipment was purchased. Bakeries were altered or enlarged to accommodate the new scientific baking devices. The vast sum of $5,094,000 was spent for this purpose alone. But that was not all.

Every housewife knows that modern baking equipment alone will not produce good bread. Of equal importance is the ingredients of which the loaf is made.

To make every loaf of Wonder Bread up to our original standard, over a million dollars extra must be spent each year for the purchase of specially milled short patent flour and other quality ingredients which the Wonder Bread recipe demands. Only ingredients of extra quality are used in Wonder Bread. It is this extra quality that costs over a million dollars each year.

Thus, Madam, do we guarantee to twenty-five million Americans a truly amazing loaf of bread.

Why it builds health

A careful analysis soon established Wonder Bread as the cheapest and most efficient energy food you can buy.

Every loaf is packed with more than 1100 calories. Hence Wonder Bread largely supplies the necessary energy needed by the human body.

It provides, in addition, 60% of all the protein needed by your body. Protein, as you know, is the food element that replaces worn-out body tissues.

It contains, in addition, calcium and phosphate, which are so essential in the hardening of the bones and teeth of growing children.

Hence, Madam, Wonder Bread fosters family health amazingly. It offers in correct proportions the very elements needed to promote sturdy bodies and active minds.

Little wonder dietitians urge mothers for their children's sake to accept no other brand.

Today a sweeping success

As its advantages became known, Wonder Bread has swept to quick success. Women by the millions have been won to its use. Many from brands they have favored for years.

Today it is sold by grocers from coast to coast. It is acclaimed as the Nation's Wonder Bread.

The total cost involved in offering this bread to housewives staggers the imagination. The months of research that preceded the actual discovery plus the expenditures for new bakeries and special ovens and ingredients of extra quality amount to $6,094,000.

And yet in our opinion this is a modest price to pay for the remarkable health benefits this delicious bread offers the American people.

So obtain a loaf today at your grocer's. Observe its advantages.

Note how firm and tender it is. How smoothly and easily it slices. How fragrantly fresh it is to begin with. And how long it keeps that original freshness. You'll be delighted and amazed.

A Dainty Sandwich Guests All Praise

By Alice Adams Proctor

Let me describe for you this week what many women consider one of my most successful sandwiches.

It is selected from my new famous sandwich booklet that many women have found so useful.

I call it my "Topless Sandwich."

Bacon Sandwich, Russian Style

Slices of bread (as many as needed). Toast on one side only. Spread untoasted side with butter. Cover with sliced uncooked and skinned tomatoes. Arrange three strips of uncooked bacon across each sandwich. Place a thin layer of cheese on top. Sprinkle with paprika. Set in hot baking oven till bacon curls and edges are browned. Serve at once on warm doily, with ripe olives.

These sandwiches may be cut in circles for more dainty service, or the crusts may be left on and the sandwich provide a hearty course.

This, as I told you, is but one of many new recipes I have prepared. Your name and address brings you my "Wonder Sandwich Booklet." It's free. The coupon below is for your convenience.

Only this one word of warning. Attempt none of these sandwiches without Wonder Bread. This is highly important.

Wonder Bread, you see, slices easily and firmly. You can cut it delightfully thin. And, of course, its remarkable flavor adds immeasurably to the taste of the sandwich self.

MRS. BROWN Discovers WONDER BREAD . . . . Described in Pictures

...OWN ABOVE SHOWS TYPICAL BACK-...ORE. Women who try Wonder ... just can't keep the good news to ... Here's one neighbor telling ... that any one who buys ordinary ... than Wonder Bread is available is ... herself. You'll say the same thing.

HERE'S MRS. BROWN AT HER GROCER'S. Does he approve of Wonder? Just look at the expression on his face as he tells Mrs. Brown how Wonder Bread comes to his store fresh every morning and afternoon. Perhaps that's one reason why so many women now refuse to buy ordinary brands.

JUST LOOK AT THESE HAPPY FACES! Mr. Brown is pretty particular about his toast. But one look at him shows there's no complaint this time. Wonder Bread, you see, slices nice and thin. And the slo-baking we give it makes it toast more evenly than any other bread you can buy. The toast test shown in the oval above proves Wonder the finest bread you can buy.

LOOK LIKE JACK DEMPSEY? No, it's just Mr. Brown again, showing his little son how Wonder Bread will make him big and strong. This slo-baked bread is packed with vital food elements for growth and energy. It contains calcium, and phosphates, too, to harden teeth and strengthen growing bones.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

BEATING MAKES JAILER ERRATIC

Officer Clubbed by George Zehr Wanders in Daze

Motorist Finds Him Clad in Pajamas and Blanket

Injured Man Makes Leap from Hospital Window

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 13.—Clad only in his pajamas and with a blanket thrown about his body, R. B. McPherson, jailer who was clubbed in the City Jail Tuesday morning by George Zehr, 41 years of age, escaped from the San Diego Hospital and Clinic and was found wandering about the streets in a dazed condition today.

A passing motorist found the officer at Ninth and G streets and took him to the Police Emergency Hospital. Confused mentally and suffering from hallucinations, induced by the beating he received, McPherson said he escaped from his ward by leaping out of a window.

After a consultation of physicians, McPherson was removed to Mercy Hospital. Attendants announced today that McPherson still is mentally confused, but that his general condition was improving.

In the meantime, George Zehr, Jr., 7-year-old boy, victim of a brutal beating administered by his father, was fighting gamely for his life in Mercy Hospital. Attendants announced his condition as being slightly improved. Doctors give him a fair chance for recovery although he is still far from being out of danger.

Zehr, accused formally of beating his son, is in the County Jail awaiting hearing. His bond has been set at $20,000.

Police are awaiting a comprehensive report from Dr. Little, county alienist, regarding the mental condition of Zehr, Sr., before asking additional charges against him. Acting Chief of Police James Patrick announced.

A formal charge of attacking McPherson has not been asked by police, but will be forthcoming as soon as a complete diagnosis of Zehr's mental condition is made known by Little.

San Bernardino W.C.T.U. Urges Wine Tonic Curb

REDLANDS, Sept. 13.—The members of the W.C.T.U. of San Bernardino county are very much opposed to the sale of wine tonics and bitters in the county and at the annual meeting passed a resolution urging the county Supervisors to take steps to curb the sale of the wine tonics.

Speakers in urging the resolution stated that most of the young people who are drinking today are drinking the wine tonics which can be purchased in drug stores, in grocery stores and in many other places. The resolution adopted says:

"Whereas San Bernardino county has repeatedly voted dry by a large majority.

"Whereas we believe that the majority who so voted desire the law enforced; and,

"Whereas, the so-called wine tonics and bitters contain a large percentage of alcohol and are, we believe, a bold attempt to defeat the dry law and are used for beverage purposes and for the sole purpose of making the consumer drunk; and

"Whereas they are a distinct menace to all and particularly our young people; be it

"Resolved, that a committee be appointed by this convention to wait upon our Supervisors and ask that immediate action be taken to curb the sale of all such so-called tonics and bitters in the county."

SOUTH GATE TO HAVE ZONING ORDINANCE

SOUTH GATE, Sept. 13.—Within the next four weeks South Gate will have its new zoning and setback ordinance in effect, final reading having already been given the new city law which zones the municipality into business, manufacturing and residential districts. Only one important change has been made in the ordinance and this was in a section on the west side of Bright Road, between Tweedy-Abbott Road and Pendleton street, which was changed from business to residential.

The local planning and zoning commission was assisted in its work by Gordon Whitnall, director of the Los Angeles planning and zoning department, and is said to be the last word in city zoning. The ordinance and map will probably be placed on exhibition at the annual convention of the California League of Municipalities, which meets October 7 to 11 in Oakland.

PIER TO BE MADE WIDER

Ventura Concern Announces Improvement to Facilitate Unloading Lumber Craft and Loading Tankers

VENTURA, Sept. 13.—The Ventura Wharf and Warehouse Company has made extensive plans for widening its pier so as to facilitate the unloading of lumber boats and the loading of tankers.

The pier is to be made fifteen feet wider on each side from the ocean end for a distance of 300 feet toward the shore. When the work is completed, the wharf will be eighty feet wide for a distance of 300 feet from the ocean end. Cost of the project has been estimated by company officials at $10,000.

The material, which comes from Oregon, will probably arrive within a month, and the construction of the addition will cover a period of about six weeks. The company will do its own work, and will start at the farther end of the wharf first, working back toward the "bridge," which is thirty feet wide and is not to be altered.

The object in widening the pier is to make it possible for tankers to be filled from one large hose composed of 300-foot lengths coming direct from the pipe lines on the land, instead of from individual lines of hose from different places on the pier, as done at present. This will make loading a much simpler and quicker operation, and is expected to reduce operating expenses.

TWO PILOTS REACH FIVE MILE HEIGHT

Rockwell Field Flyers at 25,000-Foot Altitude for Machine-gun Tests

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 13.—Two Rockwell Field flyers climbed to an altitude of five miles above San Diego today, and there engaged in a series of maneuvers to test machine-gun fire and fuel consumption under service conditions at an altitude of 25,000 feet, according to report at the office of Maj. Albert Stiesd, commanding Rockwell Field. The flight was made by Lieut. K. J. Gregg, operations officer, Ninety-fifth Pursuit Squadron, and Lieut. I. A. Woodring, famous as one of the Army's former "Three Musketeers of the Air."

Before going aloft, Gregg and Woodring donned heavy leather hair-lined flying suits and wool-lined moccasins, and equipped themselves with oxygen tanks. At an altitude of nearly five miles above the city, they struck temperatures below freezing and reported they were chilly, despite the heavy clothing.

The altitude test was made in two army Boeing P-12 pursuit planes, with motors equipped with special altitude adjustments and built to maneuver several miles aloft. Today's tests were in the nature of a survey before staring an entire squadron to maneuvering at an altitude of 25,000 feet, scheduled on the winter program for Rockwell Field air activities.

Clover Field in Fine Condition

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 13.—A remote-controlled flood-lighting system, which can be turned on from the hangars when a plane approaches the landing field; an additional windsock equipped with lights so that approaching pilots can tell the wind direction at night and study the best landing approach, and additional boundary lights have been installed at Clover Field, this city's municipal airport.

Mayor Herman Michel declared today that the field as it now stands, with the runway completely oiled and the city hangars embodying every late innovation, has been pronounced one of the best in the entire country by aviators. The completed lighting system was ready today for service.

Lieut. Duff Willson, manager of the airport, stated the wires at the eastern end of the field are to be placed in conduits underground, completing the last of the improvements projected by the municipality when Clover Field was purchased through a bond issue voted by the citizens of Santa Monica.

HIGH SCHOOL BREAKS ENROLLMENT RECORD

VAN NUYS, Sept. 13.—Student registration at the Van Nuys High School has broken all records, according to Principal J. P. Inglis. There are now 1162 pupils enrolled. The largest previous enrollment was 1087 in 1927. When the North Hollywood High School was completed in 1923, Van Nuys lost a number of pupils which were transferred to the new school. This year's figures show the steady growth of the immediate Van Nuys community. There are nearly 900 enrolled at the Van Nuys Elementary School on Gilmore street. Other smaller grade schools in this area show increases in enrollments.

TWEEDY BOULEVARD CONTRACT AWARDED

SOUTH GATE, Sept. 13.—George H. Oswald of Los Angeles has been awarded the contract for the paving of Tweedy Boulevard, between Alameda street and Atlantic avenue, which is a two-mile stretch of highway, the paving to be forty feet in width and of cement concrete.

The estimated total cost of the contract is given as $216,028.39. Work is to be started on this improvement about the first of October. The county recently appropriated $43,000 to aid in the cost of this improvement.

FOSTER CURRY INJURED

Well-Known Resort Manager Victim of Automobile Accident

UPLAND, Sept. 13.—Foster Curry, manager of Camp Baldy in San Antonio Canyon, and formerly owner of Camp Curry in Yosemite National Park, was a patient at San Antonio Community Hospital today, where he was taken after his automobile had left the steep grade in San Antonio Canyon, plunged into a telephone pole and turned over.

Curry was thrown clear of the wreck as the car hurtled over, and received cuts about the face and head, injured ribs and undetermined internal injuries.

Curry told Officer C. S. Lehman of Upland Police Department that he was hurrying down the canyon to overtake Mrs. Curry, who was preceding him in another machine. When the car struck soft dirt he was unable to swing it back into the highway, he said, and it went over the bank. How long Curry had lain at the scene of the wreck in an unconscious condition was not known.

Earlier in the day Curry and John Doe Kane, employed at the camp, were named defendants in a battery complaint filed in Judge George R. Crane's court, Upland, by Ben Orear, who until a short time ago was a waiter at Camp Baldy resort.

In his complaint, Orear charges Curry and Kane with attacking him Tuesday night following an argument over tips given by ministers at a Baptist convention at the camp.

Orear said he spent Wednesday under care of a physician and was unable to file the complaint until today. He said Mrs. Kane, a kitchen worker, attempted to secure a share of the tips, and Orear said she was not entitled to them.

In the ensuing argument Curry and Kane chose to battle him, Orear said.

"SWEETHEART" CONTEST LIVELY

Young Women Vie for Fair Honors

Edna Aselin Enters Race From Los Angeles

Winner in spirited competition will be crowned queen of Southern California Fair which opens at Riverside on the 24th inst. Many cities enter young women in hope of winning regal title in annual event.

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 13.—Never in the history of Southland fairs has an event of such magnitude and general interest been planned as that of the "sweetheart" contest now being conducted in connection with the Southern California Fair, which opens at Riverside the 24th inst., it is said. Recent entries include two Los Angeles girls, Edna Aselin and Madonna Aselin, and other entries are Elia Virginia Hancock and Clara Belle Bagwell, Riverside; Harriet Roberts, San Jacinto; Lucille Mitchell, Orange; Evaline George, Coachella; Margaret Heffner, San Bernardino; Dorothy Garner, Highgrove. Sweetheart girls of Elsinore and Venice will be chosen this week, it is understood, and many other entries will be sent to the big contest scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, the opening day. Five judges have been chosen to decide the winner of the contest, and the lucky girl will reign as queen of the Southern California Fair throughout its duration and will receive a magnificent gift as a reward for her beauty and culture, directors state.

Fair headquarters reports that total entries received to date are in excess of 100,000, making the forthcoming Southern California Fair the biggest of all time. Directors are particularly elated over the fact that entries indicate the widespread fame and popularity of the event, as exhibits will be shown from Canada, Washington, Oregon, Utah, Arizona, Kansas, Florida, New York and Mexico, in addition to the thousands of entries from Southern California. Much interest will center aroumud the exhibit to be put on by Mexico through the co-operation of Senor Marte R. Gomez, Minister of Agriculture. The Southern California Fair is the only fair, with the exception of the Sacramento fair, showing this splendid exhibit. Martinez Negrete, assistant Secretary of Agriculture for Mexico, will be at Riverside and will personally superintend the exhibit, it is stated.

In addition to the horse races which will bring together in competition some of the fastest horses in the country, directors announce that spectacular chariot races are scheduled for every afternoon of the fair.

Entries in the educational division of the fair are so large that workmen are now contructing an annex to provide sufficient space, directors announce.

Bathtub Full of Beer Seized

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 13.—One of the largest seizures of beer and brewing equipment ever taken in Santa Barbara in a police raid was made last night when Detective-Lieutenant Cox and Detective Hauan broke into a house at 111½ East Montecito street, and found a fifty-gallon barrel, a twenty-gallon crock, 324 bottles of beer, a bath tub near by full of beer, and equipment for labeling and capping bottles.

The house was equipped for brewing purposes, containing several barrels placed at vantage points, three rubber tubes attached to water pipes and vats together with a large supply of malt, hops and other material used in brewing. It required three automobiles to remove the contraband to police headquarters.

VAN NUYS TO START LAYING SIDEWALKS

VAN NUYS, Sept. 13.—Work on the laying of sidewalks on all streets in Van Nuys townsite where such improvements have not been installed, is to start at once following awarding of contract at $48,250 to John Papas by the Board of Public Works.

More than 280,000 square feet of sidewalk are to be laid, not including curbs and guttering. The work is to be done by the city and the bills later sent to property owners who have failed to do the work by private contract.

DOGS, WATCH YOUR STEP!

Canines Warned by Inglewood Postmaster of Penalty Accruing to Those Who Seek to Sharpen Teeth on Legs Encased in Postoffice Uniform

INGLEWOOD, Sept. 13.—Dogs, it seems, must hereafter sharpen their teeth on legs which are not incased in postoffice blue-gray. The Postoffice Department says so.

"Uncle Sam is getting tired of having his mail carriers chewed up by dogs, and has taken a most effective method of stopping the nuisance," it was said today by Postmaster Fred E. Laxdal.

"In times past it was the privilege of the family dog to take a bit out of the carrier when he came around with the first-of-the-month bills, and nothing was done about it unless said dog had already sampled two or three other people and these nips were a matter of record, as it were.

"Under the new policy, the owner of the dog has the pleasure of paying the doctor bill and any other expenses that may accrue," said the Inglewood postmaster, "and there isn't any 'maybe' about it. The first step is a polite request to come across, and if that has no effect, there is the Department of Justice ready to bring suit in the courts."

ANAHEIM FIRST AT FAIR

Annual Los Angeles County Exposition Awards Palm to Most Artistic Display in Decoration Motif

POMONA, Sept. 13. (AP)—Anaheim today was awarded the Los Angeles County Fair first prize for the most artistic design in an exhibit carrying but the motif of the fair. The exhibit consisted principally of a display of Valencia oranges, supplemented with grapes, and staged in an oriental setting featured by camels and an oriental sedan chair.

POMONA, Sept. 13.—Thirty thousand visitors passed through the turnstiles at the Los Angeles County Fair today, overflowing through the exhibit tents, filling the grand stands for the matinee horse races in the afternoon, while all available parking space, both inside and outside of the fair grounds, was taken. The largest audience of all time filed back into the grand stands for the night horse show, which continued to thrill spectators by the performance of the show horses, and to dazzle with its beauty of setting.

Today was All-Clubs Day with the following cities and towns being especially represented by large delegations: San Bernardino Redlands, Colton, Victorville, Barstow, Etiwanda, Cucamonga, Elsinore, Highlands, Montebello, Maywood, Huntington Park, South Gate, Downey, Belvedere Gardens, Temple City and Glendora. The San Bernardino and Montebello Boys' Band came with their respective delegations and furnished music throughout the day.

Six races, three harness and three running, starting promptly at 1:30 p.m., were especially thrilling, while various vaudeville acts interspersed between heats, kept the large crowd doubly interested.

JUDGING STILL CONTINUES

Judging in many departments has been completed, but much yet remains to be done in this line due to the hundreds of entries in all departments, which has made this year's task a tedious one for the seventy-five judges who will have awarded $75,000 in premiums before the end of the week. The following awards were announced this morning: County feature division—Ventura, first; Orange, second; San Joaquin, third; El Dorado, fourth; Mendocino, fifth, and Lassen, sixth. Chino won first award in the community agricultural division, with Escondido, second; Anaheim, third; La Verne, fourth; Claremont, fifth; Downey, sixth. In the community non-agricultural class, Antelope Valley was first; El Monte, second; Glendora, third, and Azusa, fourth, while the Ontario Chamber of Commerce took first in citrus features and the La Verne Co-operative Orange and Lemon Association took honors for the best forty boxes of Valencias.

Wednesday night's horse show brought a large delegation of Southern California horse fanciers and celebrities to the grand stands, the various events being handled very smoothly, with honors fairly well distributed among the various entrants.

THIS IS GOVERNOR'S DAY

Friday has been named as Governor's Day. Gov. C. C. Young, his secretary, Keith Carlin, and many other State notables, will be received at the fair grounds by local city, Chamber of Commerce and fair officials besides other prominent valley residents. The Sixth District Agricultural Association and service clubs, will also be honored with the following cities especially invited to participate: San Diego, Escondido, Riverside, Yucaipa, Bloomington, Banning, Beaumont, Corona, Norco, Fallbrook, Oceanside, Laguna Vista, Blythe, Mecca, Brawley, El Centro, Indio, Calexico and Holtville.

PIONEER OF GARDENA LAID TO FINAL REST

GARDENA, Sept. 13. — Funeral services were conducted here this morning for E. C. Haskin, 81 years of age, whose death on Monday night marked the passing of still another of the early pioneers of this district. For fifty-five consecutive years Haskin had made his home here on his ranch at 814 East Olive street since the days in which there were scarcely any settlements in this section. He leaves his widow, two nephews, Clare and Ralph Haskin, and a niece, Mrs. Leslie Soll, who are living here.

Services were from the W. J. Whittington chapel and interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Montecito Vote Bans Business on Coast Road

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 13.—By an overwhelming vote of 43 to 5, residents of Montecito in a public hearing on a petition to rezone a portion of the Coast Highway for business, last night went on record as opposed to any change in the zoning ordinance. The meeting was held in the Montecito Community Hall.

The petition, signed by four property owners along the Coast Highway from Olive Mill Road in an easterly direction for 1000 feet, asking the change in the ordinance, was read by L. Deming Tilton, county planning director. The property owners asked that the restrictions on their lands be changed from residence to business.

Considerable discussion by attorneys representing the property owners, the property owners themselves and other Montecito residents, followed the reading of the petition. Attorney Stuart Smith, representing Mrs. E. L. Olsen, spoke for rezoning of the property, declaring that in five years all of the Coast Highway through Montecito would have to be used for business purposes.

Howard Chatfield Taylor, wealthy resident, questioned the attorney's statements and declared such a change would ruin Montecito. "If too much business creeps in along the Coast Highway, it will mean the ruination of Montecito as a home community," he stated. "It will mean many of us will have to move out and away."

HUNT FRUITLESS FOR CHILD BITTEN BY DOG

MANHATTAN BEACH, Sept. 13. Efforts of district health officers to get in touch with the unidentified child who was bitten by a rabid dog here on Sunday afternoon in order that the Pasteur treatment may be given were still fruitless today, despite widespread reports of the attack.

According to Dr. J. P. Smiley, district health officer, the time in which the treatment should be given if infection is to be avoided is growing short, as the dog has been found to have been in an advanced stage of rabies, and further delay may make the case hard to combat. The attack occurred near the center street pier here on Sunday afternoon. Police officers who caught and killed the dog did not learn the identity of the victim.

VAN NUYS TO HAVE RICHFIELD PLANT

VAN NUYS, Sept. 13.—Van Nuys is to be valley headquarters of the Richfield plant, following the recent merger of the Pan-American and Richfield Oil companies, it is announced today. The new management means the bringing of fifteen more workers here. The plant will make Van Nuys the distributing center of Richfield gas and oil in San Fernando Valley and in the Newhall and Saugus territory.

BODY OF H. C. COATES IS TO BE CREMATED

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 13. The body of Henry C. Coates, brother of the publisher of the North Hollywood Sun, who died here suddenly, will be cremated in Hollywood Cemetery tomorrow. He was talking to his brother, David Coates, when he fell lifeless as the result of a heart attack.

DRESS REFORM PARADE

Sweating Manhood to Stage Event in Effort to Create New Styles for Men

LONG BEACH, Sept. 13. (AP)—To save perspiring manhood from the sweltering heat of summer while the fairer sex clads itself in filmy gowns, a thousand Sciots of Long Beach Pyramid No. 43 have canvassed the countryside to stage a dress reform for men parade here on the 21st inst.

Males with pertinent ideas for escape from the sun's rays are expected to present their conceptions for a better and cooler summer attire.

The purpose of the parade, a wholly serious affair, was described by E. J. Del Porte, Long Beach Sciot and business man:

"What we hope to accomplish is not to induce men to wear pajamas for street dress, but to induce manufacturers of men's attire to originate, design and market in a large way some more sensible hot weather garments for men.

"No restrictions are placed on entrants in the parade except those of decency. The paraders must design and provide a suit and the most logical ensemble will receive a first prize of $200."

The Sciots point out that the average weight of a woman's street clothing is about one pound six ounces, including shoes. A man, they say, is incumbered with an average of six and three-quarters pounds.

Mayor Oscar Hauge has issued a proclamation for the day: "I would be a real optimist if I had the slightest hope of making any important change in men's dress soon," he said. "Long Beach will attempt to start a movement to rid us of heavy clothing, and we invite everyone interested to visit us and parade on that date."

LINE CLEANED OF CLEAN CLOTHES

Thief Aids Ontario Woman In Making It a Perfect Cleaning Day

ONTARIO, Sept. 13.—Mrs. W. H. Eckles, 236 Miramonte street, scanned the skies and decided it was a good day for washing. A thief happened along at the same time, scanned the Eckles home and was of the opinion it was a good day for a cleaning.

Mrs. Eckles put the family washing through the tub and when clean took them to the yard to hang them. The front door stood open and the thief walked in and cleaned the house of all the cash he could find.

It was an expensive morning of cleaning, Mrs. Eckles told police.

FACULTY TO HAVE TEN ADDITIONS

Pomona College Newcomer on Educational Staff to be Introduced Today

CLAREMONT, Sept. 13.—Ten new members of the staff at Pomona College will be introduced by President C. K. Edmunds at the convocation marking the opening of school on Friday.

Coming here from San Diego with a noted record, Gertrude Palmer Cleverdon will act as assistant to the president. Mrs. Cleverdon took over her new office August 1.

As associate professor of Spanish, James W. Crowell joins the college faculty after six years of service in the Spanish department of Colorado College.

The new dormitory for men which opened this year will have as administrator Mrs. Edna Prescott Davis, who for sixteen years directed the dormitories in the University of Oregon.

A. Murray Fowler has been appointed as instructor in English. Fowler, who is from South Africa, received his A.B. degree from the University of Minnesota.

There will be two additions in the Pomona College music department with the appointment of Ellen Haury as instructor in voice, and Frederick Tipping as piano teacher. Both of these new faculty members have achieved much in the field of music.

Joseph W. Hawthorne has been appointed to the psychology department of the college. Hawthorne has been for the past year a teaching fellow at the University of Chicago.

The Claremont Inn and the women's dining hall are to be directed by Miss Ruby Hutchinson, new appointee, who joins the staff after five years as dormitory manager and dietitian for the Normal School at Ellensburg, Wash.

Dr. Theodore G. Kennard, Pomona, '23, has been chosen chemistry teacher at Pomona, while another alumnus, Dr. Walter T. Whitney, comes here as an addition to the astronomy department. Dr. Whitney, a Ph.D., from the University of Chicago, has for the last twelve years served the California Institute of Technology.

Friday's convocation marks the opening of the forty-second year of existence for Pomona College. In 1888 first classes were held in a rented private house in Pomona with a faculty of six. Today Pomona College has an extensive campus in Claremont with a faculty of eighty-five. A new men's dormitory, which has just been completed, fills a long-felt want.

COURT TAKES AIR WITH PILOT OF DEATH PLANE

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—Magistrate Healy decided today to hold court in the air to determine the culpability of a pilot who landed in the surf at Coney Island ten days ago, killing tow children and injuring a dozen other persons.

William H. Alexander, the pilot, appeared in Homicide Court, in Brooklyn today to answer to a charge that the deaths had been caused by his negligence. His defense was that when he saw the bathers as he was going down he "kicked the stick," but the seaplane failed to rise as it should have done, plunged into the surf, ran up on the beach and overturned.

Magistrate Healy asked to be told about the operation of "kicking the stick," and after a long technical description decided that he would have to see it done to understand. He thereupon ordered that the same plane that figured in the accident be prepared for a take-off and arranged to go aloft with the defendant and his counsel, Asst. District Atty. Eho and a court stenographer, Alexander himself to be at the controls.

Magistrate Healy sat in the front seat. Alexander brought his plane down on the water just beyond the breakers at Coney, showing the judge that at the reduced speed necessary for alighting the rudder was not quickly effective if a sudden turn in the air was desired.

The court session in the air lasted half an hour. The judge then reserving decision until next Thursday.

driver or the laboring men were aware of the peril, it was reported.

Bruce, caught between the two vehicles, was killed instantly. He was rushed to the Emergency Hospital but was pronounced dead by Dr. S. C. Long.

W. L. Lawrence, 1208 California avenue, employee of the F. D. Smith automobile agency, was knocked unconscious in the crash. He received treatment at the hospital and was taken to his home later.

The other five men, who were not injured, are James McBride, Harry Keefe and T. P. Sheedens, employees of the Santa Fe Railroad Company, and John Brown and R. L. Reinett, employees of the Southern Pacific Company.

New Arrests in Liquor Scandal at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Stanley Hale and Clive F. Wayland, Public Relations counselors, and A. P. Dessureault, all well known in this city, were arrested late this afternoon by Federal agents as they came from the county grand jury room and will be arraigned tomorrow on a charge of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law.

The arrest followed county grand jury investigation of the "liquor-fixing" scandal that broke here a few weeks ago at the time of the American Legion State convention. One of five bootleggers arrested at that time declared that $2000 had been paid for "protection" following police seizure of $2700 worth of liquor in one raid and $70,000 worth in a second seizure. In this connection the three men arrested today were called as witnesses in a grand jury investigation of the asserted protection arrangement.

NEW BANK SEEN AS STABILIZER

Experts Scout Criticism of Reparations Institution

Economic Benefits Expected With Its Establishment

Operation Also Likely to Aid Exchange Equalization

This is the fifth of the articles describing the plan of operations of the Bank for International Settlements to be formed to facilitate the working of the Young Reparations Plan and the payment of international war debts.

BY WILLIAM H. FORT

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Daily News and the North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (Exclusive) The criticism has been made that the proposed bank for international settlements, in the widening development of its operations and its constantly growing power as a world economic force, well might have a detrimental effect on the economic machinery of the world.

However, as explained by men who have made a close study of the bank, the effect of its operations on world exchange should be just the opposite. Instead of creating economic disturbance, there is every reason to believe the bank will have a stabilizing effect.

Faced by the duty of transferring across the international frontiers such vast sums as are necessary in the payment of reparations, the bank must regard as the primary consideration the completion of the payments in such a manner as not to disrupt foreign exchange unduly, and not to upset normal economic movements.

EXPERTS' SOLUTION

The logical and the easiest way of doing this, it "as decided by the reparations experts, is to mobilize the "paying machinery" in one central place, and to put upon one group of men the responsibility of handling the reparations payments with as little disturbance as possible.

At best it will not be an easy matter. In these reparations payments, values do not pass mutually as in commerce. It is one thing, as an international merchant pointed out, to ship wheat into Germany and take out marks in payment. It is another and more difficult thing to take out marks without first shipping in the wheat.

Being the one central agency for the collection of reparations and the distribution of the payments, the bank for international settlements will be in position to take advantage of slight movements of exchange for the benefit of all concerned. The international character of the directing body of the bank will assure discretion in the purchase of foreign exchange. This institution will make no drive against any exchange when it is weak, to weaken it further for the purpose of profit to any one. If the exchange of a given country is weak the bank will not seek to put further strain upon it.

EQUALIZING AGENCY

On the other hand, if the exchange of any country is strong, the international bank can aid in maintaining that position. Thus it should provide an equalizing agency which will prevent undue strain on the exchange of any country.

"This bank could not possibly disturb the economic machinery of the world," one prominent international financier asserts. "That would be impossible. The very nature of the bank's formation and its duties makes it so.

"There is an erroneous impression that the reparations bank will do business, hit or miss, with various individual banks. If that were true, one might conceive that some economic upset would evolve. But that possibility has been guarded against.

"It is the intention of the originators of the international bank that it be allowed to function only through the central banks of the nations concerned, and that, within these nations, the negotiations be controlled by the central banks.

AID TO CREDIT

"With the central banks in complete control, the international bank would be powerless so far as doing any country any injury is concerned. Not only is the international bank the only insurer of German reparations payments, but it will tend also to improve the credit of all the countries concerned with it."

Under the plan of operation specified in the Young agreement, the governor or head of every central bank of the nations concerned, or his representative, is ex-officio a director of the reparations bank along with other directors appointed, not through political influence, but by the central bankers.

The duties of the directors are well defined and well limited. All banking operations conducted by the Bank for International Settlements must be through the central banks. In other words, the founding of the International Bank simply creates another piece of banking machinery with world-wide scope, but its sphere of influence is limited and its operation is intended primarily to simplify the handling of reparations payments.

SERVANT INSTITUTION

Instead of being a super-bank, as its critics object, it will be a servant bank. Controlled entirely by the world's central bankers, it will conform necessarily to the wishes of the central banks and accomplish such tasks as are laid out for it by the central bankers.

"One of the results hoped for from the bank's establishment," it is explained, "is the engendering of international confidence. When we get to a point where the world's nations have mutual confidence we shall see a great economic development.

"If the economic development of the world progresses as rapidly as there is reason to think it should, the handling of reparations payments by this new agency soon will become a simple matter of book entries and of no more public interest than is aroused by the transfer of several millions of dollars from one bank to another in New York or Chicago.

"It was recognized by the bank's organizers that this is not a static world. In this age of great economic development in all corners of the world it is expected that Germany's advance will be equal to that of other nations. Given the normal growth which is looked for, it seems reasonable to suppose that, with the international bank as an assuring factor, future payments which seem large at present can be met and met easily by Germany when the time comes."

Fire in Tunnel Halts Traffic

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—Belching sheets of flame and clouds of smoke like a blast furnace, a tunnel afire on the Western Pacific Railroad one mile east of Niles, stopped all rail and highway traffic through the Niles Canyon gateway to the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys tonight.

Fire departments of Niles, Pleasanton and Centerville and 100 volunteers were unable to get close enough to quench the blaze, and it is expected it will have to burn itself out. Western Pacific trains are being routed over the Southern Pacific between Livermore and Oakland. The tunnel is 4300 feet long and is a main-line borg.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—The Postoffice Department itself is responsible for the statement that the air mail now is the "socially correct" way to communicate with distant friends or enemies.

The air mail is entering the field of high-hat advertising with a poster showing a blond beauty looking haughtily down her nose at a pen point while contemplating the speed with which her air-mail letter will be delivered.

Agreement Has No Effect on Tariff Imposition

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—The Senate today ratified an international treaty between most of the nations of the world to remove certain restrictions on imports and exports.

Its principal effect is to prevent embargoes against American goods.

The treaty, which will have no effect on the right of a country to levy tariff duties, is regarded with greatest interest by American automobile manufacturers. Under the treaty, a foreign country will not be permitted to restrict the number on American automobiles that can come in.

The resolution consenting to ratification stipulated that the United States construed the treaty to impose no restrictions on a nation's rights to exclude prison-made products on those made by slaves.

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Over the mad din, Rokoff continued to hurl taunts at his enemy. "You think your wife safe in England!" he cried. "Even now she is in this very jungle." Then he enlarged upon the horrors of the future life of Tarzan's son and intimated what was to be the fate of the boy's mother. His taunts stung the helpless ape-man. Suppose, after all, Rokoff's words were true! The frenzied dancers leaped closer to their victim.

Then to Tarzan's memory came a similar scene, when he had rescued D'Arnot from a like predicament at the last moment before the final spear thrust was to end his suffering. Who was there now to rescue him? Not one in all the world could save him from the torture of these human fiends. The ape-man longed for the last savage lunge that would finish his misery.

It would not be long now, he thought. And then, far out in the mass of the weird jungle, rose a shrill scream. For an instant the dancers paused, and in that silence there rose from the lips of the fast-bound white man an answering shriek, more fearsome and more terrible than that of the jungle beast that had roused it. For several minutes the blacks hesitated.

Then urged on by their chief and Rokoff, they leaped to finish the dance and their victim. But ere ever another spear touched Tarzan, a tawny streak of green-eyed hate and ferocity bounded from the darkness, and Sheeta, the panther, stood snarling beside his master. The blacks and the whites stood transfixed with terror, and only Tarzan of the Apes saw what else there was emerging from the shadows.

FINANCIAL

AUGUST EDISON EARNINGS TOLD

Utility Reports $565,971 Net Gain on 1928 Month

Total for Year to Date Show $1,303,509 Higher

Substantial Cut in Cost of Operation Revealed

Net earnings of the Southern California Edison Company increased substantially during the month of August, R. H. Ballard, president, stated yesterday upon issuing the operating statement of the company covering August and the first eight months of the current year. The statement revealed increases of 19 per cent for gross revenues in August, compared with August, 1928, and 13 per cent for the year to date in contrast with the first eight months of 1928.

August net earnings available for dividends and depreciation and after all charges reached a total of $2,138,082.12, as compared with $1,572,112.32 reported earned in August last year, an increase of $565,-971.10.

GROSS SHOWN

Gross revenues for the month aggregated $3,721,774.45, a gain of $566,639.01 over the August, 1928, figure, the operating expenses and taxes being practically unchanged on the greater volume and totaling $1,011,367.30, against $1,000,-667.80 in August last year.

"Due to the greater use of water power and a lesser use of steam, operating costs now show substantial reductions compared with the earlier months of the year," said Mr. Ballard.

After deducting the operating expenses and taxes, the net operating results for the month amounted to $2,710,407.15, an increase of $565,-268.30, or 26 per cent, over last year, the net operating figures for August, 1928, amounting to $2,122,-167.85.

NET RUNS HIGHER

The statement covering operations for eight months closed August 31, reveals a net profit available for dividends and depreciation after all other charges of $13,189,-861.68. This compares with $11,-886,352.01 for the corresponding period last year, an increase of $1,303,-509.67.

The gross revenues for the eight months aggregated $26,269,301.36, in contrast with $23,164,796.83 reported for the same eight months of 1928, an increase of $3,104,562.56.

Operating expenses and taxes for the eight months totaled $8,693,-222.13, as against $7,501,365.70 last year, a gain of $1,191,856.43, or more than 15 per cent. The balance as net operating earnings amounted to $17,576,079.26, which is an increase of $1,912,696.12, or 12 per cent over the $15,663,373.13 reported for the corresponding period of 1928.

NEW YORK LEAD INCREASED

Atlantic Seaboard Banks Still Merging to Offset Competition from Other Quarters

BY EARLE R. CROWE

New York bankers have no intention of allowing the concentration of banking resources in any place but New York City, as yesterday's announcement of the latest bank consolidation indicates. The challenge from the Middle West and the Pacific Coast has been met step by step on the Atlantic seaboard and still the race is not over.

Combinations in Chicago, the Northwest, and on the Pacific Coast in the last few years have given to these sections a degree of banking independence not entirely relished by the New York bankers. Realisation of this trend prompted the National City, the Chase National, the Guaranty Trust and other New York leading banks to enter into the same movement.

TRUSTS ALSO POINTS

But at the same time the rise of the investment trusts and other financial companies possessing tremendous aggregations of resources has still further stimulated the energies of the commercial banks to centralize banking resources. These rival financial institutions, many of which own banks, are making heavy inroads on forms of business that once were regarded by commercial banks as peculiarly their own.

Announcement yesterday of the billion dollar Marine Midland Corporation, controlling banks and trust companies in and around New York, and plannin also to do an investment trust business, is another threat at the supremacy of the commercial banks. The Goldman Sachs group and its activities, which tend to decentralise financial power from New York, is also a formidable rival.

Further back than the Goldman Sachs development the Transamerica Corporation has been an influence toward the decentralisation of banking geographically. This group controls banks in New York, the Middle West and the Pacific Coast, and controls resources of such magnitude that its operations are largely independent of the nation's greatest financial center.

GROUND GAINED

In New York City, however, the National City, the Chase National and the Guaranty Trust have been striving mightily to increase the lead of the New York commercial institutions, and already have gone far toward realising predictions of $10,000,000,000 in resources within ten years. The National City-Corn Exchange consolidation lifts the resources of the combination to $2,326,000,000.

Right behind the National City is the Guaranty Trust, recently consolidated with the National Bank of Commerce, with resources of slightly more than $2,000,000,000. The Chase National, consolidated with the National Park, ranks third with resources of approximately $1,700,-000,000.

In Chicago the Continental Illinous Bank and Trust Company, a product of a recent merger, stands up alongside most of the largest New York banks, and on the Pacific Coast the Bank of Italy, its affiliate, the Bank of America of California; the Security-First National, and the American Trust-Crocker First National combination are banks with impressive aggregations of capital.

If consolidations outside of New York go any further, as conceivably they may, there are several possibilities for billion dollar institutions with headquarters outside of the recognized financial center.

The American and Foreign Power Company is a holding company, controlled by the Electric Bond and Share Company through ownership of approximately 54 per cent of the common stock. The holdings are principally in light and power companies located in Latin-American countries, mainly Cuba, Panama, Argentina, Brazil and Mexico. The expansion during 1928 was mostly in Chile and Mexico. In the early history of the company it was handicapped by old laws which hampered expansion of the power properties, but recently favorable legislation has been enacted and large expenditures have been made in development work. The population served is now considerably over the 2,000,000 reported at the end of 1927.

Earnings have reflected the steady expansion of the company both in the number of properties and in development of the properties already controlled. Net for 1928 amounted to $13,091,207, as compared with $4,940,184 for 1927. This was equal to $1.22 per share on the common stock, as contrasted with 69 cents per share in 1927. Book value of the common was in excess of $30 per share at the end of 1928, as compared with $26 in 1927.

HUGE NEW BANK COMBINE VOTED

National City-Corn Exchange Merger Pending

Completion Hinges on Action of Stockholders

Total Resources of System Near $2,500,000,000

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—The concentration of banking activity notable durting the last year moved forward apace today.

A union of the National City Bank and Corn Exchange Bank Trust Company creating a system of more than 100 branch banks in the New York metropolitan area was arranged, and the directors of the Bank of Manhattan Company disclosed a plan to form a holding company under its charter of 1799 which may be used as the nucleus of an extensive chain or group of banks.

The acquisition of the Corn Exchange by the National City places the latter pre-eminently in the lead in what Wall street has been disposed to regard as a contest for position of largest bank in America. National City has total resources of somewhat more than $2,000,-000,000 while the Guaranty Trust Company, which acquired the National Bank of Commerce this year, now has resources of nearly the same amount. Acquisition of the Corn Exchange will give the National City resources of nearly $2,500,000,000. Directors of both banks have approved the merger and it only awaits approval of the stockholders, which Wall street believes will be eagerly granted.

Stockholders of the three banks involved in the day's new stand to profit all around. National City stock has risen $22 a share during the last week to $500. On announcement of the merger plan, Corn Exchange stock, which will be exchange for National City on the basis of four-fifths of a share for the latter for one share of Corn Exchange, rose $65 a share to $390 bid, $410 asked. The reorganization of the Bank of Manhattan Company contemplates splitting the stock five for one and offering stockholders rights to purchase the new stock at $120 a share in the ratio of one additional new share for each six held. This constitutes cutting a melon of approximately $17,000,000.

BELL STOCK JUMP PUZZLES

Sensational Advance of American Telephone Issue in Few Months Difficult to Explain

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Some months ago, talking with one of the more important officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, I asked him whether in his opinion the stock of his company was worth the price it was selling for. At the time, the stock was quoted at about $190.

He replied that the stock was worth substantially what it was selling for, and that in his opinion it would hold at about that figure.

It closed today at 304—an increase of 114 points. The market value of its 13,161,781 shares today is a little over $4,000,000,000. Next to General Motors, its market value is the highest of all American corporations. General Motors, at its high of 91 3-4, preferred stock issues included, was worth $4,189,000,-000.

Every time the American Telephone and Telegraph stock gains 1 point on the exchange, $13,000,000 is added to its market value.

With the conservative attitude of the past and present management—a fixed dividend of 9 per cent and no immediate prospect of an increase—it is difficult to account for the seething activity in the common stock the last few months.

J. H. Thomas, British Minister of Unemployment, has returned to England after a month in Canada looking over the prospects of increasing trade relations between Canada and the mother country.

It is understood that a principal reason for his visit was to effect a working arrangement by which the Canadian National Railroad would buy its coal from Great Britain rather than from the United States. Mr. Thomas was in conference several times with Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railway, and with E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific. No announcement was made, however, of the result.

I talked with this British Minister in Ottawa, and he said his primary interest was not in temporary but permanent relief measures.

"An increased demand for British export goods, which in turn will increase the number of workers in the factories of England, seems to me the only permanent cure for our unemployment," he observed.

When I asked him if, as Minister of Britain's 1,500,000 unemployed, he contemplated an effort to send any considerable number of them to Canada, his answer was decidedly in the negative.

"Every Dominion is the judge of its own citizens," he said. "Making a nation prosperous in a fundamental way is the unemployment solution. Sending the unemployed out of Britain might alleviate the problems, but it would not solve it."

INVESTMENT CONCERN PLANS EXPANSION

Stockholders of Investors' Association will hold a special meeting October 2, next, to vote on an increase in capital as recommended by the board of directors. It is understood that rights to stockholders may be issued in the near future, although action in this regard cannot be taken until after an increase in capital has been authorized. The company's net earnings for the first half of this year were equivalent to $4.20 per share, exclusive of unrealized profits, which are reported to exceed the realized profits.

Reid, president of the company, yesterday. These earnings are at the rate of $2.38 a share on the 189,000 shares of the new Class A stock to be presently outstanding.

Gross income for the period totaled $1,371,000 from which was deducted $650,000 for intangible charges and abandonments, $143,-000 for depletion, $83,000 for depreciation, $13,000 for legal expenses and $50,000 reserves for Federal taxes.

Total capital invested at the close of the period was $1,512,000. As of the 1st inst., Hancock Oil Company of California, a Delaware corporation, took over the predecessor company.

They also approved a plan for regrouping the constituent units of the present Manhattan group, under which the Manhattan company will become primarily a holding company. NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—Resumption of bullish operations in today's curb market carried more than a score issues to record high levels, but heavy profit-taking in the late trading gave final quotations an irregular appearance.

The early rally derived considerable stimulus from the move to call another from 10 to 7 per cent but vitiated over Federal Reserve broker's loans decreased during the afternoon's first hour, which were made public after the close, showing a further increase of $66,000,000 to another new high record. So great was the volume of trading that the ticker fell forty-five minutes behind the market in the afternoon, the day's sales running well over 2,000,000 shares.

Public utilities were again in the forefront of the advance. Electric Power & Light, which is shortly expected to announce an offer for an exchange of its stock for Electric Investors on the ratio of 1.6 shares for 1 of Investors, ran up 7¼ points to a new high at 189, but lost nearly half of its gain. Electric Investors crossed 30% and then fell back to 29% for a net gain of ½. American and Foreign Power warrants, Middle West Utilities preferred, Northern States Power A, Pacific Public Service and United Gas Company, also moved into new high ground. Commonwealth Edison jumped 40% points, on a few sales, and Middle West Utilities common closed 6 points higher.

Lehman Corporation was again the leader of the investment trust group, soaring nearly 10 points to another new high record at 138, or 53 points above the issues offering price, and then easing to 131¾. American Investors option warrants, National Investors preferred and Sun Investing reached new high levels. Blue Ridge convertible preferred sank to another new low about 6 points below the recent offering price.

Renewed heaviness of some of the oil shares was based on unconfirmed rumors of an early cut in Mid-Continent crude prices; Gulf, Humble and Vacuum dropped 1 to 2½ points, Amerada, showing outstanding strength, moving up more than 3 points to a new high at 101¼. Lion Oil failed to make any response to the publication of an excellent eight months earnings report. Eureka Pipe Line touched a new low.

Crocker Wheeler jumped 47¼ points to a new high at 482 on announcement of a ten-for-one stock split-up. Commercial Solvents (new) ran up 10 points to a new high at 49½, but lost part of its gain. Darjon Realties was marked up to a new top on reports of capacity production. Other stocks to reach new high ground were Gilbert Hart, Gorton Reynolds, Foremost Dairy, Meisner Brothers common and preferred, New Jersey Zinc, Pendrell & Goodwin and U. S. Gypsum.

Revival of activity and strength in Bisley Electric was based on favorable reports. Perryman Electric also was in brisk demand, showing a net gain of 6 points. Aluminum Company dropped 26 points to 435, or more than 200 points below the recent high. Singer Bitumenthal and St. Regis Paper showed sharp declines.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

Wheat Market Improves as Exports Gain

CHICAGO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Likelihood of immediate additional rainfalls that are needed to remedy moisture shortage in Argentina helped to ease wheat values down today after a lively upturn. Price gains, which were thus more than wiped out, had been stimulated by European purchasing of Chicago wheat futures delivaries and of 1,000,000 bushels of wheat to be shipped overseas both from Canada and the United States. There were also advices that drought in Australia had become increasingly serious and that Argentine moisture shortage was yet far below standard.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous, 4¼ to 4⅝ cents yesterday's finish to ⅛ lower. Corn closed ⅛@⅜ down, oats ⅛@⅜ off and provisions varying from a decline to a rise of 10¢.

Until near the end of the day's trading wheat prices averaged higher, largely as a result of reports that exports of wheat from North America, besides clearings of wheat, future deliveries were relatively scant at times, owing a good deal to adverse crop conditions reported from Argentina, where only half a normal yield of wheat is being looked for unless good rains are received very soon. It was also revealed as evident that Argentine rains had been less copious and widespread than was generally supposed.

Considerable notice was taken of Department estimates of the 1929 French wheat crop, with the total put at 360,000,000 bushels, a big share of today's transactions in the wheat pit here consisted of exchanges of December holdings for ownership of May contracts. Warehouse interests, shippers and millers were taking heavy deliveries of May, it was stated, under the current price of May. The larger commission houses appeared as a rule to be transferring speculative holdings from December to May.

Corn prices weakened as a result of crop reports from Illinois and Indiana, failing to include any mention of important damage. Large receipts of corn here, however, were not. Oats were mainly governed by the action of corn.

Advance of Finance and Pacific Public Service Arouses Speculative Interest

Pacific Finance Corporation and Pacific Public Service, each registering a spectacular advance, featured trading yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, and accounted largely for the increased activity of the market. The balance of the list remained spotty with about an equal number of gains and losses.

Stock of the finance company which has had a meteoric record on the market in recent months, soared to another new pead with an advance of 8½ points to 159½. Most of the strength came in the late trading, the last sale crossing the board at 159 1-4 after a turnover of 3700 shares.

Pacific Public Service, which surprised many traders Wednesday with a sudden spurt in activity, shot up 5 3-4 points to 34, and a new record high. The move was accompanied by a number of rumors, chief of which was that negotiations are under way to sell the company to another California utility. The stock changed hands rapidly, 14,300 shares being sold. The close was at 33, up 4 3-4 net, which follows an advance of practically 2 points in the previous session.

Security-First National Bank was ♦an outstanding trader, advancing a point to 137½ on rapid sales, and ending at 137 1-4, up 3-4 net. On a lighter turnover California Bank held firm to 137 and Citizens' National moved up a point to 130. International Re-Insurance yielded 1-4 to 63 3-4. Transamerica dropped 1 1-4 points to 65½, and the old stock 2 points to 161½.

Pacific Western led the activity of the oil market and advanced ⅛ to 24½. Rio Grande firmed up a like amounut to 29, while Richfield eased 3-8 to 41; Standard of California, 1 to 75; Union Associates, 1 to 80, and Union of California, 3-8 to 39 7-8. MacMillan Petroleum on light sales advanced 1 1-4 points to 35½.

Industrials were comparatively neglected. However, Hydraulic Brake shot up 3 points to 63.

Sales totaled 66,443 shares, valued at $2,764,768; previous day, 31,169 shares, valued at $1,139,484.

This Royalty Spread is divided into 175 Interests, each Interest being a 175th part of the above total Royalty Interest. Price: $1000.00 for each Interest.

Monthly returns on this investment varies, due to production falling off and increasing by new wells being brought in. A fair estimate of the additional wells to be either deepened or drilled on these 222 acres, besides the 31 that are now drilling, would be 50 more.

Bank of Italy will be the depository and distributor for the Interest Holders.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—Reflecting a better tone in the London cables, futures on the rubber exchange of New York today displayed a steady tone and recouped some of the losses suffered on Wednesday to wind up with gains ranging from 10 to 40 points from previous finals. Although there was a broader list of deliveries, of which December, March and October were the most active, the volume of business fell off from the preceding day's business. The December delivery was singled out as the center of attraction, that month being responsible for more than half of the day's dealings. Only to finish with a 10-point advance, sales aggregated 212 contracts, or 530 long tons, as compared with 332 lots or 830 tons on Wednesday.
London spot was quiet and 1-16d higher at 61 9-16d. The September position in Singapore remained the same at 13-16d, with the market 2½n. Outside spot was 5c net at 30½c.
Outside sales were:

	Spot.	Oct.	Jan.

Smoked ribbed sheets	30½	31	31½
First latex crepe	31½	..	..
Clean thin brown crepe	29½	..	..

PRESIDENT'S SON ENTERS UNIVERSITY

Allan Hoover Registers at Harvard for Course in Business Administration

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Sept. 19. (AP) Allan Hoover, younger son of the President, arrived here today to begin his studies at the Harvard school of business administration. After registering, he posed for photographers on the steps of the administration building but declined to speak for the "talkies." Young Hoover was unaccompanied by a bodyguard, as was John Coolidge while a student at Amherst, but the Harvard authorities have announced that steps will be taken to guard him against unnecessary publicity.

The President's son had to identify himself to the photographers, who failed to recognize him as he left the administration building carrying in his hand a telegram which he had received a few minutes previously from his father. The message, it was said, advised him not to say anything for the talkies.

VALLEY OF ROSES IN FULL GLORY

Hundred Million Blooms, Near Puente, Dazzling Sight

Miss Gean Franzi Shows Some Samples
Beauty show entrant, visitor to Howard & Smith eighty-acre tract, holds bouquet made up of virtually every known rose.

ONCE a vast desert-like land covered with nothing but sagebrush and cactus, a fertile valley near Puente on the main line of the Union Pacific today stands out as one of the largest rose gardens in the world. It has eighty acres devoted exclusively to roses, with more than 2,500,000 bushes under cultivation. It has been estimated that more than 100,000,000 roses now are in bloom.

All of the leading and familiar varieties are in evidence, as well as many fine novelties never before shown. In one section there is a twenty-five-acre block of Ragged Robins alone.

The garden is the property of Howard & Smith of Montebello, nurserymen who have given the world a number of new rose varieties, including the famed Los Angeles rose.

Pupils from the Puente grammar school yesterday were taken to the garden on the Continental Limited of the Union Pacific. They carried rakes, hoes and other garden tools and worked for more than an hour among the roses. Accompanying them was Miss Gean Franzi, entrant in the first national beauty show to be held here next month.

INTEREST SHOWN IN TERMITES

Announcement of Finding Pests in Old Courthouse Causes Stir in Southland

Considerable interest in termite extermination was manifested by citizens throughout Southern California yesterday, following a published notice of the discovery of the pests in the old Courthouse, according to H. H. Wilcomb, deputy horticultural commissioner in charge of county operations against termites.

Although no method of absolute control has been devised that is effective in this climate, impregnating of wood with Paris green has proved partially successful in the Hawaiian Islands, Wilcomb said. Various poisons are being used by more than 100 State and county termite exterminators in Southern California and their efforts have met with some degree of success. Merely sprinkling Paris green on the surface of the infested wood will not kill the insects.

Foundation timbers in a building on Court street were removed a few months ago because they were so eaten away by termites that the building was in danger of collapse. The wooden supports were replaced by concrete pillars.

RETIRED JEWELER'S RITES WILL BE TODAY

Last rites for Albert N. Clark, retired jeweler and Los Angeles pioneer, who died Tuesday at his home, 826 North Hobart Boulevard, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the Trinity Missionary Church, 848 North Hobart Boulevard. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mr. Clark, who was 73 years of age, came to Los Angeles in 1892 from Flint, Mich. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Marcit T. Clark, and a daughter, Mrs. Nellie Seidel.

Sentence Given to Operator of Radio Nuisance

Found guilty by a jury of maintaining a public nuisance, after more than a score of neighbors testified that he operated a radio loud speaker in his music store at Oxford avenue and Venice Boulevard at all hours of the day and night, Ashley Manning was sentenced to serve thirty days in jail by Municipal Judge Willis yesterday. The court suspended the sentence on condition that Manning cease operating the loud speaker.

The jury brought in a verdict of guilty seven minutes after leaving the courtroom on Wednesday. Trial consumed three days, with twenty-three witnesses going on the stand. Deputy City Prosecuter Hamilton asserted that Manning ignored numerous complaints lodged against the noise created by his radio attachment.

WORK OPENS ON DAM SITE TEST SHAFT

Preparations Go Forward for Making Inspection of Deep Rock Formation

Work of driving a test shaft and tunnels for exploring rock structure on the west abutment of the San Gabriel Dam, where a giant landslip occurred last Friday, was begun yesterday by the contractors.

A survey of the earth movement and the excavation was made by Chief Flood Control Engineer Eaton and some of the County Supervisors yesterday. Men are at work making the slide safe by forestalling further movement of the 200,000 cubic yards of rock and earth that moved.

Eaton began preparation of his official report on the slide and hopes to have it in the hands of the Supervisors today. As soon as the test tunnels and shaft are completed the exploration work will be set forth in reports. Test tunnels also are being driven in the east abutment through hard rock that has been uncovered there, to determine the extent of the rock.

Student of Art Seeks to Halt Trojan Statue

Suit to enjoin Roger Noble Burnham, sculptor, from completing a memorial statue for the University of Southern California was filed yesterday in Superior Court by Germain Trentini, art student, who charges Burnham's model for the statue was copied from a statue designed last January by Trentini while he was studying under Burnham.

According to Trentini, Burnham entered his copy of the plaintiff's statue in the open competition from which the memorial was to be selected. The design was accepted, the complaint states, and from it Burnham was to develop the bronze figure, eight feet in height, of a Trojan soldier. The completed statue, the complaint states, is scheduled to be unveiled on the university campus next June.

Trentini, who charges Burnham "violated his position of trust as teacher and instructor" of the plaintiff, asks $5000 damages in addition to the injunction.

DELAY MARKS SHULER'S CASE

Further Inquiry Now Awaits Pantages Trial Close

Radio Commission's Course Still to be Determined

Grand Jury Through With Matter for Present

Further action in the investigation of the radio activities of Rev. R. P. Shuler must await the completion of the case against Mrs. Lois Pantages and a study of the entire matter by the Federal Radio Commission, it was learned yesterday.

Rev. Shuler faces two distinct actions in the present situation, and both are contingent on the date the Pantages charges are placed in the hands of the jury.

TWO PROBABILITIES

The first probability is a charge of contempt of court growing out of the minister's asserted radio talks on the "hung" jury, and the accusations of irregularities in the selection of the jurors.

The report of a special committee from the Los Angeles Bar Association, headed by Robert P. Jennings, will not be made public until the jury in the Pantages case starts deliberations. The findings of this special board, which is designated as a friend of the court, will be made to Superior Judge Hardy, and will cover only two points, the first on the purported assertion of the clergyman that the jury was not properly impaneled, and the second on the question of contempt that may have been committed.

FEDERAL ANGLE

The second action faced by Rev. Shuler is the restriction that may be placed on his radio station through the findings of the Federal Radio Commission. The report of the grand jury, in which the minister is criticised severely, has been forwarded to Washington for the information of that body.

No further action by the grand jury is anticipated for the present, according to Foreman De Garmo, and the report sent to Washington was not accompanied by recommendations as to final disposition. "The report was sent to Commissioner Lafount," De Garmo said, "as a matter of courtesy. A copy also was sent to Mr. Shuler.

METHODIST CONFERENCE SUPPORTS SHULER

MODESTO, Sept. 19. (Æ)—The seventy-ninth Pacific annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today passed a resolution asking the Federal Radio Commission not to revoke the license of the radio station at Los Angeles conducted by Rev. Robert P. (Bob) Shuler.

The motion asked that if such action is to be taken by the commission an opportunity be given to present both sides of the case. The motion followed receipt of word here that the Los Angeles county grand jury had directed such a request to the Radio Commission.

Bishop Samuel P. Hay, Houston, Tex., who is presiding, signed the motion.

Santa Fe Picks J. B. Duffy for Advancement

James B. Duffy, general passenger agent of the Santa Fe lines west of Albuquerque, will become assistant traffic manager of the railway, effective October 1, next. This announcement will be made today by Passenger Traffic Manager W. J. Black at Chicago.

JAMES B. DUFFY

Mr. Duffy has held the position of general passenger agent since February, 1922. Passenger traffic since that time has increased in importance every year until it has become a part of the business and financial history of the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Duffy has spent the greater part of his life in the service of the Santa Fe, starting at San Francisco. His promotion has been gradual. He succeeded the late John J. Byrne eight years ago as the chief executive of the passenger department of the Santa Fe lines on the Pacific Coast.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., TO BE AIR MAIL ROUTE STOP

For the interest of philatelists and collectors of first-flight covers, he further announced a special cachet will be furnished by the posto ice at St. Joseph for use on matter dispatched on the opening date.

OLD DIVORCE PLAN HINTED BY NEW SUIT

Mrs. Pantages Served in Action on Asserted Bill as She Sits in Court

While Mrs. Lois Pantages sat in Superior Judge Hardy's court yesterday intently listening to testimony at her trial, a process server stepped quietly to the counsel table where she sat and dropped before her a legal document which added another sensation to those revolving about her since her arrest for the asserted traffic murder of Joe Rokumoto.

The document was a legal notice that a civil action had been filed against her by Paul Arthur Penner for $1893.90 and in it the plaintiff asserts that the sum is due for attorney's fees and for money advanced for "detective services in preparation for an action of divorce by the defendant, Lois Pantages, against Alexander Pantages."

Penner's complaint was filed late yesterday and service of subpoena was made on Mrs. Pantages a few minutes later.

The civil action sets forth that the asserted unpaid bill was originally owed to Attorney James P. Sweeney, but that the claim was "for a valuable consideration sold and assigned to the plaintiff (Penner,) who is now the sole owner thereof."

Few details are contained in the complaint. It was recited, however, that Mrs. Pantages paid $1000 of the total bill owed by her to Sweeney on May 31, 1927, and on April 3 of the same year a demand was made on

PANTAGES CASE ARGUMENTS DUE

Hectic Day of Sensations Favors Prosecution

State Doctors Flay Death Theory of Defense

Judge Allows Reopening of Testimony for People

Testimony for both the prosecution and defense in the Lois Pantages murder case now on trial before Superior Judge Hardy will all be before the jury of five women and seven men by noon today.

Arguments probably will begin with the afternoon court session but the whole case has little chance of being submitted to the jury for a verdict before next Monday.

Only one prosecution rebuttal witness remains to testify with the possibility of several defense witnesses in sur-rebuttal. The remaining witness is Dr. F. Nakaya and his testimony is expected to be brief. Two medical men called as defense experts will compose the sur-rebuttal if any is offered.

JONES WILL OPEN

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Harold Jones will open the prosecution argument, according to the present plans. W. I. Gilbert of the defense will follow and Max Steuer, the New York defense counsel, will close for Mrs. Pantages. Dep. Dist.-Atty. James Costello, who heads the prosecution, will close for the State. At least two full days of jury argument, "to be followed by the court instructions to the jury is expected.

Yesterday, which started out as a quiet day of rebuttal testimony, presented by the prosecution, wound up in being one full of sensation and developed into the greatest legal battle of the trial and ended in a complete prosecution victory, but only after a courtroom battle which included Dist.-Atty. Fitts's appearance.

The courtroom battle arose after Detective Jesse Winn and Jack B. Yellen as minor rebuttal witnesses had testified for the prosecution and an offer of expert medical testimony had been made by the State with County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner on the stand.

STEUER OBJECTS

"We object to this line of testimony at this time," declared Steuer to the court.

"We feel that this testimony if presented in this case at all should have been offered during the prosecution case in chief as it all goes to the cause of death and that is a part of the case in chief and in no sense rebuttal testimony," the New York attorney added.

The battle then began, with Costello, Van Cott and Jones of the prosecution all on their feet fighting for the introduction of their evidence.

All through the morning session the legal tilt went on with the jury waiting in the jury room for the taking of testimony to be resumed. Late in the morning Fitts flanked by Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart appeared in the courtroom and then the District Attorney took part in the court argument.

"We ask that the court use the discretion vested in the court by the law of this State to allow the people to reopen the prosecution case and present this testimony," declared Fitts.

"All we seek," the District Attorney added, "is the truth of this thing presented to the jury, we are interested in justice alike to the people and to the defendant."

"APPEAL TO MOB"

A review of the testimony and evidence and a promise to only interrogate the physicians on the hypothetical question put by the defense was made by Fitts during the course of his argument.

In answer Steuer classed Fitts's argument as an "appeal to the mob" and pleaded with the court to rule with the defense. And with the morning session over Judge Hardy reserved his decision.

It was after more remarks by Fitts and additional statements from Steuer that Judge Hardy ruled against the defense and allowed the testimony, although he remarked from the bench that all of it should have been placed in evidence during the prosecution's case in chief and he was only allowing it in the interest of justice.

With Judge Hardy's ruling Mrs. Pantages burst into tears as she heard first Dr. Wagner and then Drs. Charles Decker, W. H. Thearle, Thomas A. Orbison and Victor Parkin one after another declare that in their opinion Joe Rokumoto, the Japanese gardner who was seriously injured when his auto-

SOME of our clerical friends seem to be particularly susceptible to rumors.

If The Times published—as fact—all the rumors that come spilling into this office, there would not be half a dozen people in Los Angeles left with enough reputation to irritate a gnat's eye.

SLANT EYES

Russia is recruiting regiments of Mongols from the Gobi Desert to fight the Chinese. If they get enough of them, the prospects for the Chinese do not look bright. They are the greatest fighters in the world. With an army of them Ghengis Khan tore through the world like tearing tissue paper.

Our own Navajos and Apaches are undoubtedly of Mongol origin—and not so far back, either. There is reason to believe that these were the last tribes to make the perilous voyage from Siberia.

NOT SO FUNNY

Mrs. Fatty Arbuckle did not seem to find that comedian so funny in the home circle—to judge from her divorce suit.

I have known a lot of comedians, but very few of them are cut-ups off the stage and screen. Charlie Chaplin sometimes in private pulls funnier stunts than anything he does on the screen, but you are just as likely to find him buried in gloom.

Douglas MacLean is a sober-minded Scotchman, and Harold Lloyd is charming and modest, but seldom giddy. Ben Turpin is usually full of grief, and Al Jolson is as likely to talk New York stocks as merriment.

The best consistent wise cracker I have ever known is not a comedian, but a prize fighter—Leach Cross. Off the screen he is funnier than any of them.

WILD HORSEMEN

An interesting feature of the Pomona fair are the genuine horsemen from the Argentine.

It seems to go without saying that the finest horsemen in the world are the American cowboys, the Cossacks of the Russian steppes and the gauchos of the pampas.

Yet the fact remains that when our cavalry decided that it was necessary to bring our horsemanship up to date they had to go to none of these—but to Italy and France. The French have made the most intensive study of the equine of any people in the world; and the Italians are the best riders.

No doubt it was partly inheritances. In all the early wars the Roman commanders drew their light cavalry from the wild Gallic tribes of France.

THE RAINS

There is some comfort in the well-assured prospect that this abominable summer will be followed by a winter so wet that we will fairly float off. Which will be providential. There is no disguising the fact that we have been using more water than we have been storing for the past few years.

BANKER TO BE HONORED

In honor of his promotion to head of the personnel bureau of the Bank of Italy's southern division, friends and associates of Arthur H. Brogue will tender him an informal dinner at the Elks' Club next Monday evening. The committee in charge includes Eugene H. Marcus, Dist.-Atty. Fitts, Orra E. Monnette, Dr. Samuel M. Marcus, Benjamin F. Bledsoe, William G. Bonelli, John Logsdon, and Frank J. Longo. Mr. Brogue has been associated with the Bank of Italy for eleven years.

AUTO DRIVE BEGINS TODAY

Fines and Jail Terms Will Replace Warnings as Motorcycle Squads Cover City

The day of grace is gone for the reckless and thoughtless motorists. Placed on his honor to abide by the traffic laws of his own free will, he has been tried and found wanting, according to police authorities. No more will he be stopped and generously warned to drive over on the right side of the road, to have his brakes properly adjusted or to remember that a boulevard stop means stop. Violation of these and other traffic laws will result in fines, perhaps jail, and the more violations the greater the fines.

This was the ultimatum laid down yesterday by Deputy Chief of Police Gifford, head of the police traffic division, following action taken by the Police Commission Tuesday to have all traffic laws enforced by direct police action in an effort to curb the ever mounting total of accident fatalities and injuries.

MOTORCYCLE MEN SHIFTED

Upon the order of President Thorpe of the commission all the motorcycle officers of the department have been taken from liquor details and transferred to the traffic division under Chief Gifford and Lieut. Peyton. These fifty-five officers today will ride out into the various districts of the city where the majority of serious accidents have occurred with specific orders to present citations to every motorist they find violating the laws, Gifford announced. Similar instructions are to be circulated to all beat officers in police bulletins.

Special attention is to be given to motorists found violating the following ordinances:

(1.) Driving slowly in the middle of the street.
(2.) Boulevard stops.
(3.) Driving on wrong side of street.
(4.) Speeding at dangerous intersections.
(5.) Driving across intersections on the first signal bell.
(6.) Driving through school zones

WARNERS PLAN ANOTHER THEATER IN HOLLYWOOD

Warner Brothers will build a $2,000,000 motion-picture theater on Hollywood Boulevard, construction to be started in the spring. The announcement was made yesterday by Jack L. Warner, who has just returned from New York, where he conferred with his brother, Harry Warner, on details of the project.

The site was purchased by Louis J. Halper, Warner Brothers executive, last February for $300,000 and lies on the north side of the boulevard between Cahuenga and Wilcox. It has a sixty-five-foot frontage and a 100-foot depth to an alley. It is in the same block with the present Warner theater.

At the time of the deal rumors were rife that it was to be the site of a new theater, but these were denied by Halper, who declared the property was acquired by him solely as an investment. The studio officials also refused to confirm reports that they were planning a new house.

Warners also recently acquired a

ISLANDS' PROGRESS CITED

Walter F. Dillingham of Honolulu Tells Advance; Service of All-Year Club Praised

Real estate development and industrial enterprises of Hawaii, while not in a boom stage, are on a sound, substantial basis, indicating strong and even progress for the islands for many years, according to Walter F. Dillingham, Honolulu capitalist and sportsman.

Mr. Dillingham, who is accompanied to the mainland on a business trip by his brother, Harold Dillingham, also was gratified at the constantly growing tourist travel to the islands and attributed the increasing popularity of Hawaii to the informative services of the All Year Club of Southern California.

"In past years," Mr. Dillingham said, "travelers apparently had the notion that the summers of Hawaii were extraordinarily warm. They are not unpleasant at all and the increasing tourist travel, much of which is prompted by the All Year Club, indicates a constantly growing popularity for Hawaii."

All lines of enterprise in the islands, according to Mr. Dillingham, are prospering and development is constant in business and industrial affairs.

While in Los Angeles Mr. Dillingham was met by Mrs. Dillingham, who is returning home following a year in Europe, where three of the Dillingham children were in school. Ben and Gaylord were in school at Rolle, Switzerland, and Betty Lou was at Betadt, Switzerland.

Lowell, the eldest son of Mr. Dillingham, returned from Honolulu with his father again to enter Middlesex School, near Boston, from which he graduates this year to enter Harvard University.

Besides being a polo player of international reputation, Mr. Dillingham, a member of one of the pioneer families of Hawaii, is one of the leading business men of the islands and has spent the major part of his life furthering the development of the island group and their contacts with Southern California. His shipping concern is the Hawaiian representative for the Lasco lines from Los Angeles.

Young Bandit Trapped in Vacant Building and Shot Following Loan Office Robbery

AUTOIST FORCED TO HELP FLIGHT

Hold-up Man Takes $500 from Girl Teller

Detectives Trail Him Into Hiding Place

Major Operation Performed to Save Life

Within a few minutes after he had held up the Federal Building and Loan Company at 457 South Western avenue and escaped with $500 in cash, Jack Carlin, 19-year-old bandit, was critically wounded by a policeman yesterday, when they cornered him in a building a few blocks from the scene of the robbery. With a gunshot wound in the abdomen he was rushed to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where a major operation was performed.

Carlin entered the bank at noon, when Miss Fern Heath, teller and secretary, was alone in the place. Covering her with a revolver he ordered her to turn over her cash. She handed him $500 and he fled, jumping into an automobile parked at the curb and commanding the driver to take him away from the neighborhood. On the alarm of Miss Heath a posse of citizens gave chase.

As the car sped through Normandie avenue Carlin leaped out and disappeared in a building in course of construction at 627 South Normandie avenue. Detective Lieutenants Bergeron, Parker, Leslie and Whalen of Wilshire division were summoned by members of the posse and began a search of the building. As Detective Bergeron opened a closet door Carlin pointed a gun at him, whereupon the officer shunned the door shut and fired through it. The bullet struck Carlin's body.

Carlin said he had come to Los Angeles three days ago from San Francisco where he worked as a waiter. Broke and homeless, he slept in Pershing Square, where he met another transient who, he said, had given him the gun and urged him to commit the robbery. He said his mother lives at 29 North Bridge street, Holyoke, Mass.

SERVICES CONDUCTED FOR BED MERCHANT

Funeral services for Victor G. Morgan, 49 years of age, 736 West Forty-ninth place, in business in Los Angeles for the last twenty years, were conducted yesterday at 11 a.m. at Edwards Brothers mortuary, 936 Vehice Boulevard. Burial was in Inglewood Park Cemetery. Morgan owned a salesmanship business specializing on the sale of beds. He leaves his widow, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Morgan, two sisters, Mrs. N. E. Brown and Mrs. E. G. Kepge, and a brother, Havelock Morgan.

Driver Nabbed by Fitts Asks for Probation

Pleading that he is a victim of tuberculosis in its last stages contracted while serving overseas in the A.E.F., John J. Masterson, arrested by Dist.-Atty. Fitts a month ago on Hollywood Boulevard and charged with driving while intoxicated, yesterday was granted permission to file an application for probation by Superior Judge Aggeler. The hearing on probation and sentence was set for October 4 next.

Masterson sat in a wheel chair during the court proceedings.

The defendant, through his attorney, told the court that he was en route to the Soldiers' Hospital at Sawtelle at the time of the automobile accident. It also was asserted that physicians predict Masterson's illness will cause his death within a year.

ELKS' CHILDREN WILL RESUME DANCE CLASS

With the opening of fall activities of the Elks' Temple, dancing classes for children of Elks, ranging in age from 3 to 16 years, will be resumed commencing tomorrow at 10 a.m. Under the direction of Miss Dorothea Bowen the enrollment of these classes, instituted several years ago, has increased largely. Classes are held every Saturday morning and Tuesday afternoon.

PLAYGROUND DENIED

A delegation which visited the Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday to get favorable action on a playground desired at Pepper and Cypress avenues was referred to the Board of Education, which is planning to enlarge its playground activities in that district. The commission informed the delegation that funds for new playgrounds have been allotted.

PANTAGES CASE HAS HECTIC DAY

Blows Dealt to Defense by State Experts

Dist.-Atty. Fitts Takes Hand to Reopen Testimony

Doctors Declare Japanese Died of Injuries

mobile was smashed to splinters by another machine driven by Mrs. Pantages, came to his death a few days later on a doctor's operating table as a direct result of the accident.

And the prosecution's doctors one and all gave it as their opinions that Rokumoto did not die as a result of the anesthetic given for the operation as testified by five defense medical experts.

ATTACKS TESTIMONY

However, some damage came to the prosecution medical men when, under the cross - examination by Steuer, first Dr. Wagner and then Dr. Orbison admitted that they did not practice surgery and had not performed a hip operation such as theone under way when Rokumoto died, for many years.

In each case, however, the prosecution doctors' testimony as to the cause of death remained unshaken by the cross-examination and all of them left the stand stoutly maintaining that Rokumoto died from shock and that the shock was caused by the accident. And they also testified that while some of the shock might have been caused by the operation still the operation was necessary and had little to do with the death.

The physicians who testified yesterday all based their opinions on the same 1500-word hypothetical question framed by the defense Wednesday and propounded to the defense surgeons, but but while all of the defense doctors testified that Rokumoto died from the anesthetic and not from the automobile injuries, the situation was reversed yesterday.

So now, in so far as the record of the case goes, five doctors have said one thing and five more the exact opposite, with the possibility of a few more to come.

From what could be learned from the prosecution yesterday an important part of the case rests with the testimony of Dr. Nakaya, who was Rokumoto's personal physician. The Japanese doctor will be used to rebutt testimony offered by the defense that Rokumoto did not wish to be operated on and feared an anesthetic, according to Costello.

The physician today will testify, it is asserted, that Rokumoto did wish the operation, and only requested that he be removed from the Elysan Lodge Hospital to the Japanese Hospital after the operation.

With the testimony all "in" today the prosecution with more than a score of witnesses will have before the jury the assertion that while in an intoxicated condition Mrs. Pantages drove her automobile into the side of Rokumoto's automobile on June 16 at Serrano street and Sunset Boulevard, and injured him to such an extent that he died on the operating table.

The defense, with about the same number of witnesses, has on the other hand, denied the prosecution version of the accident and denied that Mrs. Pantages was intoxicated, denied that she rammed Rokumoto's car and maintained that the Japanese attempted a left-hand turn in front of her without any arm signal. Also through her counsel Mrs. Pantages has presented testimony intended to show that Rokumoto did not die from his injuries but as a matter of fact died from asphyxiation, due to an anesthetic during the course of an unnecessary operation.

her for the balance, without success.

Apprised of the contents of the suit last night, Mrs. Pantages declared that she had employed Sweeney, as near as she could remember, back in 1925, and that the services he performed for her had nothing to do with any divorce action. She further declared that the attorney had been paid in full and that she now owes him nothing.

PRIZE FOR SLOGAN IN FIRE DRIVE

Chamber Takes Charge of State-wide Campaign Contest Here

As a part of the State-wide campaign for a more complete public observance of precautions to prevent forest fires, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will take charge of a contest here for a slogan dealing with the topic and which can be used as an effective warning throughout California.

George H. Cecil, manager of the chamber's fire prevention and reforestation department, will be in charge of the contest here. In disclosing the rules, he said that $50 will be offered for the best slogan submitted. The contest is under way now and all slogans must be in by October 1, next.

While in the past such slogans as "Stop Forest Fires," "Be Careful of Fires," "Put Out Camp Fires," etc., have been widely used, it is hoped that more and better slogans will be obtained through the contest, for the purpose of awakening public appreciation of what the forest areas mean to California. All contestants should address their efforts to Mr. Cecil at the Chamber of Commerce.

PLAN PROPOSED FOR SAVING GAS

scribers who are the holders of gas contracts, contract price payable under such contract for the minimum amount of gas which the purchaser has agreed to take (hereunder from such subscriber (provided such subscriber has sufficient potential production to deliver such minimum; if not, then he shall be paid only for the amount of his potential production.)

If no minimum is provided in any contract the association shall fix a minimum. Such minimum shall be the same percentage of actual deliveries as the average minimum named in contracts which provide a minimum bears to the average of the actual deliveries thereunder. If any consumer who is a subscriber hereto has a potential production of gas sufficient for his requirements, no charge shall be made for any gas delivered to him, but if such consumer has not sufficient potential production, gas delivered to him in excess of his potential production shall be paid for by him at the going price for gas at the place of delivery, to be determined by the association.

All proceeds of the sale of gas over and above the amounts paid to subscribers holding gas sales contracts shall belong to the association.

GAS ALLOCATED

Each subscriber authorizes the association and its representatives to check his oil and gas production records, meters, tanks and any other data necessary to properly and fairly carry out this agreement.

The total gas outlets available to the association shall be allocated among the four fields in the proportion that the potential gas production of each field bears to the total potential gas production of the four fields.

A subscriber's pro rata of the total deliveries of gas from a field shall be determined by adding together:

(1.) The ratio that such subscriber's total potential gas production in the field bears to the total potential gas production of all subscribers in such field, and,

(2.) The ratio that such subscriber's total oil potential production in the field bears to the total potential oil production of all subscribers in such field.

The sum of such ratios shall be divided by two and the result so obtained shall be the subscriber's pro rata for that field.

The subscriber's pro rata with respect to a field and the potential production of the subscriber and the field both as to gas and oil shall be established upon the effectuation of this agreement and at intervals thereafter as herein provided.

The determination of potential gas and oil production of the subscriber and the field shall be arrived at as follows:

Initially the potential gas and oil production of a well of a subscriber shall be the actual gas and oil production respectively of such well for the first ten days of the last fifteen days prior to the effectuating date of this agreement. The potential gas and oil productions of a well brought on production subsequent to the beginning of the aforesaid fifteen-day period shall be the average daily gas and oil production respectively of such well for the last four days of the first five days of its initial production.

Each well of a subscriber which is now, or may hereafter be taken off production shall, so long as it is in condition to produce, be included in computing the potential oil and gas production of such subscriber on the basis of its last normal production declined in accordance with prescribed methods.

The gas produced from a well brought on production subsequent to the effectuating date of this agreement shall not be taken into account for any purpose under this agreement until the next following date of re-establishment of the potential gas and oil productions in the field in which such well is situate.

The potential gas and oil productions shall be re-established each month following the effective date hereof, or oftener if deemed desirable by the managing committee, on the basis of decline curves for each well, or such other basis as may be selected by such committee.

In the event that any method or methods provided by this agreement for determining outlets, or potential production, or pro ratas of any field or of any individual subscriber or group of subscribers, in the judgment of the managing committee proves defective, inequitable, or results in undue hardships on any subscriber or group of subscribers, such method or methods may be modified or a new method may be provided or departures therefrom may be authorized to remedy defects or inequities, but only by the written consent or vote of three-fourths of the full managing committee. Any such modification or new method shall not be effective if disapproved by the State Oil and Gas Supervisor upon submission to him.

MICHIGAN FOLKS TO PICNIC

Everything is in readiness, President Milton R. Parmelee announced yesterday, for the annual fall picnic-rally of the Michigan Association of Southern California, to be held all day tomorrow at Sycamore Grove. An attendance of 15,000 is expected. County headquarters and registers will be open all day and a program of music and oratory will follow the luncheon hour.

TRIAL DATES SET FOR POLICEMEN

Demurrers of Four Officers Overruled by Court

Three Will Face Superior Judge October 8

All Enter Not Guilty Pleas on Bribery Charges

Overruling the demurrers of four Los Angeles police officers to indictments charging them with accepting bribes to refrain from arresting bootleggers, Superior Judge Aggeler yesterday heard their pleas of not guilty and ordered them to return to court at an early date to stand trial.

Those who appeared in court yesterday are Oscar L. Peterson, Harry M. Hill and Leonard F. Sale under one indictment, and Thomas B. Washburn, who is accused in a separate true bill.

The three officers first named will go to trial in Department 27 of Superior Court on October 8, next. Washburn will be tried in Department 21 on the 30th inst.

Miles H. Ledbetter and Walter E. (Bob) Evans, two officers also accused of accepting a bribe in a separate indictment, appeared in court Monday, pleaded not guilty and were ordered to trial in Department 29 on October 1, next.

The investigation instituted by the county grand jury upon the statement of Harry D. McDonald, ex-c.o was arrested for conspiracy to violate the Wright Act, still is in progress. It is understood that other police officers are under investigation.

McDonald charged that he operated as a bootlegger in Los Angeles for five years with police protection and is assisting investigators in obtaining corroboration of his accusations.

WARNERS PLAN NEW THEATER

105-foot frontage on Cahuenga which will provide a double entrance and outlet for the theater if this is determined advisable.

Jack Warner was reluctant yesterday to announce details of the project other than to say that the house probably will have a seating capacity of 3000 and that Moroccan architecture had been tentatively decided on. The name of the architect was not announced.

It has been determined, however, to make the theater a home for the more spectacular of Warner Brothers releases, a long-run house with a two-a-day policy that has proved so successful at the Chinese, Carthay Circle and similar theaters.

It was announced that the most elaborate and expensive sound apparatus in the West would be built into the new theater. The entire output of Warners is now talkie and pictures of this type alone will be featured, with First National sound releases also being shown as occasion demands.

The Hollywood house will give Warner Brothers three local units, the other two being the present Warner Brothers on Hollywood Boulevard and the Warner Brothers Downtown, formerly the Pantages.

Although Warner refused to comment on the matter, the announcement of the new theater and the recent purchase of the Pantages are seen by theatrical men as the first move by Warners in acquiring a chain of houses along the Pacific Coast to compete with the powerful Fox West Coast circuit, and the rapidly expanding R.-K.-O. chain.

Grumbling of Wife No Basis for Separation

A wife grumbling because she does not have all the pretty clothes she desires, or complaining that her husband is not making more salary, are things that do not constitute sufficient cruelty on which the husband can base a divorce complaint. Superior Judge Bishop so held yesterday when he denied George Hario Brock a legal separation from Mrs. Mattie Lee Brock.

Brock said that he and his wife were married at Santa Ana on December 27, 1926; that soon after the marriage Mrs. Brock was taken ill, which brought on a big doctor bill for her treatment. In order to curtail expenses until the bill was paid the couple went to live with Brock's mother, the husband said.

After the young wife got well she constantly grumbled and complained about not having pretty clothes and money enough to live on separately from her mother-in-law, Brock declared. And, all the time he was struggling to pay the doctor bill, he said.

After hearing the husband's testimony Judge Bishop held there was not sufficient ground on which to base a divorce complaint and denied the decree.

Woman Reports "Purity White Rats" Annoy Her

Investigation into charges that unidentified persons calling themselves the "Purity White Rats" have been sending Mrs. R. M. Burroughs, 18 years of age of 1321½ East Eighty-first street, threatening letters and annoying a gentleman friend was ordered by Sheriff Traeger yesterday after the woman requested protection.

In addition to receiving letters Mrs. Burroughs told deputy sheriffs that some one had jabbed a heavy sewing machine needle into the arm of Wesley Spencer, 21, of 1327 North Alvarado street, while he was escorting her through a crowd.

Needles and letters also have been found in Spencer's automobile on numerous occasions, it was reported.

Talking Canine Awarded Klein

Pola, the talking dog, hereafter will belong to Sam Klein, it was decided after a two-day trial in Superior Judge Oster's court, which ended yesterday.

Abraham Blumenfield had sued for the possession of Pola, declaring she is worth $90,000. Klein contended he had trained Pola and the dog will obey no one but him.

DIVORCE PLEA BASED ON GAS AND LIGHTS

When Leonard W. Fitzgerald left home he not only deserted his wife, but ordered the gas and electricity turned off, Mrs. Linda Fitzgerald asserts in her divorce complaint filed yesterday. Before he left he said, according to her statement: "Get away. I don't want your kisses, I've got another woman I can kiss." Mrs. Fitzgerald, through her attorney, S. S. Hahn, asks for $150 a month alimony, declaring that her husband's salary is $75 a week.

DAUGHTER IN MOTHER'S STEPS

Both Playing Parts in Talking Films

Nora Cecil and Dorothy Cecil

Over on stage 1 of the same studio Dorothy Cecil, her daughter, is making her talking-picture debut in a musical romance starring Dennis King.

Nora Cecil, a fair colleen from old Erin, was 19 years of age when she made her début on the London stage, just three decades ago.

Dorothy Cecil is just that age now as she is stepping before the microphone for the first time. Although she has only a small bit in the production, her tests promise a successful dramatic future, according to the casting office.

Nora Cecil once was one of England's famous stage actresses. She was brought to this country as the leading woman in "The Beauty and the Beast." She made her screen debut in 1918 at Fort Lee, N. J. The Cooper picture, "Seabids," is her second talking venture.

KIN REQUEST POLICE HUNT FOR WOMAN

Mrs. L. Z. Duncan Believed Astray in City Crazed by Grief at Loss of Husband

Her mind believed to have been affected by grief over the recent death of her husband, Mrs. Louise Z. Duncan, 48 years of age, of 222 North Arden Boulevard, was the object of a police search yesterday.

According to police Mrs. Duncan left here with a ticket for Iowa on the 3rd inst. The same day she left the train at Indio, Cal. It was learned. After that no word was received of her until Wednesday, when she telephoned to a friend that she was on West Seventh street but "could not get out because of someone following her," according to Detective Lieutenant Ackley of the missing persons detail.

When last seen Mrs. Duncan was carrying $600 in cash and traveler's checks, it was stated. A sister-in-law, Mrs. W. B. O'Donnell of 1136 Ridgeway Drive, made the missing-person report.

Mrs. Duncan was described as 5 feet 4 inches in height, ninety-five pounds in weight, very thin, sallow-complexioned, with black hair streaked with gray, dark brown eyes and when last seen was wearing a blue serge dress trimmed in red, a tan coat with fur collar, and black turban hat.

Studio Art Man Will Decorate Beauty Salon

Juan Larrinaga, art director for motion-picture studios, has been commissioned to transform the Ambassador Auditorium into an immense Parisian salon for the First Annual National Beauty Show, scheduled for October 5 to 12. Larrinaga expects to employ pastel shades to create unusual effects.

Prophecy is made that the show will definitely establish Los Angeles as the beauty culture center of the world in that it is the first exposition ever to be staged on which milady will have the opportunity to peep behind the scenes in actual demonstrations of beauty.

"This city is world famed for its advanced methods of beauty culture and the attendance at the exposition of more than 100 of the most famous of the exponents of the art of beautification undoubtedly will result in the adoption of these new ideas throughout the nation and the world," said Mildred J. Caldwell, president of the Los Angeles Hairdressers' and Cosmetologists' Association, sponsoring the event. "At the same time Los Angeles will obtain new ideas in beautification that will contribute to its dominant position in the field," she said.

WORLD FLYER WILL SPEAK

Lieut. Henry Ogden, member of the army group which first circled the globe by air, will speak before the newly formed Aviation Chapter of the American Legion, at Patriotic Hall tonight. The topic of Lieut. Ogden's talk has not been disclosed.

SALVATION ARMY PLANS NEW HALLS

Brig. Bell, Back from Northern Meeting, Reveals $298,000 Program

Brig. James C. Bell, officer in charge of the Los Angeles division of the Salvation Army, returned yesterday from San Francisco, where he attended a meeting of the council of the western states, presided over by Commissioner Adam Gifford. The brigadier brought before the council important matters which pertain to the work of the army in Southern California, his suggested program for the coming two years including the outlay of $298,000 in erection of new buildings.

Among the suggested improvements in buildings and new edifices to be erected will be that of the Hall for Los Angeles Corps No. 4, Wilmington, San Pedro, Santa Monica and Inglewood halls costing $65,000. The Venice community center will be completed at a cost of $30,000, and the young people's camp at a cost of $5000.

Preparations are being made for the Comrades of Yesterday, meetings to be held in Los Angeles at Corps No. 2, on October 6, and for the great young people's rally, to which 1500 delegates will be sent, which will be staged early in November. Commissioner Gifford will be in charge of the latter meeting, which will include young people from both the Los Angeles and the Orange Belt divisions.

STAFFORD UNABLE TO FACE TRIAL

Grain Dealer's Illness Delays Hearing on Charge of Statutory Offense

Trial of C. C. Stafford, El Monte grain merchant, charged with a statutory offense against Miss Rae Schade, his secretary, yesterday was continued to Monday by Superior Judge Wilson.

Stafford is reported ill in a Pasadena hospital and, according to his physicians, was unable to appear in court yesterday. The continuance also was made necessary by the fact that W. J. Ford, attorney for Stafford, is engaged in the trial of Mrs. Lola Pantages in Judge Hardy's court.

According to present arrangements with the District Attorney's office, Stafford is scheduled to go on trial before Alexander Pantages, for whom Ford also is attorney. It was said another continuance of the Stafford case Monday may result in a postponement of the trial of the theatrical magnate on a charge of attacking 17-year-old Eunice Pringle.

Speeder Given Jail Sentence

Arthur Hahn of 1817 West Fifty-ninth street, was given five days in the City Jail by Traffic Judge Swain yesterday when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of speeding at a mile-a-minute gait along Norton street on the 7th inst.

Motorcycle Officer H. R. Hoyt testified that he arrested Hahn after pursuing him for nearly a mile. Hahn's automobile was traveling at sixty miles an hour during the chase, the officer declared.

CONFEDERATE GROUP WILL RECEIVE HONOR

Thirty members of Camp No. 770, United Confederate Veterans, next Sunday will be made honorary members of Los Angeles Camp No. 36, United Spanish War Veterans, with ceremonies at Dixie Manor, San Gabriel, which is maintained by the Daughters of the Confederacy. The ceremonies, which will begin at 2 p.m., will be marked by a full military mustering-in, followed by greetings extended by Civil and Indian War veterans.

DALE, UNION ORGANIZER, SUCCUMBS

Pioneer Californian Was Prominent in A.F. of L. Activities in Southwest

Joshua B. Dale, veteran organizer for the American Federation of Labor, died of apoplexy at the Hotel Stillwell early yesterday morning after about two months of illness, the last ten days of which were especially severe. He was 84 years of age, a half-century of which was spent as a Californian.

Dale was 14 years of age when he went to Vallejo with his parents from his native Missouri. He worked in the early days as a driver of the twenty-mule teams that drew the large harvesting machines of Northern California. It was not long until he joined the teamsters' union and soon became an organizer for it. When he died he still was a member of the Vallejo local and of the Masonic Lodge there.

For twenty years Dale had been a general organizer in the Southwest for the American Federation of Labor. In more recent years he was personal representative also of President Green of the federation. His territory extended east to include Texas and Oklahoma and north to include Nevada.

Dale was one of the widest known and most conservative of union leaders the country ever. His counsel was sought many times by the wage heads in unionist undertakings here and elsewhere. He was a particularly powerful speaker.

The body is at Pierce & Lowe, undertakers, pending funeral arrangements. The widow and a son, Marion, reside at Vallejo.

Liquor-Owning Charge Proved

Failing to renew her charges, made at the time of her arrest, that she was beaten up by Detective Lieutenant Mat Berenzweig, head of the police raiding squad, Mrs. Margaret Saroni, 39 years of age, was found guilty of liquor possession by a jury in Municipal Judge Sheldon's court yesterday. She will be sentenced today.

Witnesses called by Deputy City Prosecutor Kaufman testified to finding liquor in the woman's house at 124 North Harvard Boulevard. Following her arrest Mrs. Saroni declared her back was injured when she was "shoved several times" by Berenzweig. Police Surgeon Kirkpatrick, who examined her, reported that he was unable to find any evidence of injury. Berenzweig denied the charges.

YOUNG REVIEWS WELFARE WORK

Governor Gives Address to United Brotherhood

Schools Greater Asset Than Climate, He Believes

Penal Reform System to be Best in Country

Declaring that the material wealth and general happiness of a commonwealth increase according to the development of moral standards and the humanitarian measures adopted by its citizenry, Gov. Young in an address to the United Brotherhood Club at the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday said the prosperity of California "which is growing more rapidly than any other State," is due more largely to educational and social welfare institutions than it is to this State's climate and industrial and business opportunities.

Gov. Young dwelt at length upon the humanitarian aspects of our State life, referring especially to education, health institutions, penology and social welfare.

Discussing education, the speaker said that the matter of instruction of youth is one of the most important phases of any government, being one of the most expensive and one of the most valuable functions of governmental administration. "It is the duty and the privilege of the citizens of today to see to it that the citizens of tomorrow shall be better equipped, materially, physically, mentally and morally than are the men and women who compose the citizenry of the present generation," said Gov. Young.

"One of the principal reasons for thousands of families leaving various parts of the United States to make their homes in California is that the standard of education is higher in this State than in any other State in the Union," said the Governor.

Mentioning progress in the matter of prison reforms and the reclaiming of society's derelicts, Gov. Young said that California's reform schools are among the most efficient to be found in America, adding that "with the Whittier Home for juvenile delinquents, the Prescott School for larger boys, San Quentin, Folsom, the reformatories for girls, and the Intermediate Prison for Boys and the Woman's Prison, soon to be built, in the Southland, California is rounding out one of the best penal systems in the country."

The recent prison outbreaks in the East were due largely to the overcrowding of those institutions," said Gov. Young. "San Quentin, also, is overcrowded but our prison road camps, established in 1913, have helped greatly to relieve the situation and have helped to build up the physical and moral fiber of hundreds of prisoners."

In charge of the program yesterday were Eli Bush, president of the Brotherhood Club of Los Angeles; George Hooper, chairman of the Luncheon Club, and Judge Scott, the latter introducing the speaker. Music was provided by the Shrine Double Quartet. Gov. Young today will visit the Pomona Fair.

CARTWRIGHT TO SPEAK

Former State senator Cartwright will be the speaker at the luncheon of the Los Angeles Exchange Club at the Biltmore today. His subject, in connection with the nation-wide observance of Constitution Week, will be "The Constitution." C. W. Mason of the Mercer Corporation will be chairman. The entertainment will be provided by Miss Anna Whitehill, soprano, and Miss Ethel Hermans, accompanist, both of the Security Office of the Security-First National Company.

Clift Due Soon From England

An insight into British film producing methods will be given local motion-picture executives, while Denison Clift, playwright and director, returns next week after more than eighteen months in England as an associate producer.

Arrangements are also under way for a welcome home dinner to be tendered Clift, who arrived in New York yesterday. During his sojourn in London he made three sound productions, two of them being adaptations of stories written by himself. He is the only American director to have produced talkies pictured in England to date.

According to Clift, England is fully cognizant of the strides being made by American producers in the realm of talking pictures and the British film executives slowly are equipping their studios to meet the worldwide demand for the new form of entertainment.

SETTLING OF RICHMAN'S SUIT HINTED

Night Club Owner Not Yet Informed, But Says Sum Cannot Exceed $1000

Characterizing the damage suit for $250,000 brought against him by Miss Frank, dancer, as a blackmail scheme, Harry Richman, New York night club owner and friend of Clara Bow, yesterday declared that if a settlement of the suit has been made out of court it necessarily involved an amount less than $1000.

Richman, who is in St. Vincent's Hospital recovering from a minor operation, stated he has not yet been advised by Judge Charles Tolbert, his New York attorney, of a settlement. He said that following the action brought against him by the girl, who charged him with attacking her in a Pullman car in Pittsburgh, he authorized his attorney to expend about $700 to retain a Pittsburgh attorney to handle the case there.

If a settlement has been made it cannot exceed this amount, Richman said. Richman is in Hollywood engaged in motion-picture work and expects to be able to leave the hospital within a few days he said. He denied he ever was acquainted with the Frankn girl.

Today's Bible Text

"That your faith should not stand in the judgment of men but in the power of God." I Corinthians 11:5.

GATES OF GAZA

The cables told of fighting at Gaza. Maybe since Samson carried off the gates of the town anybody can get in.

THAT VIENNA WALTZ

Austrian prisons are being equipped with radios. This may seem to be rubbing it in, but the real idea is to enable convicts who can no longer see the beautiful blue Danube to have a chance to hear it.

HOLIDAY PROBLEMS

How would the sockless sisterhood expect to lure Santa Claus? They can't hang up their union suits because they don't have them any more. Maybe they expect to go back to stockings when the sun goes down.

STILL BUILDING UP

California maintains its place as third in the Union in the extent of its building operations. New York and Pennsylvania are still in the lead, although there are months when California is ahead of the Keystone State. Naturally the California showing is based upon the returns from Los Angeles county.

SAVE YOUR DAYLIGHT

California is expected to have a popular referendum on the adoption of daylight saving. We have the finest daylight in America and it is well worth saving. Let the watchword be: Save your daylight. Make believe you are Scotch and be thrifty with your sunshine—even if there is a big bunch of it.

THE STINGY MAN

Woman says that the $5 he paid the preacher when they were married was the only money the husband ever spent on her. At that the tight-wad has been worrying because he didn't go to a $2 minister. He may be thrifty, but he has no right to take it out on a lady. No wonder she is going elsewhere for muffins.

CALL FOR LIGHT

There have been voiced or written protests from more than 5000 property owners in connection with the proposition to create a cement plant in the Beverly Hills district. There have been nearly seventy sessions on the official hearing. It would seem that it was time for the farce to end. The citizens want to know if their suspicions are justified.

ARGENTINE TRADE

American exports to Argentina for the first seven months of the year reached nearly $130,000,000 in value. This is one-third greater than for the same period in the previous year. Our imports from the Argentine this year were only to the value of $70,000,000, leaving the trade balance rather heavily in our favor. The citizens of Buenos Aires are heavy buyers of our motor cars and other polished wares. When they get going they want the best.

HARD LINES

A steel magnate says that the chain stores, the mail-order houses and the automobile are a hard combination for the country store or the small merchant to compete with. The one undersells him, the other comes into his home with pictures of its stuff and the motor car carries the crowd past his place to the department store of the big city. The little store-keeper must make his living on the odds and ends or else possess qualities that would make him a Napoleon in the larger field.

A HOOVER SCHOOL

There is a new Herbert Hoover High School in the adjoining community of Glendale and a mere glance at this educational plant will convince anyone that it can bring no disgrace upon the Hoover name. There are eight beautiful buildings in the great group and they have the last word in modern equipment. The outfit will bump the taxpayers for something like a million and a half, but there is nothing too good for the rising generation—even if the kids sometimes seem to slightly fall in their appreciation.

THE GRAND JURY AND SHULER

The action of the grand jury and the Bar Association committee in forcefully bringing to public attention the groundless and irresponsible character of the radio attacks of Rev. R. P. Shuler upon public officials, public functions and the orderly processes of the courts is one calculated to serve the public interest.

Because Mr. Shuler is a minister of the gospel, because many of his acts are rightly intended, because his voice is often raised against oppression and unrighteousness, he has, heretofore, largely escaped the consequences of a deliberate recourse to methods which, if employed by the political agitator, the soap-box orator or the ordinary character assassin, would arouse public indignation and result in quick condemnation and repudiation.

As has been amply established by the Bar Association and the grand jury, the "evidence" upon which Shuler bases his radio diatribes consists to a very great extent of gossip, innuendo, hearsay, neighborhood rumors and anonymous "information." Shuler has taken an improper advantage of his position as a minister, and while posing, possibly to himself as well as to the public, as a champion of the public interest, has poured, as authenticated truth, a vast volume of mischievous and groundless back-talrs gossip into the credulous ears of thousands of men and women who have believed not only in his sincerity, but in his reliability.

Now he finds himself discredited by disinterested and high-standing bodies of respected men who have been forced, as a matter of community information and protection, officially to rebuke him as a public nuisance and a spreader of falsehood.

Coincidentally, the grand jury of Los Angeles county, after long and careful investigation of radio charges by Shuler, and a committee of the Los Angeles Bar Association called to investigate his charges of jury "fixing" in the Pantages case, find that the minister has broadcast baseless assertions concerning imagined abuses of the gravest and most reprehensible nature. In dispassionately designating these charges as based on nothing more substantial than "gossip, superficial inquiry and vague suspicion," the grand jury has done much to allay the popular uneasiness and distrust created by them.

The Bar Association committee has, likewise, performed a public service in exposing his Pantages jury charges as unjustified and groundless.

Shuler thus is strikingly presented in his true light—that of a mischievous and trouble-making public gossip whose radio broadcasting of malicious and unfounded innuendo has seriously hampered the honest and efficient discharge of public functions.

Investigation by the grand jury of Shuler's radio charge, later repeated to the grand jury, that Los Angeles policemen and a former local police official were engaged in extorting money from persons accused of violating the law, showed these charges to be unjustified "by any showing of evidence or a reasonable indication of evidence."

Shuler admitted to the grand jury that he did not know whether his accusations were true or false and said he had no means of obtaining the facts. This matter was in no way related to the disclosures of the bootlegger, McDonald, which were brought about by an investigation conducted by Chief of Police Davis, which were heard secretly by the grand jury and which resulted in the indictment of a half dozen police officers without the knowledge or "assistance" of Shuler. The individuals were in no case identical with those accused by Shuler.

Of his charges against the police the grand jury commented: "Persons guilty of the crimes charged by him would be subject to prosecution for the commission of a felony and if found guilty would be sentenced to terms in State's prison."

But, as Shuler admitted in Judge Hardy's court concerning his sensational reflections upon the Pantages jury, "he uttered suspicions only, which, by his own words, were imparted to him by others."

The grand jury casts no reflection upon Shuler as the pastor of a church, or upon his religious beliefs, or upon his personal or political views.

Concerning itself solely with the case before it, and with Shuler in the role of sponsor of idle and highly damaging rumors, the grand jury explains that his charges have been found, upon investigation, to be imaginary and puerile.

"No public good has been accomplished by his methods," the grand jury says, "no public abuses corrected, and innocent persons, by innuendo and irresponsible gossip, have been unjustly suspected and accused." And this conclusion leads to the further pertinent observation:

"Consistent practice of such mischievous and meddlesome activities mentioned by the grand jury in connection with its reference to the charges of the Rev. Shuler not only will demonstrate their lack of value in detecting and punishing criminals, but will lead to conditions in any community that are directly and definitely encouraging to the free exercise of private malice and personal spite."

The language employed by the grand jury in its condemnation of the radio tactics of Shuler is dignified and restrained and is obviously dictated by a sincere desire to render a public service. It does not attack Shuler, nor say that he is a hypocrite, or that he is a liar. He is depicted rather as a dangerous meddler, as a public gossip, whose irresponsible and presumptuous appeals to popular passion and prejudice threaten the good name of Los Angeles and menace the safety of its citizens.

Shuler is a little man with a huge ego, a large voice—and a radio. He is a mud-slinger and a sensationalist. He is not known at large for his good works as a spiritual leader, but is recognized as a certain noise that is increasingly becoming a public annoyance. He misleads those who believe in him and unreservedly abuses those who oppose him.

The fiasco which attended his interference with the Pantages trial, the denunciation by the grand jury of his methods, and other episodes in which his reputation for honesty of purpose have not been strengthened, all contribute to placing him in true—if unattractive—perspective before the people.

SCENIC OR SIGN-IC?

The people of California have received a powerful ally in their fight to rid our highways and countryside of the objectionable signboard, received it, moreover, from an unexpected quarter. The Standard Oil Company offers substantial cash prizes through a popular competition for the best suggestions on the curbing of this interminable evil. This prize competition is but one phase in the general campaign launched by the Standard Oil Company to arouse public sentiment against the disfiguring of the landscape by the indiscriminate erection of roadside billboards.

Contrary to public opinion the majority of the obstructive highway signs are not placed there by the big companies, at least directly. An investigation of the major highways, undertaken by the California State Chamber of Commerce, disclosed that of 36,070 signboards tabulated but 2686 were structures erected and maintained by organized outdoor advertising companies. Indeed, several of the larger corporations are co-operating with the California State Chamber of Commerce to discover a remedy for this rapidly growing desecration of California's natural beauties.

Several years ago the Standard Oil Company abandoned highway advertising and destroyed some 1200 of its signboards. If there is a profit in this exploiting of the countryside—and apparently there is or the practice would not have reached such alarming proportions—certainly the Standard Oil would be among the first to benefit by it. When this influential corporation not only refuses to avail itself of so easy a form of advertising, because it is an offense against nature and a detriment to the pleasure of the motoring public, but also devotes its time and large sums of money to save the scenic routes of California from the depreciation certain to follow an extension of the nuisance, it sets an example in public spirit still lacking in the smaller breed of billboard posters.

In the light of the general disfavor now being showered against the highway billboard the Standard Oil Company displays good business sense in thus taking a prominent part in the campaign. For it is manifest that commercial concerns court popular disfavor by resorting to this device. Oregon and Washington have both put billboards off their streets and highways. New Mexico is following suit. It seems probable that in time California public opinion will bring our State in line.

Whether the prizes Standard is now offering for a solution of this intricate problem will bring forth an immediate scheme for curbing the menace is at present an open question. Some of our best brains have long been at work on the problem without practical results. It bristles with legal difficulties. But there can be no doubt the contest will be of immense service in rousing public sentiment. And the potency of this weapon to obtain results has been well illustrated in the case of Honolulu, where public sentiment alone has cleared the beautiful island of the roadside atrocities with which it was once disfigured.

PORT OF LOST MAIDENS

According to police records an average of 4000 women in Paris are reported as disappearing each year. Possibly half of these mysteries are later explained, but the other half are never heard from. Maybe if they would beat up the brush in the Hollywood sector they might stumble on a few of them.

CALL THE COACH

Aunt Jezebel thinks this new bus that carries thirty-two passengers to New York would be big enough for a football coach.

WHERE DO THEY GET IT?

By James J. Montague

Nero was a wicked person
Filled with violence and rage.
You can hardly find a worse 'un
In all history's darkest page.
Nero was forever turning
To the wicked ways of sin
When his own home town was burning
He just played his violin.
His was criminal quintessence,
He was evilly demented,
Yet in Caesar's adolescence
Movies hadn't been invented.

You have heard of Bloody Mary,
Who was savage, fierce and mean,
It's agreed she was a very,
Very, very, wicked queen,
All her hatreds were deep rooted,
Clemency she quite disdained,
And some one was executed
Almost every week she reigned.
Yet she never heard a word of
Any screen abomination.
Such a thing had not been heard of
When she held her lofty station.

Sometimes boys get wild and flighty
Even in this present day,
Sometimes girls grow highty tighty
Just because they're born that way.
Shakespeare's rated as a wonder,
But he turned out, heaven knows,
Just as much rough blood and thunder
As do any movie shows.
And I ask you, sir and madam,
When your youngsters stray from merit,
Isn't it the bad old Adam
That they happened to inherit?

The LEE SIDE O' LA

By Lee Shippey

THERE is no rose without its thorn, no Eden without its serpent. From time to time this colyum has descanted on the kindly neighborliness and sweet simplicities of Ourville. But now we must hang our head in shame. Ourville has its dog poisoner.

The other night we had reason to thank our stars for our absent-mindedness. It caused us to forget to turn off our sprinkler system. (Confidential: Sprinkler system sounds important, doesn't it? Ours consists of some half-inch hose and a sprayer from Mr. Woolworth's.) We remembered it an hour too late and dashed out. We'd just turned off the water when a strange sound reached us. At first we thought we'd scared some of the birds that nest in the bougainvillea. We were just about to go in and shut the door behind us when that sound changed to a flop, like that of a chicken with its head off.

We ran across the yard and came on Brownie, our faithful Neardale, in convulsions. His legs and body muscles were as stiff as if he were already dead. He couldn't—or wouldn't—whimper.

We called out the family. The children all ran out in their nighties and began to cry. Our wife ran for Neighbor Roess, who has dogs of his own, while he did what we could for the sufferer. Roess took one look. "Strychnine!" he swore, and backed out his car.

The veterinary took one look and then he also said "Strychnine!" He also breathed the word as if it were a curse.

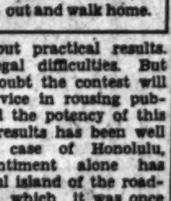
Two Innocent Bystanders

Well, the veterinary saved Brownie, though he was mighty sick for three days. And though he's never bitten anybody yet, there's one unknown we'd rather like to have him bite. Brownie is a dog all the children in the neighborhood can maltreat, ride, pinch, sit on or wrestle with and why anyone could take a chance of poisoning him we can't understand. For that matter, we can't understand how anyone can poison any dog. Why make a near-human creature suffer terrible agonies for hours or days when a complaint to the authorities, if you have a legitimate complaint, will get you more certain and satisfactory results?

We saved Brownie, but when the excitement was over we noticed Minou, the kitten, was gone. We searched high and low and couldn't find Minou. We gave up. But three days later little John heard a moan, under the garage—and there we found Minou, just coming back to life, it appeared, its hinoquarters still stiff with that strange stiffness strychnine creates. Evidently the kitten had got a little of the poison Brownie had gotten and for three days had been in agonies.

Not All in Ourville

It is hard to understand how anyone can be cruel enough to throw out poisoned meat where any passing animal may get it. We don't believe that dose was intended for our Brownie, or for Minou, either. They just happened to be the animals which got it. And yet in nearly every Southern California town a dog-poisoner gets busy now and then. The Santa Ana Register the other day contained a bitter poem addressed to "The Dog - Poisoner," indicating that sainted Santa Ana suffers even as Ourville does. Pasadena, the superfined, and Altadena, the exalted, have endured such fiendish visitations. And veterinarians in Santa Monica and Long Beach and Pomona and Redlands are familiar enough with poisoned dogs to know the minute they see one walking as if on stilts that it has been given strychnine.



Ask the Nature Doctor

Lee: A Vienna scientist, I see by The Times, has discovered a serum which will make dumb-bells bright and clever. But surely we don't need anything like that in this country. Isn't it true that any well-advertised cigarette will do all that, and make you beautiful and slender to boot?—K. P.

Zionists Helped Arabs

LONG BEACH, Sept. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] May I be permitted to reply to H. L. Sherman's letter on "Arabs in Palestine" which appeared in the Los Angeles Times on September 10?

The British mandate in the Holy Land has not restricted the rights of the Arabs in preference to the Jews, nor have their privileges been jeopardized in any way. The Arabs also have Egypt, Transjordania, Syria and Irak besides. It is true they rendered valuable military service in the conquest of Palestine, but we must remember that it was under the strategic leadership of the British and with enormous bribes. It was also to their advantage, for they realized that they would fare much better under British rule than Turkish oppression.

With the so-called invasion of the Jews the Arabs enjoyed newly created advantages. Hospitals, clinics, infant welfare stations, soup kitchens and other institutions, organized by the Zionists, were open to all, irrespective of sex, race, color or creed. There were as many Moslems as Jews treated absolutely free of charge.

The Arabs were also given employment in other phases of endeavor wherever their intelligence fitted them for. Only a small proportion dwell in cities. These Arabs own all the cafes and bazaars as they did before the Balfour declaration. The Jews did not attempt to crowd them out nor take their livelihood from them.

Prefers Old Calendar

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Regarding the simplified calendar which you "editorialized" today, why not list all the disadvantages of this arrangement—the thirteen water bills, thirteen gas bills, thirteen electric light bills and thirteen of all the other kind of monthly bills where a monthly minimum is set? I can quite see how it would be of great advantage to the banks and corporations to get thirteen payments of everything instead of twelve, but what about us worms, the general public, who pay everything? Do you suppose that the public utility corporations are going to reduce their minimums so that the thirteen months will not cost any more than the twelve months? I'll say they are not. It will throw a lot of people out of work and increase living expenses.

OLIVE M. PEAK.

Wilson and the War

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have always held considerable regard for Mr. Harry Carr's pertinent remarks, but on various occasions within the last two or three years he has shown evidence of going into a mental decline.

For instance, his observation last Saturday that Woodrow Wilson dragged us into the World War is about the last word. Does Mr. Carr forget that famous, if somewhat unfortunate, remark: "Too proud to fight." Also the fact that Mr. Wilson was elected for a second term principally on the reason that he had kept us out of war.

As for not getting anything out of the World War, isn't prestige something, and at any rate, we got prohibition, which ought to satisfy Mr. Carr.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Adjustment to Life?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The Sentous Evening High School, 1205 West Pico is offering a course in healthful thinking from 7 to 9 p.m. in the auditorium. This course is free to all, and people of advanced years are especially urged to avail themselves of this opportunity to either choose a vocation or to advance themselves in their present position.

In addition to vocational guidance, this course will discuss the problems of family life and the elements of social success.

Through careful study of actual psychology, students in this course will learn to evaluate apparent failures and turn them into progress. They will learn the basic psychology for successful relations in business and in all walks of life.

The class meets every Friday. Tuition is free and there is no text-book. The "P" car stops at the door.

Normans Should Speak Up

Normans who bled with William the Conqueror and his comrades at the Battle of Hastings have many descendants and two French professors have been commissioned to trace them so that their names may be placed on a tablet which soon is to be erected in the castle of Falaise, where the Duke of Normandy was born.

Star's Dieting Costly

Loss of weight is apt to cost Nikita Balieff, famous for his exceptional proportions in "Chauve Souris" and other stage productions, much money, but he has resolved to diet nevertheless. His size has always been regarded as one of his chief assets, but he is telling Paris and the world that he intends to reduce.

STORMY CAREER OF A NEWSPAPER

BY BAILEY MILLARD

The sale of the San Francisco Evening Bulletin marks the end of a newspaper which has had a most picturesque and turbulent career. The Bulletin was established in 1855 and lived for nearly three-quarters of a century. It was the oldest San Francisco newspaper printed in English, a French journal being a little older. All the other dailies of that city that were started during or just succeeding the gold-rush period have ceased publication, most of them long ago.

The Bulletin dates back to 1855, when it was established by James King of William, as he always called himself and is so known in San Francisco history. As one annalist notes, "the editor who started a newspaper in the 'fifties expected as a matter of fact to fight duels, and the rate of mortality was high." King's case was an exception to the rule. He was slain, but not in a duel. David C. Broderick, afterward a United States Senator from California, had been bitterly attacked by the Bulletin for his support of gang rule in San Francisco and King said he expected to be killed "by Broderick's hired bullies."

King raked up and printed the story that James P. Casey, a Supervisor, had once served a term of imprisonment in New York. Casey was a friend of Broderick's, who was said to have set him upon King. A man named Cora was referred to as an accomplice. Cora and Casey encountered King in the street and Casey shot him down.

The shooting incensed the populace. This was in 1856. In the previous year there had been 489 murders in California and only six legal hangings, with forty-six lynchings. King had favored lynch law and after his death his newspaper advocated it very strongly. His murder was one of the factors that led to the formation of the famous Vigilance Committee, whose leader was William T. Coleman, a leading merchant of the city. Casey and Cora were hanged by the vigilantes and there were other lynchings.

Still, strange to say, Broderick, known as a bitter foe of King and not very popular, was so strong in underground politics as to be able to secure a seat in the Senate at Washington. In 1859 he returned to San Francisco, quarreled with David S. Terry, a political opponent, and was killed by him in a duel. Not long before that the editor of the Alta California had met the same fate in a duel with an opponent he had attacked in his columns. Broderick had once been the proprietor of the Alta.

When George K. Fitch and Loring Pickering bought the Bulletin and Morning Call some years later, the two journals became a power in San Francisco and were quite prosperous. As city editor of the Call in the 'nineties I became well acquainted with both these men. Fitch was a tall, solemn man of undoubted journalistic ability, but hard to deal with at times. We used to call him "the Deacon." He was an advocate of the closest kind of municipal economy, favored cobblestones as against what he contemptuously called "plaster pavement" and opposed almost every kind of civic improvement that cost money.

After the death of Fitch and Pickering R. A. Crothers, a Canadian lawyer, gained control of the two newspapers. The Call afterward was sold to John D. Spreckels, but Crothers clung to the Bulletin. Although himself conservative, Crothers's editor caused the newspaper to drift into a radical groove despite the continued protests of Crothers.

In 1918 this editor retired from the newspaper and I was employed to take his place, but I had no particular taste for the job and left it after two years hard work, naming my own successor.

After I left his employ Crothers sold the Bulletin about five years ago to a group of San Franciscans who had had little experience in running a newspaper. However, it did fairly well in a financial way and at the time of its sale to the Hearst interests was valued at about $1,000,000.

The Bulletin, had many ups and downs. Under the editorship of George K. Fitch it had its days of greatest prestige. Among its contributors at that time were Robert Louis Stevenson, Charles Warren Stoddard and Joaquin Miller. All the newspaper work Stevenson did in California was done for the Bulletin. He afterward owned that it was the sale of manuscripts to Fitch that kept him from starving in San Francisco.

After Fitch's death the newspaper passed through various hands. In the nadir of its vicissitudes it was once sold for as small a sum as $12,000, but within seven years it was appraised at a million. Now its long career as an independent newspaper entity is over.

PRINCESS TO GET NEW NOSE

Princess Dallapattra, daughter of El Kamel, a prominent Egyptian, and for several years identified with modernizing the women of her country, though she herself is only in her twenties, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday from Paris. She is stopping at the Hollywood Plaza Hotel.

She today is to undergo an operation by Dr. Floyd Brown to improve her nose.

"Why should we not take advantage of modern science," she said, "and cultivate our faces still more. It is like planting flowers in a crude spot.

"I still work for the women of Egypt, but it is very slow. The whole world is becoming Americanized since the World War, but not my poor, unhappy country. When we are tiny girls the first thing we are taught after our Arabic letters and our religion is to obey our husbands, when we marry. If a girl is not married at 15 years of age she is an old maid, and what a disgrace that is."

City Without Jurisdiction in Building Case

County Supervisor Shaw yesterday called the attention of the Fire Commission to a city ordinance which provides that the city is without jurisdiction on construction methods for buildings erected by the county in the city prior to September 1, 1927.

As a result the commission passed a resolution to notify the Building and Safety Commission that it is without jurisdiction on the addition which the county desires to add to the roof of the communicable disease building at the County Hospital, since the building was constructed prior to the above date.

The Building and Safety Commission had granted permission for the construction pending approval of the Fire Commission.

BOND ISSUE APPROVED

The issuance of $82,000 in bonds to complete a water-distributing system in Hollywood Knolls was approved yesterday by the City Council. The residents recently voted a bond issue for that amount.

Fugitive Back to Face Trial for Forgery

Harry O. Hartman, who was arrested at Needles a few days ago, after having escaped near there about a year ago, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday in charge of Deputy United States Marshal Finn. Hartman is accused of forgery of a government compensation check. Arrested originally at New York, he was being taken to Los Angeles for trial when he escaped at Goffs, near Needles, on July 26, 1928, taking with him a deputy United States marshal's badge, revolver and handcuffs. Hartman will be held for arraignment within a few days.

PARK ELECTION APPROVED

An ordinance calling an election in the Roscoe community for a twenty-acre park was adopted yesterday by the City Council. The bond issue is for $150,000, of which $100,000 is for the land and $50,000 for improvements. The election will be held October 15. Councilman Randall, who represents the district, stated he will be included in the assessment.

HEARING DELAYED IN ACTRESS' CASE

Bee Montague

Preliminary hearing of Bee Montague, actress, on charges of drunk driving, was continued yesterday by Municipal Judge Lahey until next Wednesday on stipulation of Arthur Fisher, defense attorney, and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Choate, because of a crowded calendar.

The actress was arrested at Sunset Boulevard and Van Ness avenue, according to Choate, by police officers who saw her automobile, while traveling on the wrong side of the street, crash into one driven by E. H. Wenzel of 5043 Buchanan street. The officers found a small quantity of liquor in her car, according to Choate.

New Schedule Slashes Flying Time to Denver

Nine hours' air travel between Los Angeles and Denver will be made possible tomorrow, according to announcement yesterday of C. W. H. Smith, general traffic manager of Western Air Express. The increased service will be made possible, said Mr. Smith, by the starting of operations of the Midcontinent Air Express, which is closely affiliated with W.A.E.

The Midcontinent, said Mr. Smith, is to place seven Fokker Universal cabin planes in service. They will follow a route covering Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas and Texas.

The Midcontinent schedule has been arranged so planes leaving Denver will connect with the Western Air Express at Albuquerque.

Mr. Smith states that the flight from Denver to Albuquerque will take three hours, and from Albuquerque to Los Angeles the trip will be made in six hours.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Elaborate preparations are being made by the Hollywood film colony for the formal welcome to George Olsen and his orchestra, next Monday night in the Blossom Room of the Hotel Roosevelt. Olsen is internationally known for his records and for his radio broadcasting.

The well-known orchestra conductor is bringing twenty musicians with him in a special car from New York City.

NEW PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

An entirely new program of entertainment featuring a cast of twenty-two will be presented tomorrow noon in the Oaks Tavern Cafe at Hill and Fourth streets. According to Frank Rister, manager, it will be the most spectacular presentation ever offered in his cafe. A revue composed of twelve American beauties will be featured in the latest song and dance numbers.

CLUB MEETS AT STRAND

The Altrusa Club, composed entirely of women in executive and professional positions, held its first monthly luncheon and business meeting last Tuesday in the Strand Hotel, on Union avenue near West Seventh street, and adopted that hostelry as its regular place of meeting on the third Tuesday of each month.

The Italian Ladies' Club also held a dinner there recently.

STUDENTS TO HAVE FETE

The Montmartre University Club, composed of college students and professors, will celebrate collegiate night at the Montmartre Cafe this evening. Novel surprises have been planned for the entertainment of the students, with motion-picture celebrities sharing in the festivities. A dancing contest will be a feature of the evening, Proff Moore and his orchestra providing the music. On Saturday at noon a luncheon-dansant will take place.

CAFE WIDELY FAVORED

Paddy's Cafe, situated on Washington Place, the short cut from Culver City to Venice, is considered by many to be one of the city's finest eating establishments. Approximately $100,000 was spent by the management for equipment and buildings, the latter being of Moorish and Turkish architecture. It is planned to follow the same designs in the erection of future buildings in that vicinity, which will be known as the city of Allah.

BANQUET CENTER POPULAR

Besides serving the regular luncheon and dinners, the Serrano Tea Room, located at Serrano and Sixth streets, has been exceptionally busy this month with banquets and private parties, according to the proprietor, Elmer Jerome. Miss Ella Race of Decatur, Ill., entertained twelve guests at dinner there and Mrs. James O'Moore entertained her bridge club. Also the Past Presidents' Parlor and Auxiliary Railway Maids' Association held their monthly banquet there.

FIREMEN TO ADOPT NEW WORK PLAN

Double Platoon System Proves Success and Will be Made Permanent

Following a ninety-day trial, the twenty-four-hour system of duty for members of the Los Angeles Fire Department, as provided for by the voters in the last city election, yesterday was adopted by the Board of Fire Commissioners as a permanent arrangement, to replace the double-platoon system of twelve hours on and twelve hours off. Under the new arrangements each fireman is on twenty-four hours and off duty twenty-four hours, consecutively.

Fire Chief Scott reported to the board that at the expiration of ninety days' trial a vote had been held on the plan and 1166 members voted in favor, 284 voted against, sixty did not vote and two ballots were defaced. The action of the board was taken on the evident desire of the majority of the firemen wanting the new system to remain in effect.

FISHERMAN WILL TRY TO LAND HUMAN FISH

A contest in which a fisherman will try to land a human fish with regulation rod and reel is one of the novel stunts announced for the life-saving meet in the Griffith Park plunge tonight under auspices of the American Red Cross. Other events include demonstrations by Los Angeles municipal life guards, comedy diving, tub races and a balloon relay. Albert G. Gordon, head of the Red Cross life-saving corps, will be in charge.

Sunday's Wife Wins Divorce on Cruelty Grounds

Although Mrs. Julia Mae Sunday told Superior Judge Fleming that she could not prove her husband, Billy Sunday, Jr., son of the evangelist, has associated with other women, she said his conduct made her suspect that he did.

Mrs. Sunday went to court yesterday with one witness, Adele Rogers Hyland, prepared to tell a tale of marital unrest. The couple was married at Yuma, Ariz., April 3, 1928, and separated June 20, 1929.

Mrs. Sunday testified that her husband neglected her, was indifferent and on occasion disappeared from home for long periods. Mrs. Hyland corroborated her friend's statements. Judge Fleming granted a decree on grounds of cruelty.

JUNIOR CHAMBER TOLD ABOUT PLANE SERVICE

Three hundred members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce were given a resume of the development of air transportation by officials of the Maddux Air Lines at the weekly luncheon at the Biltmore. William S. Belt, general manager of the company, and Lieut. Tommy Tomlinson presented the subject. George McManus, artist, sketched his own life. It was announced that forty-five new members were accepted into the chamber last Tuesday. Bart Stebbins was appointed chairman of publicity, succeeding Fred Franklin; Ray Brown is chairman of the Frank Wiggins Memorial Room Committee, supplanting Harry Lamport, and Oscar Trippet was assigned the vice-chairmanship of the Community Chest, central division.

WOMAN ASKS ANNULMENT OR DIVORCE

Validity of Marriage in Mexico Questioned So She Seeks Court's Opinion

Replying to her husband's charges that they are not legally married, Mrs. Josephine E. Avent yesterday filed a suit against John V. Avent, wealthy Beverly Hills contractor, under the declaratory relief act, asking that the Superior Court determine whether a marriage to have been performed in Ensenada, Mex., is valid.

Mrs. Avent, who previously sued her husband for divorce, asks the court to grant her a decree if her marriage is legal. If not, she asks for an annulment of the purported marriage. In either case, she asks for the community property, $30,000.

In her divorce suit, Mrs. Avent names Leona Goodwin, film actress, as co-respondent. The Ensenada ceremony was performed in 1924 and as the couple have lived together ever since, they would be considered legally married if the provisions of the old common law prevailed in California. In some States a couple living together three years, with or without a license, are considered legally married.

Cruelty asserted by Mrs. Avent includes statements by her husband that other women were "just crazy" over him.

OLD-TIMERS PLAN PICNIC

The Newhall Old-Timers will hold their annual picnic and reunion next Sunday afternoon on the pier at Hermosa Beach, it was announced yesterday by L. M. Pardee, in charge of arrangements.

Social Figure of Many Ports Faces Charges

Taft Thew Houghton, 24 years of age, social light in many ports, yesterday was accused of impersonating a government officer in a complaint issued by United States Commissioner Hanson. The complaint charges Houghton with appearing at the Los Angeles Athletic Club and representing himself to be the third assistant Solicitor-General of the United States, and on such representation obtaining $20.

The asserted offense took place on July 29, last, it is charged. This was shortly after the youth, who also is said to have represented himself as the son of A. B. Houghton, former Ambassador to England, had been feted and entertained socially by naval officials at San Diego.

Commissioner Hanson fixed bail at $15,000 and Houghton was held pending the posting of bail.

Attorney Sues Divorced Wife

Although Mrs. Cora Boettcher Conlin, wife of Clarence Conlin, an attorney, obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce last April, Conlin yesterday sued for an annulment of his marriage on grounds of fraud, asserting that Mrs. Conlin misstated her age to him when they were married.

Mrs. Conlin, whose father, Herman Boettcher, is a millionaire business man, obtained her divorce on grounds of cruelty, stating her husband refused to wear the shirts she bought him and referred to her as "platter face." Conlin is a brother of the magician, Alexander the Great.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Calories Per Day

Question: W. G. J. writes: "Please tell me how many calories a day one should get in his food. I am underweight and am trying to improve by eating. Is it injurious to take salts every night? What causes fever blisters when one does not seem to have fever, or cause for it?"

Answer: Dietitians who try to balance patients' diets through the calorie theory might say that you require between 2500 and 3500 calories a day, but the truth is you may be able to get more nourishment and live better on 1000 calories daily, providing it is of the right quality. It is a bad habit to take salts every night. The so-called fever blisters are really caused by hyperacidity of the stomach, which is usually present when one has a fever; but, of course, these blisters may occur at any time from the overacidity when fevers are not present.

Shingles

Q.: Mrs. H. asks: "Will you kindly explain in plain language the cause of shingles, the symptoms, and if there is a cure?"

A.: The name "shingles" is given to a disorder caused by the deposit of toxic substances along certain nerve trunks. It always occurs on one side of the body at a time, and is more frequently found on the upper back or around the ribs on one side. The nerves are inflamed by the toxins, and the skin breaks out in a rash wherever the most irritation exists. The cure is through diet, and no local treatments are very effective. A fast taken at the onset of the disorder will hasten the cure, but even under this treatment it often takes a week or ten days for the eruption to disappear.

AUSTRALIA BANS JAZZ

Opera Tenor Visiting Here Tells of Action Taken in Home Land

Alfred O'Shea, Australian tenor, who sang Rudolpho to Melba's Mimi in "La Boheme" in London, arrived yesterday from San Francisco. He is stopping at the Hollywood Plaza.

"The Australian government," he said, "has just passed a law prohibiting jazz being played by any orchestra or a sheet of such music being imported into the country. It's as contraband as whisky is here, only no jazz gets in. This is the second government to take such action, the Russian soviet having placed such a ban several years ago."

O'Shea, born in Australia, studied in Italy and made his debut at Albert's Hall, London. Sponsored by Lord Dunsany, he is now presenting the songs of Francis Ledwige, the Irish poet who was killed in the war.

WHAT THE TWO-YEAR-OLD CAN DO. (By Request)

The activities of the average two to three-year-old child seem miraculous to the parents who are unfamiliar with children. They fill every listening ear with tales of their child's achievements and are themselves constantly surprised at the marked evidences of intelligence. The baby developes so quickly, at this age that we can understand how incredible his abilities must seem.

All children are not alike, we must reiterate tritely, but a cross-section of the activities of the average two-year-old will seem more than a bit familiar to the parents of children this age. If your own child is unable to accomplish all that the average two-year-old is capable of, it may be from lack of opportunity. Some parents wait on a child long past the age when he could dress and feed himself, it is no fault of his that he lacks the practice which will develop his abilities along these lines.

The two to three-year-old child in the nursery school is given free rein and he develops accordingly. He can walk up and down stairs, (holding on with one hand) and is able to carry small objects in the free hand. In fact he'll spend a good share of his time solemnly walking up and down clutching the rail with one hand a a nail or a teapot or some toy in the other.

He can feed himself at table, place his bib but not tie it, carry his own cup of milk without spilling and gather up his crumbs and carry them to the waste basket when the meal is finished. His activities range all the way from block building without much of a pattern in mind, riding all kinds of three-wheeled conveyances (but not a two-wheeled "bike") and hauling everything of a size almost equal to his own. Children of this age delight in lifting small chairs, or heavy blocks or in other ways exercising the large muscles. These games should be encouraged.

He can wash his face and dabble at his hands, manipulate his tooth brush awkwardly and run the comb through his hair. He should be trained to dryness at two years in daytime, but may have occasional slips at night.

The two-year-old likes to be told stories and look at books with large, bright pictures. He can carry two commands in mind, such as, "shut the door and bring mother the key," but his memory for other spoken commands hardly exceeds a half hour. The auditory memory and memory for experiences differs greatly with children. We know one two-year-old who recognized a geographic magazine and remembered that the previous issue contained butterflies. She said immediately: "My book—butterflies!" This same two-year-old understands directions in two languages and uses "I" properly instead of saying "me" or "Sally," as do most children of this age. She likewise speaks such sentences as "There's boat on the water" and "Another bug there" (looking at a picture.)

In addition to his development the child begins to show determination and a set desire to have his own way. This is natural and doesn't mean that he must be squelched, but that commands should be fewer and suggestions more frequent. It is trying period, this early pre-school period, because the child is less capable than he thinks himself. He needs tactful handling.

PRAISE GOES TO NANCE IN TORSO CASE

Work of Coroner's Office in Helping Solve Murder Mystery Recognized

High commendation was received yesterday by Coroner Frank A. Nance and his staff for their aid in helping to solve the so-called torso murder mystery in a letter from Wayne E. Jordan, assistant chief deputy District Attorney, who prosecuted and convicted Dr. Frank P. Westlake for the murder of Mrs. Laura B. Sutton. Westlake was sentenced to San Quentin for life.

Capt. William J. Bright, chief of Sheriff Traeger's homicide investigation detail, whose officers investigated the case, indorsed the letter, expressing himself as appreciating highly the aid received from the Coroner's office.

Dr. Frank A. Wagner, chief autopsy surgeon, is complimented particularly for establishing definitely that the skull found May 18, last, belonged to the torso which was discovered April 4 in the Los Angeles River bottom near Lynwood. Walter W. Kennedy, a technician under Dr. Wagner, established the fact that one ear lobe on the skull was pierced for earrings.

Four Arrested, Liquor Seized in House Raid

Raiding a house at 1402 East Thirty-eighth street, Detective Lieutenants Brown and Matthews, attached to the narcotic squad, yesterday confiscated 100 gallons of liquor, according to a police report, and as a result of the discovery took four men in custody on charges of possession and conspiracy to violate the Wright Act.

The arrested men gave their names as Guillermo Vasquez, 46 years of age, of 1509 East Twelfth street; Ray Vasquez, his son, 20; Sam J. Coniglio, 34, of 640 East Twenty-second street, and Ralph Fernandes, 36, of 1307 West Florence avenue.

According to the arresting officers, Vasquez and his son were on the premises at the time of the raid, but disclaimed responsibility for the liquor, naming Coniglio as the owner. Brown and Matthews then launched a search for Coniglio and found him, accompanied by Fernandes, at East Adams and San Pedro streets.

The police report of the arrests stated that both Coniglio and Fernandes were named in the indictment of Marry MacDonald, whose charges of police graft resulted in the subsequent indictment of six officers. Fernandes, according to police, was employed as a Federal prohibition agent here about four years ago.

DIVORCED MAN WOUNDS SUITOR

Ex-Husband Shoots Thrice at Asserted Rival

Ring Given by Former Mate Blamed for Trouble

Bullet Victim to Recover; Other in Jail

An altercation growing out of the asserted attentions of one man to the other's divorced wife yesterday sent James Stafford, 35 years of age, of 1216 Benton street, to the General Hospital with bullet wounds in his arm and leg, and landed Louis Jurich, 46, in jail as his assailant on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

The affray occurred in Stafford's home, police reported, and the shots, according to Jurich, were fired in self-defense.

Jurich, who lives at 452 Isabel street, and is the father of three children, 4, 6 and 8, told police that Stafford first began to make overtures to his wife when he became a boarder at the home of Mrs. Jurich's mother, Mrs. K. Ramsay, at 927 South Burlington avenue. As a result of the attentions, Jurich said he ordered him to leave, but, according to the police report, he persisted in telephoning the wife. About a month ago, Mrs. Jurich obtained a divorce.

Subsequently, Jurich sent his former wife $50 to defray expenses of an operation on the youngest child. With the money, however, police say Jurich told them, Mrs. Jurich had a ring her husband had given her remounted and presented it to Stafford.

It was in the hope of recovering this ring that Jurich went yesterday morning to Stafford's home. He carried a revolver, he said, only as a precaution against a possible attack by Stafford. Finding Stafford in bed, he invited him to discuss the ring, whereupon Stafford arose from bed, carrying the covers with him, and approached his visitor. Fearing Stafford intended to cover him with the bed linen and then attack him, Jurich fired three shots, it is charged. One struck Stafford in the right forearm, another in the right leg, and the third went wild.

Neighbors summoned police, and Detectives-Lieutenants McBride and Baer responded and took Jurich in custody. Stafford's wounds are reported as not being serious.

MATE THREATENED WITH KNIFE, WIFE SAYS

Stephen S. Stepansky was possessed of an ungovernable temper and once he got angry and pushed his wife through the back door of the Phoenix Country Club, Mrs. Eleanor Stepansky testified yesterday before Superior Judge Blake, who granted a divorce. The couple married in 1926 and separated in 1928, according to the wife's complaint. Mrs. Stepansky also declared her husband once threatened her with a knife, and she was compelled to go to the home of her mother, Mrs. Ella Campbell, in Long Beach. The wife's testimony was corroborated by her mother, who said she often saw bruises on the body of her daughter asserted to have been inflicted by her husband.

MOTORING DRIVE TO BEGIN TODAY

at excessive speed and without caution.

BRAKES TO BE TESTED

This will be the first time that citations will have been given for driving with faulty brakes. Hitherto motorists violating this law generally have been advised to go to the nearest brake-testing station. Faulty brakes have been the cause of numerous serious accidents, Gifford pointed out. In order that such citations may be given officers have been instructed to conduct tests on the spot wherever there is a suspicion that a car is not equipped with properly adjusted brakes, Gifford said.

It also was pointed out by the traffic chief that motorists who fail to appear in court or at the Traffic Fines Bureau as prescribed by citations within fifteen days will be liable to the loss of operation of their vehicles. Such information, it was stated, will be sent to the State Motor Vehicle Department at Sacramento with the result that the offender will be unable to obtain a new registration and operator's license until the judgment is satisfied in court, and then not until after the court has so verified the settlement.

The motorcycle officers' detail will be in personal charge of Police Lieutenant Lofthouse. The majority of these men, it was stated, have been working in squads watching the streets and highways for rum runners, gangsters and bandits. Many of the most important arrests and confiscations of large loads of liquor have been made by these squads, according to the records.

THORPE MAKES STUDY OF TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

A study of the reasons why automobilists violate traffic laws is being made by President W. G. Thorpe of the Police Commission which today will inaugurate a campaign to compel autoists to comply with city and state traffic measures.

For several days Thorpe has followed autoists and truck drivers in a police car to obtain data on law violations. Yesterday, in company with a police cameraman, he obtained several pictures of a truck which "hogged" the center of highways for several miles, leaving a lot of room on the right-hand side, instead of the left hand, for vehicles to pass. The pictures were taken at intervals from one-quarter to half a mile apart, but no arrest was made.

Thorpe seeks to delve into the reasons for the existence of hit-and-run drivers and asserted that thus far he has come to the conclusion that they compose the nervous, excitable individuals who are so shocked by a crash that their natural instinct for self-preservation gains the upper hand and they flee. He finds it is the cool, calm and level-headed driver who does the right thing after an auto accident.

CLUBS ENTERTAINING ARGENTINE SPORTSMAN

He is busy preparing for the international exposition of horsemanship, to be given at Sunset Boulevard and Vine street October 11, 12 and 13, with riders of all nations competing.

AIR LINE CUTS RATE FOR SAN DIEGO TRIP

Air travel round-trip rates between Los Angeles and San Diego are to be cut to $14.95 by Continental Air Express, beginning Sunday, it was announced yesterday. The new rate will be in effect for one month, company officials said, adding that this brings the air fare on this flight down to a fraction more than 6 cents a mile. Continental Air Express inaugurated a $40 round-trip air fare between Los Angeles and San Francisco, which the company asserts is the lowest mile rate in the country, 5½ cents a mile.

STAR SIGNS AGAIN WITH LASKY

Universal Expanding Foreign Language Production; Bryan Foy Preparing Many Vitaphone Short Films; Columbia Engages Large Cast for Picture

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Ruth Chatterton's dramatic talent is to have a conspicuous part in the newest of the show worlds, the talking pictures, it is now assured, for she has affixed her signature to a new contract with Paramount-Famous-Lasky, according to an announcement yesterday by B. P. Schulberg.

The actress' new contract calls for her to be starred in a series of pictures upon the completion of her next production, "Sarah and Son," filming of which starts soon under the direction of Dorothy Arzner. No decision has been made by Schulberg as to the picture in which she will make her stellar debut.

"Sarah and Son" is from a novel by Timothy Shea and is said to offer Miss Chatterton the most powerfully dramatic role she has yet been given.

In the space of a single year Miss Chatterton has achieved popularity as a screen actress that has surpassed even her notable success on the stage.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE FILMS TO BE MADE

Universal, we find, is not limiting itself to the production of German films, but is gradually expanding to a point where not only short subjects in German are being made, but both short and long features, in Spanish and German, are being filmed for the foreign market. These films will not only find a place in Spain and in Germany, but will also be welcomed in Mexico and South America and in Spanish and German colonies.

Universal is awaiting only the settlement of difficulties in the French and Italian picture markets as regards the importation into those countries of American films, we learned yesterday, to start production.

That brilliant young Universal producer, Paul Kohner, has the foreign production department under his charge with supervision by the Laemmles, of course, and it is while he is proceeding cautiously, step by step, much in the way of production has already been accomplished.

"Broadway" has been completed in German and in Spanish, the latter under advisership of Senor Lucio Villegas, Spanish writer and actor. "Shanghai Lady," starring Mary Nolan, is next to be produced in English, German and Spanish. Later short subjects are to be made in Swedish, Italian and other tongues.

Universal already has a German stock company, including Hugo Setzmann, former director of the German Theater here, Walter Bunn, well-known German and English stage actor, Greta Mann, from the Reinhardt Theater in Germany, and Hedwig Reicher, well-known stage and screen actress; while Joseph Schildkraut and Mary Nolan both will appear in German films. Miss Nolan formerly worked in films in Berlin, under the name of Imogene Robertson.

Romulo Tirado, a Spanish comedian, who appeared a short time ago at the Grauman Chinese Theater in a Spanish benefit performance, and scored a hit, is to appear in some Spanish short subjects.

Bryan Foy Is Busy

If there is a busier man in Hollywood than Bryan Foy, I don't know who he can be.

The son of Eddie the Great is preparing for the production of a large number of short Vitaphone subjects for Warner Brothers, all of which he will supervise and many of which he will personally direct.

Two of these subjects were announced yesterday, both to be directed by Foy. They will feature, respectively, those two clever stars, Ann Pennington and Johnny Arthur.

Ann Pennington will head the cast of an all-color short to be called "Night Club Baby," she will be supported by Phyllis Crane, Norman Selby, Jimmie Clemmons, Wheeler Oakman and Adrian Dore.

Johnny Arthur will be featured in "Stimulation," with Beatrice Blinn and Geneva Mitchell appearing opposite.

Honeymooners Returning

Norma Terris and her bridegroom husband, Dr. Jerome Wagner, will return to Hollywood this morning following their honeymoon trip to New York.

Miss Terris will start work at once under direction of Irving Cummings in "Dameo Kirby," which Fox is producing.

Large Cast for Columbia

Columbia is lining up a splendid cast for "The Broadway Hoofer," which George Archainbaud will direct.

Adele Dorey and Jack Egan will have the leading roles, while another feminine part, almost equally important with the lead, will be taken by Charlotte Merriam.

Louise Fazenda has a comedy lead, and others who will appear in the cast are Gertrude Short, Allen Forey, Bill Franey and Bill McKay.

Jim Farley Plays Detective

Once on a time Jim Farley was a secret service sleuth in the employ of the United States government. Now he is playing an identical role in Hoot Gibson's current production, "Courtin' Calamity," which Jerome Storm is directing for Universal.

Farley left the Los Angeles detective force in 1913 to portray a policeman in Harold Lloyd's first comedy. He never returned to his detective profession, but has remained in pictures ever since.

Irene Franklin Writes

It looks as though Irene Franklin and Jerry Jarnagin aren't to be able to fulfill any picture contracts in the West, at least, for some time to come, although they are under contract to Victor Halperin.

The pair are playing in the Hammerstein-Kern revue, "Sweet Adeline," which is making a big hit in New York.

"'Sweet Adeline' is a smash, a wow and a lot of other things I can't even spell," writes Miss Franklin. "Even the critics are dancing in the streets and building bonfires in the speakeasies over us. Jerry and I wrote three songs which we use.

"I have eight changes of costume, all with pinched-in waists, twelve-yard trains and ten-gallon hats with entire ostrich farms running around them.

"Jerry and I are flopping around town with the aid of a pair of parachutes. The opening night loot was swell—quarts of perfume, tons of candy, and I fairly out-hoped Hope Hampton with orchids."

Newsreel Will Present Great Sport Events

Timely news thrills in motion pictures are announced by The Times-Universal Newsreel to be shown soon in Southern California theaters featuring this service. Outstanding sports events are represented by shots of the $100,000 Futurity race at Belmont Park, Long Island, with 30,000 spectators cheering Whiteone, and by the finals of the national championship tennis match, with "Big Bill" Tilden shown beating Francis T. Hunter. Another sport thriller to be projected is the speedboat race on the Potomac River, with Imp II winning the President's Cup. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover are shown watching the race from the deck of a Coast Guard cutter.

Other subjects to be shown soon by The Times-Universal Newsreel are the first flight of the giant Fokker, largest land airplane ever built, the great Hindu festival at Puri, India, the newest coiffure designed at the hairdressers' convention in Detroit, and the new wooden bathing suits demonstrated by girls at Roquiam, Wash.

The Times-Universal Newsreel offers a quick tour of the world, showing all the interesting and timely news events.

Enrolling Begins on New U.C.L.A. Campus Today

Registration of what is estimated as a total of 6000 students will begin at the University of California at Los Angeles at 8:30 a.m. today. This is the first registration of students at the new Westwood campus. Classes will open formally Monday morning.

Special arrangements have been made to take care of the heaviest influx of students in the history of the institution. The work of registration will continue throughout the day. All new students will be registered Saturday from 8:30 until 2 o'clock.

Registration will be conducted in Royce Hall, and students who attended last year have been assigned to designated hours.

Transportation arrangements have been made to take care of students coming from different sections of the city by the addition of motor coaches to already existing bus lines and by the extension of others. Students from the vicinity of Hawthorne will be served by a bus that originates at that point; the Wilshire bus line has an extension going direct to the campus; another bus line has been established from the end of the Pico car line, and motor coaches also run in from Santa Monica.

FIRE STATION RENTAL FUND NOW EXHAUSTED

With no more funds to pay $500 a month rental after the end of the present month on the Hollywood fire station, and with the prospects of eight months being required to complete the new station at Wilcox and De Longpre avenues, the Fire Commission yesterday requested the City Council for an appropriation of 4000 for further rental of the old station at 1636 Cahuenga avenue. The request was made on recommendation of Fire Chief Scott, who stated that there was every indication that work will not be started on the new station within thirty days.

EAGELS ART ALLURES IN 'JEALOUSY'

Film Less Effective Than 'Letter,' but Plot Holds Marked Interest

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The white-hot flame of the Jeanne Eagels personality again serves to entice. She is appearing in "Jealousy" at the Paramount Theater. She undertakes the role of the woman under the vindictive domination of a wealthy lover that Fay Bainter recently interpreted here in the stage version.

"Jealousy" follows "The Letter," in which Miss Eagels made her debut as a talking feature star. It is a picture of less potentiality for her than its predecessor, but what opportunities it affords she makes much of. She is not in her ideal milieu as a heroine attempting to protect the integrity of her marriage and her happiness, but her dramatic technique when the emotion is pitched high is keen and fascinating. She is unique in her frail and hectic magnetism.

The picture itself furnishes curious sidelights on the seeming intractibility of certain subjects for the screen—even the talkie screen. There is at least much less scope for the imagination in the treatment that has been given the story in pictures. Instead of two characters that appeared in the play, one encounters various others that were only referred to, or at most spoke over the telephone.

The mysterious but powerful figure of Rigaud, who was the unseen menace of the stage play, becomes an actual person in the picture, and though he is very competently played by Halliwell Hobbes, loses much of his dramatic forcefulness. Rigaud it is who holds Valerie, the wife of Pierre, the artist, under his sway—who forces her to take the more and more significant steps that incite her husband's fever of jealousy.

When you knew him only as a sinister shadow working hiddenly the oppression that he exerted was unforgettable. He was as much a personage of the play as the man and the woman that were visible.

To see him is to know that he is flesh rather than a devastating threat in the lives of the two people.

By so much as it shows this character does the picture fall of the power of the footlight version. And Rigaud is on the scene off and on from its very beginning.

The other characters are of less importance, but they take away from the drama that originally centered around the husband and wife, and the invisible intruder.

"Jealousy" projects a vigorous plot, as screen plots go. It is sufficiently out of the ordinary, therefore, to merit attention. There is interest to the intrigue carried on by Valerie, her efforts to lie to save her happiness, and the gradual wearing down of her defense by the insistent inquiries of her husband. The role that the picture offers Miss Eagels is, however, too passive. She needs the dynamic.

Frederic March as the husband gives a highly acceptable performance, his work standing out in various portions of the production.

Aside from Hobbes, who is an efficient actor, the other more important players include Henry Daniell and Blanche Le Clair. Jean de Limur directed, with the adaptation from the play of Louis Verneuil made by Garrett Fort.

The Mack Sennett comedy with sound and dialogue is, on the whole, exceedingly funny, clever ideas being introduced in effects. Harry Gribbon and Andy Clyde are the major entertainers. The plot has to do with the endeavors of these two to save a large sum of money from imaginary robbers, and one of the best gags is where some cartridges in a stove start to explode and they think they are being fired upon.

Musical short-film subjects, and an organ solo by Milton Charles are on the program.

Youthful Stars Offer "Youngest"

Is a featured member of the cast of Phillip Barry's comedy showing currently at the Vine-street Theater.

CARROLL PLANS LATE SHOW

Harry Carroll has taken his promise to provide, in addition to the regular features of his revue at the Music Box, premiere entertainment at the Saturday midnight matinees of the revue with all seriousness.

Among the guest stars to appear the first midnight performance of the revue tomorrow are Eddie Lambert, the comic of "Cheenderella" fame; Owen Moore, film actor; Marjorie Leete, eastern musical comedy favorite, and Carlotta Cortez, young Mexican actress over whose discovery at Agua Caliente, it is said, another controversy has arisen between Gus Edwards and Carroll.

Ballard MacDonald, noted playwright, has written a group of exceptionally brilliant sketches for presentation at the midnight show, at which the regular features of the Carroll Revue will be presented in their entirety, it was announced.

CRUZE OPUS COMES TO CRITERION

"Great Gabbo" Brings Von Stroheim in First Talking Film

"The Great Gabbo," starring Eric Von Stroheim in his first all-talking picture, and directed by James Cruze will be the next screen attraction at the Criterion Theater, starting there October 2.

The new film had its world premiere a week ago at the Selwyn Theater in New York, and is expected to top its New York success in its local showing. In addition to Director James Cruze and Von Stroheim, the picture likewise features Betty Compson, Donald Douglas, Margie "Babe" Kane and others. It is from a story by Ben Hecht.

Von Stroheim's characterization is unique in the history of talking pictures, it is said. His role is that of a supreme egotist, who attempts to make all around him submit to his will.

In addition to Von Stroheim's work and that of the others in the cast, "The Great Gabbo" offers a lavish display of spectacular revue entertainment, it is claimed.

Film Romancers Hold Forth at Fox Boulevard

"Lucky Star" started its week's run yesterday at the Boulevard Theater to capacity audiences. "Lucky Star" is the latest of Janet Gaynor's and Charles Farrell's romances and brings Frank Borzage with them again as director. It is also the first talking picture in which these two popular players appear together.

The story of "Lucky Star" is simple and plain with a mountain farm and community the background for most of the action. Miss Gaynor is depicted as a little drudge, while Farrell is a returned soldier, a part of a man, a mender of broken things.

The story has been cleverly woven as to romance and suspense by Borzage. "Lucky Star" was taken from the story by Tristam Tupper. Others in the cast are Guinn Williams and Hedwiga Reicher. On the stage Jack Stanley, the Boulevard Master of Ceremonies, has arranged a smart program with his band and girls.

Carli Elinor to Lead Orchestra at Gala Event

Songs born during great upheavals or struggles for independence have more heart appeal than any other music, according to Carli Elinor. During Mr. Elinor's service in the A. E. F. he caught the spirit of those war-time melodies and has vividly expressed their inspiring message in a musical fantasie, which he will personally conduct on the opening night of "The Cock-Eyed World," at Grauman's Chinese Theater Tuesday.

Harold B. Franklin, president of Fox West Coast Theaters, who presents Carli Elinor, explains that the composition portrays the transition from "The Drums of War" to "The Chimes of Peace," November, 1918. This will serve as a dedicatory prelude to "The Cock-Eyed World" and will be interpreted not only by an augmented orchestra but with unusually brilliant stage and scenic effects as well.

A cable from London states that "The Cock-Eyed World," the William Fox Movietone-Raoul Walsh production featuring Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe, Lily Damita and El Brendel, which was previewed at the Capitol Theater, was attended by our English cousins and heralded as an even greater picture than "What Price Glory?"

New Color Art Synchrontone Show Given

The Marquis Theater, an attractive neighborhood house at 9036 Melrose avenue, was the scene Wednesday evening of a premiere to introduce the Colorart Synchrontone sound apparatus which has been installed as standard equipment at the theater.

To demonstrate the many virtues of this new type of sound projection, several Tiffany-Stahl Technicolor short subjects were shown. Among them was "The Toy Shop," featuring Joseph Swickard and Virginia Marshall, and "In a Chinese Temple Courtyard," a delicately colored and skillfully woven tale of old China.

Colorart Synchrontone imparted a deep, rich quality to these record features, void of the occasional scratch and buzz that so often mars the synchronized production.

Duffy Actress Offers Remarks on Philosophy

Charlotte Greenwood is a philosophic comedienne. The actress, who is romping her way through the role of Alice Hinsdale in the farce-comedy "She Couldn't Say No," in which she appears as guest star with the Henry Duffy Players at El Capitan, has evolved a philosophy of living that she asserts has guided her through the days when she was an unknown vaudevillian to stardom.

"Life should and can be made one long, loud and lingering laugh," asserts Miss Greenwood. "Giggle your way through life and you won't notice the mud the limousines splash on you. Do the work you like best, be contented in doing it and success will come."

FROM CONCERT TO SCREEN

Charlotte Merriam has blithely skipped from the concert stage to the screen, from there to the dramatic stage, then to musical comedy, and now she has landed with both feet in the talkies. In her second role since her return to the screen, she is playing opposite Chester Morris in "Second Choice," for Warner Brothers.

Jeanne Wood Wins Contest at Playhouse

All hearts which palpitate to the tune of Owen Davis's classic revival of "Nellie the Beautiful Cloak Model," were given ample opportunity to demonstrate their talents at Pasadena Community Playhouse on Monday, when a genuine beauty and personality contest was held. Gilmor Brown, presiding genius of this little theater organization, was the chief judge, aided and abetted by several dramatic critics.

Miss Jeanne Wood, the gifted young daughter of Sam Wood, motion-picture director, seemed to fill the qualifications, and received the unanimous award of the judges. The points considered included, stage deportment, carriage, figure, beauty of face and dramatic talents.

Not in many years, it is said, has a motion picture held so much interest for the American Legion and in fact all members of the A.E.F. as "Marianne," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's screen musical comedy, starring Marion Davies, now being shown at the Mayan Theater.

Every returned soldier who sees and hears "Marianne" is loud in praise of the perfection to detail and army atmosphere in France, that the authors and director of the picture have supplied, it is said. One Legionaire who attended the Mayan exclaimed in the lobby, "I don't know who wrote the stuff in that picture but it's a cinch he saw service in France, for his soldiers are real guys. I know a lot of Staggs and Soapys and Sans myself."

The soldier probably didn't know that Laurence Stallings, who shared with Gladys Unger the task of providing the Marianne dialogue, was an officer during the war and is one of the authors of the most famous war play and picture, "What Price Glory."

"Bad Babies" in Final Week of Playhouse Run

The sixth and final week of "Bad Babies" starts with the Sunday night performance at the Figueroa Playhouse. Several other theaters are bidding for the play, according to George Searborough, author, the run being curtailed only because of the fact that "Moon Madness," a new musical comedy has been booked.

"Bad Babies" goes to San Francisco and then New York, it is said. It is hardly likely that the cast, composed of prominent motion-picture players, will go East as all are busy in talking pictures here. The cast includes Jobyna Ralston, Mervin Williams, Norman Peeli, Elinor Flynn, Arthur Rankin, Dario Shindell, Dorothy Gould and Annette Westbay. Frank Jennings is stage manager.

"BIG TIME" HAS HUMAN TREATMENT

Lee Tracy Displays Fine Characterization in Film at Loew's State

BY WHITNEY WILLIAMS

Providing the aroma of backstage life has not permeated too pungently for its proper appreciation as screen entertainment, you will doubtless derive some measure of enjoyment from "Big Time," which started yesterday at Loew's State Theater. Its story of the vaudeville stage carries little plot and faulty construction, but it has been treated humanly, and the presence of Lee Tracy as the hoofer is an asset that may be regarded as life-saving.

"Big Time" is actually a cross between "Broadway" and "Burlesque" in theme, without, however, embodying the fine spirit that prevailed in these two plays. The plot is too drawn out to merit more than passing attention, but Tracy's personality tends to put over scenes that otherwise would be hopelessly lost in a mire of doubt.

The glaring discrepancy of the picture, as shown on the Loew's State screen, is the flickering projection. At times, the days of hoary yore are recalled, when the movies were known as the "flickers." It is certain that the film suffers immeasurably from this condition, that may or may not be remedied by proper machine projection.

So many times has the subject of the small-time hoofer been presented as plot material—the hoofer who starts at the bottom and works his way to the top and then falls to "small time" again because he does not have a woman's guiding hand—that audiences are beginning to anticipate the action. "Big Time" is no different from other films of this type, and has not the gripping drama of the two pictures mentioned above, but nevertheless offers Lee Tracy opportunity for exceptionally clever trouping.

Tracy, it may be remembered, started the hoofer in the original New York stage production of "Broadway," and is a comedian of note. Excellently cast, he endows the role with a feeling that at once is evident. There are a number of scenes, including the one in the freight car in which he is trying to convince the brakeman that he is a comedian, that are really very fine examples of acting, and his portrayal of Eddie Burns will unquestionably draw for him a large following.

The star is assisted by Mae Clarke, also new to pictures. In the role of the hoofer's wife, she renders a performance sincere and convincing and her voice and personality will be adjudged pleasing. Daphne Pollard and Josephine Dunn are in the cast and Stepin Fetchit contributes not a few laughs by his hesitancy of speech and his eternal search for Annabelle, the seal.

Backstage atmosphere has been attained with considerable success, and there is an undercurrent of authenticity that is effective. Sidney Hawks is listed as the director of this Fox picture.

Fanchon and Marco's Idea this week on the stage is called "Types," and is a colorful pageant of song, beauty and dance. Joe and Jane McKenna are the outstanding favorites, in a song and eccentric dance act, and there is one number presented by the girls of the chorus that is interesting. Gene Morgan is master of ceremonies.

'Jungle Revue' Features Bill at Million

With colorful atmospheric settings, S. M. Lazarus, managing director of the Million Dollar Theater, has staged a unique stage show in conjunction with the current attraction, the "Four Feathers," featuring Richard Arlen, Noah Beery and William Powell.

In "A Jungle Revue," Myra Kinch offers a novelty, the "Voodoo Dance." The Murdoch boys go through a routine of their pantomime dance and song numbers, Upshaw and Johnson, two very clever colored dancers, draw much applause when they perform their strut and tap numbers. Bill Brokaw directs the orchestra.

Pierre and Antoinette furnish the serious singing on the bill, with "Kiss Me Again" and "Road to Mandalay." Paramount sound news and a feature all-talking comedy, "Look Out for the Law," complete the program.

Actor Desires Wide Scope of Film Knowledge

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is not satisfied to be just an actor; he wants to be a movie technician as well. Doug, who is playing the young husband in "Fast Life," the First National picture at Warner Brothers' Theater in Hollywood, takes after his celebrated father in this. Fairbanks, Sr., is not only an actor but a successful producer, with knowledge of all branches of the art.

Ever since he entered pictures as a young boy Douglas, Jr., has paid close attention to the technical side of the business. He has helped to title several of his father's pictures and is adept at designing sets and costumes. He is ambitious to direct and his closest friend on the set is the cameraman, whom he plies with technical questions throughout the picture.

"SINNERS" AT UPTOWN

Directed by Robert Milton, who was responsible for the artistic perfection of such stage hits as "The Marriage Bed" and others, "Charming Sinners," Ruth Chatterton's latest Paramount talkie, starts at the Uptown tonight. "Charming Sinners" is an adaptation of Ethel Barrymore's starring vehicle, "The Constant Wife" and provides Miss Chatterton with a unique role. Clive Brook plays opposite the star. "Charming Sinners" will show at the Uptown until Sunday night, presented with a surrounding program that includes talking acts and Fox Movietone News.

JACKSON TELLS OF BOND DEALS

Hollywood Dealer Returned on Check Charge

Makes Lengthy Statements on Business Affairs

Grand Jury to Take Up Case on Tuesday Next

Herbert R. Jackson, 43 years of age, Hollywood dealer in stocks and bonds, who was returned to Los Angeles from Oakland yesterday by Officers White and McGee, went at once to the office of Dep. Dist.-Atty. D. H. Clark and made a complete and voluntary statement concerning his business affairs for the last three months, involving more than $150,000.

HERBERT R. JACKSON

The broker is accused of issuing a worthless check for $1000. The statement he made yesterday covers scores of other transactions which the District Attorney's office has questioned, according to Clark, but the question of whether further criminal charges will be filed will be left for the grand jury to decide next Tuesday.

In his statement, Jackson is asserted to have told Clark that the collapse of his business was due to bad investments and a weakness for liquor.

The District Attorney's office, however, is not satisfied with this explanation and is continuing its investigation of more than fifty complaints from Jackson's clients who charge that he failed to give them a proper accounting for their investments. Meanwhile an audit of Jackson's books is being made.

Jackson was taken into custody in Oakland three days ago after it was discovered he had disappeared from his office following complaints to the District Attorney.

The broker's office is located in the Hollywood Building at 6253 Hollywood Boulevard.

Whitmore Paid Honor by Loan Company Men

Charles A. Whitmore, recently appointed State Building and Loan Commissioner by Gov. Young and publisher of the Visalia Times-Delta, was a guest of honor at a dinner at the Jonathan Club last night, given by the building and loan executives of Southern California. President C. H. Wade of the State Mutual Building and Loan Association was toastmaster. More than 200 attended the dinner.

During the past fifteen years Mr. Whitmore has been a member of the State Board of Education, the California Highway Commission, chief of service and supply of the Department of Finance, State Printer and more recently private secretary to Gov. Young.

Among those who spoke at the dinner are Charles H. Tucker, Long Beach; Edwin M. Einstein, Fresno; Milo R. Robbins, San Francisco; Paul Endicott, Pomona, and R. Holthy Myers, Los Angeles.

War Epoch to be Commemorated

Commemorating the eleventh anniversary of the "jump off" of the Argonne offensive, decisive battle of the World War, veterans of the Ninety-first Division, A.E.F., residing in Southern California, will gather at Patriotic Hall tomorrow.

More than 1000 Ninety-first Division participants in the drive will attend the affair, which will begin with registration at 2 p.m., and continue with a dinner at 6:30 p.m. and an entertainment program from 8 p.m. until the small hours.

The occasion will mark the ninth annual reunion of the Ninety-first Division Association of Southern California. William Menn is president, Guernsey P. Fraser is chairman of the entertainment committee, and Louis Ruff will have charge of the dinner.

Finlinson Car Injures Man

Assistant Police Chief Finlinson's car last night knocked down Charles J. Anderson, 66 years of age, a cotton dealer at 4449 York Boulevard, seriously injuring him. Anderson was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where his injuries were found to include a fractured pelvis, fractured left arm, fractured left leg, chest injuries and concussion of the brain.

Police of the Highland Park division reported that Anderson was struck while standing in the street before his home, signaling one of his trucks into the driveway. Finlinson was reported as saying that Anderson stepped suddenly from behind a truck and into the path of the police car.

RELIEF FOR STUDENTS

Negotiations Under Way for Sale of Street-Car Tickets in Schools

Junior and senior high-school students no longer will be required to apply at the offices of the Los Angeles Railway at Broadway and Eleventh street for books of half-fare tickets if the meeting to be held at the Board of Education this morning is productive of the results planned.

Negotiations have been under way for several weeks between the Board of Education and representatives of the street railway company looking toward the sale of tickets at the schools. An understanding finally has been reached and the meeting this morning is for the perfection of details.

Supt. Frank A. Bouelle, assistant Superintendent W. W. Tritt, and a representative of the railway will meet this morning with secretaries of the senior and junior high schools, and it is hoped that books of tickets soon will be put on sale at the schools.

PHONE CALL SPURS HUNT FOR CONNOR

Hotel Inquiry Believed from Fugitive Sought in Shooting of Officer

Police searchers yesterday renewed their hunt for Clarence C. Connor, asserted gun-slinging suitor of Miss Beatrice Truesdale of 5232 Baltimore street, when they learned of a mysterious telephone message believed to have come from the wooden-legged fugitive. Connor is accused of shooting Policeman Harry C. Kalley while the officer was guarding the Truesdale home on the 12th inst., following complaints by L. H. Truesdale that the man had threatened his life.

Late Wednesday night a man representing himself as a detective telephoned to the Mayfair Hotel where Truesdale is employed, asking at what hours he was on duty. The hotel clerk, who answered the call, replied that there were two detectives in the place guarding Truesdale and that the inquirer could talk to them. Immediately the telephoner hung up. When this was reported yesterday to Detective Captain George Smith of the Highland Park division, he stated his belief that the self-styled detective was Connor. The incident renewed belief that the fugitive is in the city.

Connor escaped following the shooting of Kalley. On Sunday he eluded seventy-five police who formed a cordon around the Arroyo Seco, after discovering there the rented automobile in which he had escaped.

DESPONDENT ELECTRICIAN TAKES LIFE

Husband Swallows Poison as Reconciliation Attempt with His Wife Fails

Despondent over failure to effect a reconciliation with his estranged wife, Cecil Chancellor, 27-year-old electrician, ended his life yesterday by swallowing poison in the woman's home at 319 West Sixty-first street. According to the wife, the couple had been separated since January 17, last, and Mrs. Chancellor recently filed suit for divorce. Yesterday Chancellor appeared at her home and sought a reconciliation. Unsuccessful, he asked for a glass of water, drank it and started away. It is believed he dropped poison in the water.

Following her husband with a pipe he had left behind, Mrs. Chancellor saw him collapse on the sidewalk. She summoned an ambulance from the Seventy-seventh-street police division, and Dr. Lindsay administered first-aid measures, to no avail, Chancellor dying on arrival at the Georgia-street Hospital.

Organist From Salt Lake City Will Play Here

ALEXANDER SHREINER

Alexander Shreiner, for eight years organist of the Salt Lake Tabernacle, is announced as the new organist of the First Methodist Church of Los Angeles, beginning Sunday. He will give two recitals on the Ewart Watchorn memorial organ of the church at 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m., in addition to playing for the regular church services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. He also will play several selections during the services.

Mrs. Shreiner, formerly Miss Margaret Lyman, is said to be a 'cellist of note. The Shreiners are living at the Wilshire Crest, 1296 Wilshire Boulevard. Shreiner was born in Nuremberg, Germany, 38 years ago. When 8 years of age he became organist of Nuremberg Cathedral, holding the position three years until he started on a concert tour through Europe. He holds diplomas from many European conservatories.

Art Pupils Will Exhibit Studies

An exhibition of art studies is announced to be held on the 23rd and 24th inst. from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the studio of the Westlake School for Girls, 700 North Faring Road. The work is by pupils of Miss Agnes Campbell and Henry Lovins of the art department of Holmby College, the junior college of the school.

Miss Campbell, who conducts classes in sketching and water colors, has just returned from Japan, where she spent a summer studying Japanese technique. Lovins, who painted the murals in several California public buildings, conducts Holmby College courses in color harmony, decorative, designing and interior decorating.

TWELVE DAYS' BLISS PLENTY

Husband Suing for Divorce Asserts Bride Talked Day and Night

Twelve days of married life was enough for Phil Quaglino, he asserted in his divorce complaint, filed yesterday by Attorney Reuben Licker.

According to the complaint, Mrs. Quaglino talked so much during the twelve days and nights that her husband could get no rest. And when he yawned in the daytime she accused him of being tired of her, he said.

BOYHOOD PALS MEET ON BENCH

Judges Grew Up Together in Tennessee

Judge W. T. Hunt and Judge Walter Guerin

JUDGE W. T. HUNT of Tulsa, Okla., and Superior Judge Walter Guerin of Los Angeles, who played together when boys, but who have not seen each other in many years, met here yesterday and spent the day together recalling the time of their youth.

Back in Tennessee many years ago two families, one named Hunt and the other Guerin, lived on adjoining farms. The boys in each family played together until it was time to go away to college. They went to different educational schools. Both, however, came out graduated lawyers. Both became judges. Hunt carved out his career in Oklahoma; Guerin in California.

During a session of Judge Guerin's court yesterday, the two boyhood friends sat on the bench together listening to testimony taken in a damage suit.

Not only is Judge Hunt a jurist, but he is the father of a number of illustrious sons.

"My wife and I reared seven sons and two daughters. Four of my boys left college as graduated lawyers," said Judge Hunt.

Judge Hunt is visiting his daughter, Mrs. H. H. Townsend, 3823 Gracioso Drive, Hollywood.

"My visit is about up," the judge declared. "I have been joking with my daughter considerably about California not having any rain. I told her I would stay until it rained. Well, it came Tuesday night—which, I believe, is unusual. However, I presume I must be on my way."

MORE RAINFALL DOUBTED

Fair Weather Forecast for Tomorrow and Saturday; Crop Nowhere Damaged by Moisture

Los Angeles yesterday had recovered from its experience of desert wind and succeeding rainstorm of the early week and gave the residents the old brand of sunshine and cool September weather. Normal temperature and generally fair skies for tomorrow and Saturday with cloudy nights were predicted yesterday by Col. H. B. Hersey, of the United States Weather Bureau.

The low-pressure area still is hanging around somewhere off the coast, but Col. Hersey does not believe that it will bring in another rain. Indications are that it will linger near here for several days, he said.

The gentle westerly winds again are to be a part of the daily program for the remainder of the week, so the observer believes. Yesterday's lowest temperature was 63 deg. and the highest was 79. The relative humidity was exceptionally high. At 5 a.m. it was 89 per cent and at 5 p.m. it was 75 per cent.

CROPS NOT INJURED

Reports from Bakersfield declaring that Kern county crops were damaged by the slight rainfall there Wednesday were denied by the agricultural commissioner. With deputies in all agricultural areas of the county, the commissioner is in a position to make an immediate check of any weather damage to crops, and his report was favorable. The rain in Bakersfield totaled .06 of an inch, the Kern County Land Company reported. Showers fell throughout the county, but with the exception of those at Bakersfield were insufficient to register. No rain had fallen there last year at this time.

NO DAMAGE AT FRESNO

At Fresno the light rain was not of sufficient quantity materially to damage crops, according to opinions expressed by agriculturists. Raisins on the trays, grapes on the vines, cotton and alfalfa might suffer, however, if there is more immediate rain.

Experts believe that added rain will tend to discolor cotton and to damage alfalfa that has been cut. It would also cause mold in the raisins, they point out, and mildew in the grapes remaining on the vines.

GRAPE DAMAGE OFFSET

More benefit than damage was done the Ontario-Cucamonga grape crop by Wednesday's rainfall, it was disclosed yesterday by H. H. Thomas, chairman of the advisory committee of the sixteenth district of the California Vineyardists' Association. Mr. Thomas said that the rain was a decided benefit to various varieties, including alicantes, mataros, grenaches and missions, serving to rehabilitate the fruit which had started to shrivel in the recent intense heat. Zinfandels, he said, suffered some damage but chiefly on young vines where grapes lay on the ground.

Charles Latimer, grower and packer, said that some damage had been done Zinfandels and muscats, his survey showed, but that later maturing varieties had benefited. The extent of the damage, experts declared, would depend largely on weather conditions of the next few days.

HUMIDITY CONTINUES TO RISE IN NORTH

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. (Exclusive)—Rapidly rising humidity brought the first seasonal suspicion of rain to several Northern California cities and towns last night and today, but with two exceptions the day's precipitation was not sufficient to measure. There was a thunderstorm in the Sierras which eliminated danger of forest fires in that area.

During last night Paso Robles received .01 of an inch and Salinas a trace.

No damage to fruit or cotton was reported from the San Joaquin Valley.

Diocesan Holy Name Delegates Gather Sunday

Headed by P. H. O'Neil, diocesan president, more than 2000 delegates and members from the Los Angeles city parishes are expected to attend the diocesan Holy Name convention at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in St. Elizabeth's School auditorium, Altadena.

A group of speakers will be heard, including the vicar-general of Los Angeles-San Diego diocese, Rt. Rev. John Cawley, P. A., Rev. Michael O'Gorman, Rev. Dr. William Corr, Ph. D., Judge Aggeler of the Superior Court, and Maurice R. Norcop, attorney.

The program will include religious services in the school gardens at Woodbury and Lake streets.

This convention will mark the adoption of a reorganization program, which, according to O'Neil, is necessary to meet the growing needs of the society. More than 50,000 Catholic men and boys are active members and a campaign now is under way to increase the membership to at least 60,000 by December.

ACTRESS SCOFFS AT ENGAGEMENT RUMOR

Mary Brian

Hollywood likes to watch its romances and the watching commenced yesterday when it was learned that Mary Brian, one of the younger film actresses, had been seen in the company of Rudy Vallee on more than two occasions. And when an actress is seen in the company of anyone more than once in Hollywood its a sign they're engaged.

RUDY VALLEE

Miss Brian said differently yesterday at the Paramount studios in answering gossip.

"It's too embafrassing to answer," Miss Brian said. "I only know him slightly and we have only been out together several times. I think he is very nice but we are nothing more than friends."

DEPUT YINJURED BY REVOLVER ACCIDENT

Accidental discharge of a revolver last night sent a bullet into the left hand of Joseph H. Davis, 38 years of age, a deputy sheriff, living at 1306 Strand, Hermosa Beach. Davis said he was cleaning his revolver at Substation 3 when he wounded himself. He was treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

(Not all the interesting and out-of-the-ordinary news of the day finds a place on crowded wires or waves. Every evening The Times conducts a news exchange by airplane. By Western Air Express, T.A.T. and Standard lines papers of current and yester date from pivotal cities are received. Washington, D. CHICAGO'S LAKE DUSTY
Chicago Tribune, Sept. 18.

Health Commissioner Kegel spent three hours in an airplane yesterday making pollen tests at different altitudes over Chicago to discover what hopes he could offer to hay fever sufferers. He found there would be little relief until frost gets in its work.

"Finding pollen up to 4000 feet leads me to believe that the cutting of weeds in the city and suburbs to end hay-fever suffering will have slight effect," Dr. Kegel said. "It is probable that pollen may be carried across the lake with an east wind."

DRY HORSE LAUGH
Washington (D. C.) Star, Sept. 12.

Forced once to care for a horse for two days after he had confiscated it when its master was arrested transporting liquor, Detective R. J. Barrett was not to be so caught the second time.

July 4, last, Barrett arrested two colored men in a horse-drawn vehicle and the prohibition authorities refused to accept it and he was forced to care for the horse two days.

Accordingly, he took no chances yesterday. He filled out a receipt and drove the animal to the warehouse, where he hitched it. Then he went to the office, dropped the receipt on the desk and beat a hasty retreat before the nature of his seizure could be learned.

Salt Lake Tribune, Sept. 19.

Trappers are using unusual methods in securing their share of the season's catch of wild fur. The most unique plan is that of taking the coyote from the trap alive, depositing him in an old house or building where he will be secure, and then feeding until such time as the fur will be prime.

VILE NAMES RESENTED

Wife Wins Divorce on Grounds of Mental Cruelty

Mrs. Fay Olkin won a divorce from Morse Olkin yesterday in the court of Superior Judge Doran when she testified that her husband frequently called her vile names.

"We always were having some sort of trouble and he would call me vile names no matter where we were, in the presence of friends, on the street and sometimes even in theaters," the wife declared.

The decree was granted by Judge Doran on the grounds of mental cruelty.

"He took away my underclothes, judge," said Mrs. Kornowski, referring to the activities of her husband, Joseph Kornowski. "He left home this morning and took everything I had, almost." Pending the divorce trial, Judge Rosenkrans ordered Kornowski to return his wife's lingerie and leave her in possession of the community property.

MOSES DISCARDS CRUTCHES

Southern California Fullback Likely to be in Suit Next Week; Scrimmage Billed for Today

BY BRAVEN DYER

Don Moses threw away his crutches yesterday afternoon and walked about Bovard Field on his own two feet. The injured Southern California fullback will probably don a uniform Monday, which means that he will run signals with the first string outfit.

This is good news to Trojan fans—usual run of things, topped off with and indicates that Moses, barring further injury to his foot, will be available for duty against Washington at Seattle on October 12. Don's injury is healing somewhat faster than had been anticipated and everything looks rosy at this writing. Coach Jones will take no chances with Moses, however, and plans to keep him out of all heavy work for another two weeks at least.

DON MOSES

Right now Jess Hill is holding the fullback post on the first string, but it's our guess that nothing short of an earthquake can keep Jim Musick out of there when the games start. This boy has a world of drive and packs 200 pounds of beef, which gives him quite an edge over Hill, for the Trojan track star is not a big man by any stretch of the imagination. Jess will be very valuable for follow-up work after such behemoths as Musick and Moses get through bowling over the opposition.

The first scrimmage of the season is slated this afternoon. Jones indicated last night that while it may be heavy it will not be long, for his men are coming along nicely and he doesn't want them battered up or worn out at the start of the season.

Last night was given over to the dummy scrimmage in which Garrett Arbelbide continued to show promise as an end. He caught a couple of passes by leaping high into the air and is getting his blocking down better as the days go by. The big fellow is more than six feet tall and puts a lot of stuff behind his interference work.

Jones and his assistants will go north tomorrow to see Stanford in action. Bill Hunter has been missing the last two days, being laid up with a heavy cold, and Gordon Campbell was absent yesterday. This cut the coaching staff to Jones, Sam Barry and Cliff Herd.

LEADS BEATS WATTERS IN PASADENA CLASH

Three knockouts gave Pasadena fight fans a lot of excitement last night in the weekly arena program. Dud Eads won over Mike Watters in a furious ten-round battle, the only one that went the limit. In the other half of the double main event, also scheduled for ten chapters, Ernie Owens conquered Dewey Massey by a technical knockout in the fourth. Royal (Dutch) Elliott won by a technical knockout in two rounds over Steve Hayden, and Hap Romero won in exactly the same fashion over Clyde Shaylock.

SANTIAGO SET DOWN

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19. (AP)—Armando Santiago, Cuban boxer, was suspended indefinitely today by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission for fouling Benny Bass of Philadelphia, in their fight at the Phillies' ball park last night.

FOOTBALL FLASHES

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 19.—Herb Fleishhacker and Harry Sullman ran at the first-string quarter and fullback positions of Chuck Smalling and Bill Simkins in today's practice, probably the last stiff workout for Stanford's grid squad before the West Coast Army clash Saturday, indicating that Pop Warner is not yet settled in his mind as to just which power plant he will utilize.

His announcement to the contrary notwithstanding, Ward Edmonds, Stanford's crack hurdle and pole-vault star, made a pretentious debut as a college football player in scrimmage today when on three occasions he shook off a flock of tacklers to lope down the field for runs averaging about 40 yards. Edmonds shared the limelight with an unknown named Chuck Eddy, whose performance made him look good as fullback material. Eddy displayed speed and a terrific drive. He passes a fast, accurate ball and is a smart defensive back.

BERKELEY, Sept. 19. (AP)—Another stiff scrimmage session was put on by California's football team today, with the first team bucking the fourth, and the second playing the third.

Two more men were promoted to the first-string squad by Coach Nibs Price. Don Handy, who showed up strong while playing guard on the second team yesterday, was advanced, while Ed Schaldach, a transfer from San Mateo Junior College, was also added to the first string.

Harry Gill, varsity guard for the last two years, who has been kept out of practice thus far by a heavy cold, will be in a uniform Monday.

EUGENE (Or.) Sept. 19. (AP)—With the return of Woodward Archer, one of the two letter-men ends who remain eligible for the University of Oregon football team, Coach John McEwan today said "enough" and rushed his eleven through some sportive paces.

Archer was the only man who did not report on time to complete the veteran line. Harry Woods, the other two-stripe end, showed his old form much to the satisfaction of Coach McEwan.

George Christenson and Austin Colbert, who each scale above the 200-pound mark, are back for the second year as tackles. Marshall Shields, brother of Gene Shields, the new Oregon line coach, was a first-team guard last year and Jerry Lillie and John Donahue both won letters in that position.

George Stadleman will play his last year at center. Marion Hall won his letter as an alternate tackle. Stadleman and Woods are the only two starting their last football season among the linemen.

A backfield of letter men is also available with one extra halfback. Dave Mason, captain and halfback; Charles Williams, half, and Bob Robinson, quarter or half, will play their third years. John Kitzmiller, dubbed the Flying Dutchman when he broke into the line-up as a sophomore last year, plays fullback or quarter.

ACE SIGNS FOR FIGHT

Hudkins to Get 12 1-2 Per Cent of Gate for Proposed Bout With Walker at Wrigley Field

BY PAUL LOWRY

The long-deferred battle between Mickey Walker and Ace Hudkins for the former's middleweight championship was half made yesterday. Hudkins signed to take 12½ per cent of the gate receipts for the challenger's end.

Walker is expected to attach his name to the same document today—and on a percentage basis instead of the $100,000 guarantee he and his manager, Jack Kearns, were demanding of Promoter Jack Doyle early last spring.

ACE HUDKINS

Under present plans the fight will be staged at Wrigley Field October 22.

The only possible drawback to the arrangement is a possible victory of Joe Anderson over Hudkins in their fight at the Olympic next Tuesday night. Anderson won from Hudkins here last October. In case he should repeat this victory he would then take the place vacated by Hudkins in the championship lineup.

Although the action of the N.B.A. in deposing Walker from the throne is said to have had nothing to do with the sudden revival of the Walker-Hudkins match, which simmered here all last spring, it is practically sealed—and on a day's notice.

In signing for the Hudkins fight Walker will save himself $10,000, this being the amount posted with the Illinois Boxing Commission at the time of the Tommy Loughran bout to guarantee a defense of Walker's title. The money was forwarded to Chairman Bill Hanlon of the California commission, and Walker had until the 30th inst. to redeem it.

Ancil Hoffman, who holds some sort of option on Walker's services, probably will co-promote with Doyle in the staging of the bout.

Anderson and Hudkins are fighting next Tuesday for the National Boxing Association middleweight

BY RALPH HUSTON

Starting a ten-day festival of tennis, the third annual Pacific Southwest championships get under way this morning on the courts of the Los Angeles Tennis Club.

Court luminaries from all over the world are included in the entry lists, and exceptionally keen competition for every title is anticipated. The foreign invasion includes players from England, Japan and South Africa, with almost every American player of any note forming the defenses. Only Helen Wills, Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter are missing.

JOHN VAN RYN

In past years some superman such as Tilden or Henri Cochet has swept the opposition aside in such easy fashion that the interest was almost taken out of the tournament. This year, with dozens of national, sectional and world champions in action, the competition is not only immeasurably stronger, but is expected to result in a much better tournament.

Added interest in the way of a series of international team matches is scheduled for the first three days in addition to the regular matches in the tourney draw. A picked team of Californians will oppose the English Wightman Cup squad, which almost regained the trophy this year, Miss Edith Cross of San Francisco, who is appearing in the local event, nearing the deciding match for the American defenders.

A schedule of international exhibition matches has been arranged for the famous center court today. Johnny Van Ryn, the American Davis Cup star, will face Tamio Abe, Japan's leading performer. Miss Mary Groef, new Trojan co-ed, will pair with Johnny Doeg, semi-finalist in the men's national, against Mrs. R. C. Covell and Bunny Austin of England. Frank Shields and Berkeley Bell of the United States will tackle Austin and John

Nationalista Picked Over Gouyd in Legion Go Tonight

FILIPINO MAY STOP OPPONENT

Two Boys Well Matched and Clayton May Surprise

Patrick, Kozze Tangle in Semifinal Battle

Preliminaries Feature of Evening's Card

Young Nationalista and Clayton Gouyd, Hollywood American Legion Stadium main-eventers, are all set for the battle tonight and the Filipino is a hot favorite to win. If the fighters are on their feet at the finish of the ten rounds, Gouyd has a chance to cop, but as far as a knockout is concerned the Filipino has the sock and as he has had the greater experience, his chances to win look brightest.

YOUNG NATIONALISTA

The Hollywood fights feature club fighters. The main-eventers aren't topnotchers, but for a good fight the boys are well matched. Gouyd is a busy boy in action and he carries the fight to an opponent. Nationalista has been a good main-eventer, but while he has slowed up a bit the Filipino is always trying and throwing punches.

There are some exceptionally good preliminaries lined up. Tom Patrick starts in the semi-wind-up with Al Konze and if Patrick can cut the mustard he is going to be a featured fighter at Hollywood. Patrick shows flashes of championship form and if he can hit his stride it won't be long before he is a main-eventer at the stadium. Al Konze fought a main event at Pasadena last week. He is a youngster and so far has shown promise. He may find that Patrick is too fast and hits too hard for him.

Hymie Miller makes another start in the special. He fights Trip Limbaco and Hymie is favorite. Miller is a clever boxer and a pretty smart kid. He was an amateur champion and he should outpoint Limbaco to get the decision.

There are two four-rounders which feature junior lightweights. Frankie Diaz, a socker and promising boy, should beat Battling Schultz. He may flatten Schultz. Henry Celaya and Frank Hirsch open the show and Henry is the choice of the dopesters.

MAHAFFEY HURLS WIN FOR PORTLAND TEAM

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 19. (AP)—Leroy Mahaffey hurled his nineteenth victory for Portland today when he breezed through an hour and twenty-minute game against Sacramento to win, 4 to 1. Harris brought in three of Portland's runs in the fourth when he slammed a homer into the center-field bleachers, scoring Sigafoos and Keesey ahead of him. Score:

INDIANS WIN GAME FROM OAKLAND, 5-1

SEATTLE, Sept. 19. (AP)—The Indians won their first game in the series with Oakland today, 5 to 1. Barbee made a home run with one on base in the sixth when Uhalt, making a desperate effort to get the ball, failed and it dropped into the bleachers. Score:

HUDKINS SIGNS TO BOX WALKER

title vacated by Walker, it was announced yesterday by the managers of the respective fighters.

Jim Dougherty, manager of Anderson, arrived from the East yesterday morning, and in the afternoon held a long conference with Commissioner James Woods.

Jack Kearns was another caller on the commissioner.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

HE LIKES HIS FOOTBALL

THE round face of Mr. George Dye, the center, beamed in the doorway of Mr. Gwynn Wilson, the graduate manager, the other day.

"Say, I got through that philosophy ex just as easy as I got that A in German," the round face drawled in southern accents.

Mr. Dye, you know, is the gentleman who came here from Alabama to play football with Howard Jones's boys at Southern California.

He had a leg shattered in an automobile accident last spring, was forced to pass up some of his exes, and took them this fall in order to become eligible for the Trojan varsity.

They say Mr. Dye fairly eats football, and as he stood there in the doorway of Mr. Wilson's office he radiated youth, gayety, freshness, personality and an absorbing love of the gridiron.

The boys say it will be hard to keep Mr. Dye with his 230 pounds of bone and muscle off the Trojan varsity.

He is built along the generous lines of our lumpiest heavyweight wrestlers, somewhat taller than Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg, the champion, and heavier.

Nobody has handed him the center berth on the Trojan varsity—as yet—but if you had seen the football yen on his face as he stood in Mr. Wilson's doorway the other afternoon you would have tabbed him for the spot.

Particularly had you still later in the day observed the charge with which he drove opposing linemen backward in dummy scrimmage on Bovard Field.

THE IRISH AND TROJANS

THE annual Notre Dame-Southern California football conflict promises to become one of the most traditional games in the country.

It has a distinction enjoyed by no other "big games" of as long standing in that the teams have to travel 2500 miles across the country to fulfill the engagement.

West Point will travel farther to meet Stanford this fall, but this is only their second get-together.

It may not be continued beyond that date, whereas the new contract entered into by Notre Dame and Southern California assures a continuation of the annual game that has existed since 1926 until the end of the 1931 season, at least.

And relationships have been so cemented by this colorful gridiron test between the two universities that there is every likelihood of the game becoming an annual fixture for years.

Southern California turned down a bid from New York U. for home and home games last fall because of the Notre Dame alignment.

When middle western or eastern teams are considered they take a back seat to Notre Dame in the estimation of the master minds at the Trojan institution.

Ask them about this middle western team or that eastern team and they come back at you with a challenge to name a game that would be more colorful, more interesting, more traditional than one with Notre Dame.

And I rather imagine by the way in which the two universities get together on various phases of the game that the Notre Dame gentlemen feel the same way about Southern California.

ABE DISSECTS DOEG

MR. TAMIO ABE, the Japanese Davis Cup player who is here to compete in the Pacific Southwest tennis tourney which opens today on the courts of the Los Angeles Tennis Club, took one look at the draw the other night—

And then in response to a question as to what he thought about it said laconically: "All right, but too many good players in it."

Abe is declared by those veteran students of the grand old game of tennis like Clifton Herd and William Mellors Henry to be a deep student of the sport.

He dissected the Johnny Doeg-Bill Tilden five-set affair in the semi-finals of the recent national singles championship at Forest Hills as being one that Doeg should have won but for two points:

1. Doeg's stinging service lacked some of its fury because he was not throwing the ball high enough.

2. Doeg persisted in serving to Tilden's back hand when Big Bill was in the left-hand court, thereby feeding to Tilden's best shot—his backhand cross-court fire.

Abe intended to arrive here a day ahead of the other boys in order to gain an additional period of practice, but floods at Indio delayed him until Wednesday evening.

However, Abe gained his point when he discovered the courts fully lighted for night practice, and he got a jump on the other boys despite the enforced delay.

SONNENBERG NO GOAT

WELL, it's refreshing to observe that Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg won't have to retire after all.

He threatened to do so if Joe Stecher beat him, but one of the biggest capacity houses that ever saw a fight or a wrestling match in this city at the Olympic can testify to the fact that Mr. Sonnenberg is still the king.

Two nights in a row—Tuesday for the Mack-Hess fight and Wednesday for the Stecher-Sonnenberg scramble—the Olympic has been packed to the gills.

This is some evidence that as a sport center this metropolis of the Pacific Coast has no equal.

But I do wish the boys would stop referring to Sonnenberg as "Gus, the Goat."

He's anything but, and he's not a butter.

When Sonnenberg applies his flying tackle he does it in approved football fashion.

He hits a rival with his shoulder—not his head.

ANGLER BREAKS POLE LANDING JEW FISH

HERMOSA BEACH, Sept. 19.—When Lawrence W. Gilliland brought to gaff a 360-pound jewfish from the bowsprit of the Olympic barge at Hermosa early this week he suffered the loss of an expensive pole, which was entirely smashed by the struggle put up by fish and angler. The fish, the first to be caught from the Olympic this year, was the sixth captured by the angler and was the third year that Gilliland has been the successful angler to take the first fish of the season, thereby claiming the annual prize put up by Capt. J. M. Anderson for the one making the initial capture each season for this species.

Fishing otherwise from the pleasure fishing craft at Hermosa is reported as excellent, with heavy strings of bonita, halibut, sandabs and mackerel available to the angler.

GUERRERO EXPECTS TOUGH GO TOMORROW

Joe Guerrero expects to have his hands full in his battle with Joe Golden, San Francisco lightweight, tomorrow night at the Main-street Athletic Club. Golden has fought and won three bouts since his return to boxing following a year's absence, and is confident of beating the Mexican lightweight champion. The Bay City fighter has never been off his feet in the ring.

Art Molina is favored over Marty Fields, Chicago featherweight, in the semi-wind-up.

BAECHT TAMES HOLLYWOOD

seventh. Baecht was pretty much in control of the situation.

Leo Burns, the young outfielder, recently returned from Bisbee, held down right field for the Cherubs and made a nice running catch of the only chance afforded him. He also got two walks, but was unable to hit on his other two trips to the plate.

The Angels practically sewed up the game after two were out in the first inning when Webb doubled, Berger singled and Jacobs and Dittmar also came through with one-base smashes for two runs. Marty then replaced Johns and, after Dittmar had pilfered second, tossed out Burns to end the round.

Hollywood got its lone run in the second, also after two were out. A single by Heath and Carlyle's smashing double to center contrived to represent the Stars in the scoring column.

MARTY GROWS WILD

Marty lasted until the third when he struck a wild streak that caused his retirement and enabled the Seraphs to score another run. Marty began the round by walking Webb. Berger bunted to Heath and was safe when Holley failed to cover first. Jacobs filed out, but Marty filled the bases by walking Dittmar. Joe heaved three more wide ones to Burns before being replaced by Hulvey, who served up the other necessary ball for the walk that forced Webb in with a run. Hank then got Sandberg to hit into a double-play and retire the side.

Rumier got doubles after two were out in the fourth and sixth, but Baecht saw to it that Big Bill never advanced past second.

Los Angeles scored its final run in the sixth when Sandberg doubled to right and, after two were out, rode home on Haney's third hit, a single to center. Haney, who had previously stole second twice, was caught stealing to end the inning.

Hollywood had its big chance in the seventh when Baecht had the bases loaded and no one out. Carlyle's infield hit to Dittmar, a walk to Albert, batting for Holley, and Hulvey's infield single to Webb filled the bags. But Dud Lee hit one right back at Baecht, who, with the aid of Sandberg and Webb, turned it into a double play. Baecht also tossed out Rollings for the third out and was never again in danger after escaping that trap set by the Sheiks.

There will be a double-header today with Hollerson and Wetsel taking the mound for Hollywood in an effort to stop the charge of the climbing Cherubs. Lelivelt has Peters, Horne and Roberts ready to shoot against the Sheiks. Score:

An attack of blood poisoning in his left arm forced Fields to cancel his scheduled bout here the 23rd inst., with Gorilla Jones, Akron (O.) negro. The champion returned to Los Angeles for treatment. Rooney left tonight for Chicago and Fields will leave next Monday.

Sagehens Toil at Top Speed

CLAREMONT, Sept. 19.—The recent rain brought a welcome relief from the heat, and consequently Coaches Nixon and Heath were able to drive the Sagehens at top speed this afternoon. Considerable time is being spent on fundamentals in an attempt to get a few of the greener boys wised up to just how football is played. Although most of the gridders handle themselves like football players, there are quite a few who show no signs whatsoever of ever having had a glimpse of a football.

A light scrimmage was held late in the afternoon in an attempt to acquaint some of the newcomers with the plays. Although Nixon and Heath have lined up a team, it is by no means the one which will represent Pomona this fall. Heath had Judy at center, Witherspoon and Clements at guards, Tucker and Morgan at the tackle positions, and Inman and Dyer on the ends. Clements played in the backfield for the freshmen last year, but is a trifle slow and consequently as Heath is in need of linemen the change was made. Clements is big enough for a line job and may land a permanent place. Nixon had Hartman at quarter, Baynham and Stancer at halves, with Kupfer playing full. Putnam and Murdy, the other two regulars, are busy with other things right at present and have not turned out. They will be out any day, however.

Nixon had a pleasant surprise this afternoon when Harold Hager, frosh star of two years ago, applied for a suit. Hager is rather small, but is fast as lightning and starts just as quickly. He played full as a freshman and will undoubtedly be used in that position to relieve little Alfy Putnam whenever it is necessary. Hager is much the same type of player as Putnam, but is a little more robust and can take more punishment.

BRUIN PIGSKIN HOPES BRIGHTEN

Ed Solomon Returns After Year's Absence

Russell Huse Also Makes First Appearance

Spaulding Works Hard on End Players

Bruin football stock took an upward leap yesterday when Ed Solomon, star backfield man of the 1927 eleven, returned to school. Solomon was in a suit hard at work yesterday afternoon, with the rest of Coach Bill Spaulding's forty odd football candidates. Ed Solomon is a younger brother of Fred Solomon, who played quarterback at Stanford in 1924. Young Solomon was good enough to make the Bruin varsity in his sophomore year, so he ought to bolster this year's backfield considerable. He has been a lifeguard all summer and seems to be in great shape.

Russell Huse, a big 200-pounder, who played sub tackle last season, was in a suit yesterday for the first time. He ran with the first eleven all afternoon pairing off with Capt. Brown. Huse makes the third 200-pound tackle on the Bruin varsity, the other two being Brown and Don Jacobson. Jacobson injured his ankle recently and wasn't in a suit last night, but Spaulding was sure he would be all okay by tomorrow.

After the boys had gone through their preliminary drills, Spaulding picked two teams and held scrimmage. Wellendorf and Ted Duffy were ends on the first eleven, Brown and Huse, tackles; Gibson and Noble, guards, while Patches French was at center. In the backfield Buddy Forster called signals, with Norm Duncan and Jerry Russom, halves; Rueben Thee, fullback. The second squad was composed of Dick Maulhaupt and Stoefen, ends; Harvey Nelson and McMillan, tackles; Zimmerman and Art Smith, guards, and Glen Nelson, center. Jack Bryan, transfer from San Bernardino Jaysee, was at quarter; Simpson and Solomon, halves, while Chet Smith played full.

The second string took the ball and, after a couple of plays, scored a touchdown, the only one of the workout, on a pass from Simpson to Maulhaupt. The rest of the afternoon resulted in some good work on Duncan's part. He backed up the first string wall in great style, stopping everything. Spaulding had him practising kicks after the scrimmage. Some of them were close to sixty yards.

Howie Roberts, the freshman kicking sensation, from last year, was also trying out his trusty heef yesterday. He registered some kicks in the neighborhood of fifty-five yards.

Spaulding put in quite a bit of work on the ends yesterday. He expects the Trojans to give the Bruin wingmen quite a beating on the 28th inst., and is doing his best to toughen them up for the ordeal. Bob Rasmus and Ted Duffy are the veteran ends, while three sophomores, Dick Maulhaupt, Stoefen and Wellendorf, are almost certain of seeing service against the Trojans.

LOYOLA NOSES OUT VENICE ELEVEN, 13-7

Loyola High School staged a last-minute rally to nose out the Venice eleven, 13-7 in the first practice game of the season held yesterday afternoon on the Loyola field. Loyola scored first on a 35-yard pass, O'Donnell to Seibert. Venice took the lead in the third period when Ball, Gondoleer fullback, plunged over to make the score 7-6. With one minute to play O'Donnell scored on an off-tackle play and also converted.

Record Catch of Swordfish Off Catalina

AVALON (Cal.) Sept. 18.—The record number of marlin swordfish was taken today in Catalina waters for the season. Sport anglers brought in a total of fourteen marlin, which for the season brings the number of marlin swordfish to 121. Every fishing launch flew a marlin flag as it reached Avalon Bay at noon. STATE ANSWERS IN UTILITY SUIT

Edison Property Valuation Issue Joined

Company Seeks Review of $865,000 Appraisal

Rail Board Asks High Court to Deny Hearing

Final efforts of the State Railroad Commission to have the courts establish a definite valuation on the acquired properties of the Southern California Edison Company in fifteen communities were made by Arthur George, chief counsel, yesterday.

Attorney George forwarded his briefs to Washington for filing with the Supreme Court there and dispatched copies to the Edison company here.

BOARD UPHELD

The case dates back to February, 1925 when Commissioner Seavey of the Railroad Commission, at the conclusion of a series of hearings, fixed the valuation of the properties at $865,000 in the face of statements by company attorneys that the properties were worth $3,165,000. An appeal from Commissioner Seavey's decision was taken to the State Supreme Court and that tribunal upheld the Railroad Commission.

The utility company followed by promptly petitioning the United States Supreme Court for a review of the decision, arguing that the commission's order was void because the commission had failed to consider certain elements of valuation in fixing a just compensation, and, further, that the statutory provisions under which the commission proceeded are contrary to the Constitution of the United States.

BOARD'S ANSWER

In its brief, the Railroad Commission urges that the petition of the Edison company for a writ of certiorari should be denied as it does not show that the challenged decision of the California Supreme Court is in conflict wth the decision of the United States Supreme Court or that any Federal question is properly presented which has not been previously determined by the courts.

LIP INTERPRETER HELPS TAKE WIFE'S TESTIMONY

After testifying that her husband mistreated her because she remonstrated with him for eating up the baby's dish of strawberries, Mrs. Gertrude M. Leger was granted a divorce from Oswald C. Leger yesterday by Superior Judge Bishop.

A feature of the hearing was the taking of Mrs. Leger's testimony with the aid of a "lip interpreter." The wife is absolutely deaf. However, she speaks fluently. Questions asked by her attorney, John J. Craig, were put to R. D. Worden, expert in lip speaking, who in turn put the questions to Mrs. Leger. No sound was made by the interpreter, who merely framed his words by the movement of his lips. Only once or twice was the interpreter forced to put a question the second time.

The plaintiff's testimony was corroborated by her two daughters, Loretta, 18 years of age, and Helen, 16.

The couple married at Lowell, Mass., nineteen years ago, according to the complaint.

EAST NINTH STREET MERCHANT HANGS SELF

Solomon Warnick, a merchant, 49 years of age, killed himself yesterday, according to a police report, by hanging himself to a pipe in the rear of his shop at 308 East Ninth street. The suicide was discovered by Warnick's son, Dr. Morris W. Warnick, who told police his father had been depressed for some time over financial difficulties. The body was removed to the County Morgue.

HEARINGS CONTINUED

Hearing of protests against the establishment of setback lines in Eleventh avenue between Forty-second and Forty-fourth streets was continued by the City Council yesterday until October 18; the hearing of protests against the improvement of the La Rue avenue and Oneida street district was continued until October 21, and the confirmation of assessments for the sewering of the Colorado Boulevard and Floristan avenue district was continued until next Thursday.

SHE ROBBED MAN ON RIDE, POLICE SAY

Lillian Christfield
As she entered courtroom yesterday.

TWO WOMEN FACE COURT AS BANDITS

One Captured Week After, Asserted Robbery of Man They Took for Ride

Arrested by Detective Lieutenants Maxwell and Ward after more than a week's search, Mrs. Lillian Christfield, 20 years of age, of 317 Westbourne Drive, Beverly Hills, was arraigned before Municipal Judge Lahey yesterday on a charge of robbing A. Laffell, 338½ North Mathews street, of $20. With her was arraigned Irene Derrup, 21, 1024 South Lake street, asserted by officers to have accompanied Mrs. Christfield when Laffell was accosted on the street and invited to take the automobile ride which ended in the asserted hold-up.

Laffell told police that he accepted the ride after a man companion declined. The car was halted near the County Hospital, he said, and the women, producing a revolver, robbed him of $20 and forced him to walk home.

At the request of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Choate, who told the court that Miss Derrup has been assisting the police in the case, Judge Lahey released her on her own recognizance pending preliminary hearing, which was set for the 23rd inst. Mrs. Christfield's bail was fixed at $5000.

Wife Divorces Roving Spouse

William E. Coverdill was divorced by Mrs. Elizabeth L. Coverdill in Superior Judge Valentine's court yesterday. Mrs. Coverdill introduced evidence that he had deserted the woman named as having stolen the love of the defendant. When Coverdill left his wife, she testified, he went to live in Portland, Or. From there he went to New York, and from there to Porto Rico. Attorney Milton Golden for Mrs. Coverdill introduced a letter from him which said:

"I'm leaving again: I guess it must be in my blood, that I can't be true to any woman."

TRADERS CLASSIFIED AS GOOD-WILL ENVOYS

Foreign traders were classified as "self-appointed ambassadors of good will" at yesterday's meeting of the Foreign Trade Club by Attorney Herman A. Bachrack, who declared that those engaged in exporting and importing carry the heavy responsibility of upholding the good name of American business abroad. Mr. Bachrack suggested as three cardinal principles in successful overseas commerce a knowledge of one's own business, of the principles of foreign trade, and of the individual and national characteristics of the customer.

JUNIOR COLLEGE PLANNED

Seven Orange County High School Districts Will File Petition for $1,000,000 Union Project

SANTA ANA, Sept. 19.—Agreement between representatives of seven high school districts of Orange county was scheduled to result today in the filing of a petition with the County Supervisors, requesting immediate formation of a union junior college district that will eventually include all territory of the county excepting the Fullerton and Brea-Olinda High School districts.

At a meeting called by the Santa Ana Board of Education in the cafeteria of Santa Ana High School last evening, representatives of Orange, Anaheim, Garden Grove, Tustin, San Juan Capistrano and Santa Ana high schools agreed upon immediate organization of the junior college district and considered plans for a bond issue of $1,000,000 for erection and equipment of buildings and for first-year expenses.

The junior college district, as first formed, would include only Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim, Garden Grove and Tustin districts, as the Anaheim and Capistrano districts are not contiguous to Santa Ana district, which is the unit taking the lead in the movement. With the junior college district formed, Anaheim and Capistrano districts then would be contiguous to it, and would be invited to join it, according to pledges issued at last night's meeting.

Definite sentiment of Tustin and Capistrano districts toward the junior college plan has not yet been definitely determined. Principal J. W. Means of Tustin High School, and Principal J. S. Malcolm, of Capistrano High School, informed the meeting last night that their school boards had not met since the summer vacation and therefore had not indicated their views. Questions of cost and transportation for those districts would be deciding factors in their decision, the principals intimated.

A district composed of all the seven high school districts would have an assessed valuation of $122,000,000, it was stated. A bond issue of $1,000,000 is regarded as necessary, to provide a site costing an estimated $160,000, buildings costing $660,000 and equipment costing $100,000, besides operating expenses for the first year.

Orange was represented at the meeting by Mason M. Fishback, vice-principal; A. Haven Smith, principal; J. P. Allen, E. M. Crawford and L. H. Evans, school trustees. Anaheim's representatives were; Principal J. A. Clay and Trustees J. W. Harpster, George F. Baker, Henry Ramm, E. E. Smith and E. A. Wakeham. Garden Grove was represented by Principal L. J. Doig and Trustees Mrs. E. A. Chaffee, Mrs. Nina R. Knapp and J. O. Arkley.

As evidence of the interest held by these three districts in the junior college project, it was stated last night that Orange sent fifty-six students to Santa Ana Junior College last term, Anaheim sending thirty-one students and Garden Grove fourteen.

METHODIST EXECUTIVE ENDS TERM

Dr. Guild Honored With Banquet on Retirement as District Leader

Marking his retirement after a six-year tenure as superintendent of the Los Angeles district of the Methodist Episcopal Church and executive secretary of the Los Angeles Missionary and Church Extension Society, Dr. Lewis Thurber Guild last night was the honor guest at a banquet attended by between 600 and 700 persons in the banquet room of the Elite Cafe.

As an indication of the esteem with which Dr. Guild is held by the church members and officials throughout the district, he was formally presented with an elaborate reproduction of a resolution passed by the church society. The presentation was made by J. P. Harker, trustee of the society, following the reading of the organization's annual report by Dr. Guild.

Pointing out that it has been the aim of the society, which comprises all of the Methodist churches in this district, to aid in the upbuilding and development of the church as a whole, the doctor spoke briefly. He stated that a survey of Los Angeles disclosed that there were approximately 500,000 Protestants in Los Angeles not connected with any church and that of this number it is estimated that 100,000 are Methodists. In turn, Dr. Guild introduced Dr. A. L. Baker of Arizona, who has been elected as his successor.

Among the church dignitaries present was Bishop Hughes of Chicago, who will preside at the annual conference of the Methodist Church, to be conducted at Long Beach from the 24th to the 30th inst. Following his address, Bishop Hughes received the diners as they passed from the room.

The speakers' table was presided over by Judge Copeland, president of the society.

Dr. Guild, who is the author of "Romance of Religion" and the "Cosmic Ray in Literature," may be returned to a pastorate or delegated some other office, according to action taken at the forthcoming conference.

LONG BEACH MAN QUITS COUNTY JOB

A. C. Malone, President of Civil Service Commission, Sends in Resignation

Augustus C. Malone of Long Beach, president of the Civil Service Commission, resigned his position yesterday because, he said, he is about to embark on a honeymoon trip around the world.

The Board of Supervisors had requested the resignation of Malone following a controversy that began when Malone stated at an open meeting of the board that he thought the board was raising salaries of county employees more than the considerations of economy demanded.

The commissioner's term would expire December 2, next, he having been appointed in 1925. Commissioner George Mattison, an attorney of Los Angeles, automatically becomes chairman of the commission.

Under the direction of the D. F. Robertson Travel Bureau, Mr. Malone and his bride will sail from Los Angeles Harbor at noon Monday on a six months' tour around the world on the President Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Malone will visit Honolulu, Japan, Shanghai, Hongkong, Manila, Singapore, Penang, Colombo, India, Egypt, Palestine, the Holy Land, Constantinople and on arrival at Naples will proceed by automobile through Europe.
